WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon and Andrei A. Gromyko today ceremonially completed ratification of the U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms arsenal agreements which Nixon called the first step toward "a world of peace."

Nixon and the Soviet foreign minister signed and exchanged the formal documents which brought into force agreements reached by Nixon and Kremlin leaders last May in Moscow.

As diplomats of both nations, as well as congressional and administration leaders, listened, both Nixon and Gromyko referred to the treaty as a first step in arms control. The two nations will resume strategic arms limitations talks soon. Informed sources said the conference would begin next month in Geneva.

Gromyko, speaking through an interpreter, said the agreements "will go down in history as a significant step in reducing the arms race."

Said Nixon: "This is the first limitation of offensive and defensive nuclear arms ever entered into. This is the first step in reducing the danger of war and increasing the chances of peace.

"There remains a significant number of categories in the nuclear field that are not covered. We must now move from the first step to the vitally important next step where we consider the full range of nuclear arms."

The President added, "These agreements raise hopes of all the people of the world ... for a world of peace."

Gromyko said the agreements are "in the interest of all nations because security and peace are their common goal."

He said the treaties "signify a success for the policy of peaceful co-existence." He pledged that the Soviet Union will abide by the treaties and work to extend nuclear arms limitations.

Nixon and Gromyko returned from an overnight stay at Camp David —Gromyko's first visit to the presidential retreat in Western Maryland since spending a night there with Nikita S. Khrushchev in 1959 — less than an hour before the ratification ceremony in the White House East Room.

First came an exchange of formal instruments of ratification of a treaty limiting antiballistic missile systems. This was followed by an exchange of letters between Nixon and Soviet President Nikolai N. Podgorny formally notifying each other of acceptance of a companion five-year interim agreement restricting offensive missiles.

Courthouse Square Plan Wins Approval

Sacramento Firm Says Work To Begin Soon

By NELS JOHNSON

The San Rafael City Council last night approved plans for development of Courthouse Square as proposed by the McKeon Construction Co. of Sacramento. (Another San Rafael Council story, page 3.)

McKeon attorney Albert Bianchi predicted construction of the eight-story office building, two-story office structure and multilevel parking garage would begin next month and be completed within a year.

Plans approved last night were substantially the same as first proposed by McKeon, although Bianchi said archways had been added in accordance with a request for architecture more in keeping with nearby Mission San Rafael Arcangel.

Bianchi said that bronze aluminum facing and bronze glass will also be used in a manner harmonious with Spanish style architecture, along with a large Spanish fountain to be placed at the corner of Fourth and Court streets.

Included in the courthouse project is a 17-car parking area at Fifth Avenue and A Street, directly across from the Mission. Elimination of the exterior parking area and its conversion into a mini-park had been the only major change requested by the planning commission in plans first proposed by McKeon.

Bianchi said the exterior parking area could be used by weekend crowds at the Mission, but made no mention of why the lot had been included in the revised plans in defiance of the planning commission.

Although no councilman objected to the 17-car lot before approving the proposal, Councilman John A. Miskimen later said he had thought that all exterior parking had been eliminated from the plan.

Miskimen had earlier urged his colleagues to waive all parking requirements for the project and eliminate the larger, 260-car multilevel garage, but the motion died for lack of a second.

In approving the McKeon proposal, the council was mindful of a timetable under which the firm must purchase the land by Oct. 25. Under a city-county agreement, the county will retain ownership of the parcel until McKeon completes the sale. The firm, which has already paid the city $10,000, must pay a $640,000 balance by the October deadline.

In giving its nod to the proposal, the council rejected an appeal by William E. Rowen of 55 Marquard Avenue of planning commission approval of the complex.

Rowen said he objected to the flat, box-like impression of the eight-story office building to be constructed parallel to A Street. "I haven't talked to anybody who has said this building is attractive," he said.

Rowen said approval of the complex would set an unattractive precedent for development of the downtown area under city redevelopment plans. "Banks don't have to look like a

Board Reacts Angrily To Story On Expenses

By PAT PERRY

The Tamalpais High School District Board last night reacted with anger to the Sept. 27 Independent-Journal article detailing district expense account spending, and denied not knowing how much is spent on such items. (Another Tamalpais High School District story, page 9.)

However, the closest anyone came to supplying an actual figure was when Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins said that less than half of 1 per cent of the district's budget went on "visitations and conferences."

He said $98,000 was budgeted for "personal growth" and less than half of this was spent.

Asked by the board if it was possible to get a detailed list of travel and conference spending for the last three fiscal years, Hawkins and business director Frank A. Cassou said it could be prepared in time for the Nov. 6 board meeting.

Hawkins said he had instructed the Tam Screening Committee to pay for cocktails it had charged to the district, and had asked conference sponsors to pay information director Edmund J. Neumeier's expenses at a San Francisco hotel.

*Various dinners at the San Geronimo country club had been paid for by the partici*pants, as reported in the I-J, but income had also accrued and had been paid into the district.

He acknowledged that the district doesn't keep central records of expense account spending, saying that the district budget is organized by programs, "and as you go through the budget it explains how much is being expended for equipment, personnel, conferences, etc. It's not all in one spot."

Hawkins said he had provided trustees with a statement on conference expenses in May. It had been for administrators only, and didn't include teachers.

A large audience listened to trustees discuss the district's proposed new policy on conference travel and expenses and criticize the I-J investigation of district expenses.

When a woman in the audience, Joan Cook, asked Hawkins "if all the other amounts were correct?" and he agreed, trustee David D. Ring interrupted and said: "We shouldn't get into that kind of dialogue."

Trustee Bette Wallace said she categorically denied not knowing the expense totals, and took personal offense at what she considered an irresponsible article. The auditor annually gives a precise budget with a full statement, she said.

She asked what "the cash revolving fund" was, and was told it was used by Supt. Hawkins for day-to-day expenses and cash advances.

Nelson King of San Anselmo told trustees he thought they were missing the point.

"The criticism is against the idea that up until now we haven't had a policy for dealing with expenses. Up to this moment it seems we can't lay our finger on amounts without taking a month or so to study it. It's too bad it wasn't discussed a couple of years ago."

"I would suggest if there is some sort of dinner or party being sponsored by people from the district advance permission should be obtained," he continued.

"You have to have expense control, so you have someone looking to see what these expenses are," said King, "most business organizations have

Crime, Drugs, McGovern's Top Domestic Targets; Nixon Raked

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. George S. McGovern said today eradicating crime and drug abuse would be his number one domestic target if elected president and charged President Nixon with masking "an outstanding failure" behind a "veil of law and order rhetoric."

The Democratic presidential candidate pledged if elected an administration that would wipe out "the poverty, alienation and despair which unleash madness in our streets."

Speaking to a group of New York City civic leaders, McGovern said, "tough but empty talk and public relations gimmickery will be replaced by aggressive and effective programs, starting with a drug addict who victimizes society, to control the flow of deadly narcotics, to take guns out of the hands of criminals, to strengthen our police forces and their presence in local neighborhoods, and to completely overhaul our inadequate court and correctional systems."

Continuing his presidential campaign up the nation's east coast, McGovern was scheduled to speak later in the day in Boston's Post Office Square before a mass rally, and then fly to Niagara Falls for a meeting with labor and political leaders.

Specifically, McGovern said he would as president seek to wipe out the sources of heroin by withdrawing aid to foreign governments who profit from the traffic; go after the big pushers at home, and at the same time release funds for treatment of addicts, with a special program for addicted Vietnam vets.

In addition McGovern proposed a new program to help localities build safer neighborhoods with the aid of federal funds; called for the strictest penalties for the small handguns called "Saturday night specials;" and suggested increasing local police strength, especially at the foot patrolman level.

He charged that Nixon has attempted to portray liberal Democrats as more concerned with the rights of the criminal than with the victim.

"Nothing is further from reality," McGovern said.

"Mr. Nixon and his administration sell this myth so they can mask a record of astounding failure in the field of crime behind a veil of law and order rhetoric which grows strident as the muggings and murders and rapes in our cities continue to rise."

Swinging up the popular and electoral-vote rich East Coast Monday, the Democratic presidential candidate labeled Nixon's "the most morally bankrupt administration in the entire history of our country" and added "at no time has corruption been so deep and so pervasive as today."

He first unveiled the new frontal assault on Nixon at the United Press International Editors and Publishers Conference in Washington; struck the same chord with county Democratic leaders in northern New Jersey; and brought New York City Democrats at a $500-a-plate fund raising dinner to their feet when he said "a leader who is afraid to change his mind for fear of losing face is no leader—he is a disaster."

The aide said McGovern wanted to "taunt Nixon out and make him answer charges and spell out programs." Nixon, so far, has not campaigned actively, except for brief forays and does not expect to begin full-time until after Congress adjourns.

McGovern's offensive, however, was tempered at every stop Monday by admonitions for voters to ignore the polls, which show him trailing Nixon by 28 per cent.

"They ask me if I don't get discouraged, campaigning 14 and 16 hours a day, and then the polls come out," McGovern said. "I have lived in that situation before."

Mill Valley Mayor's Term In Office Cut

By JAY GOODWIN

In a move which caught Mayor Jean S. Barnard completely off guard, the Mill Valley City Council last night cut the term of mayor from two years to one and then ignored Mrs. Barnard's plea to be exempted from the policy. (Other Mill Valley City Council stories, page 5.)

At nearly 1 a.m., with only three persons in the audience, the council briefly discussed the proposal and voted 3 to 1 to end Mrs. Barnard's term next April rather than in April 1974.

The term of mayor was reduced to one year, but it was decided that an incumbent mayor could be reelected for additional terms by the council.

Visibly upset, Mrs. Barnard asked the council to extend her the courtesy as incumbent mayor to serve out her full two-year term. She was elected mayor in April and Councilman Robert E. Capron was elected vice mayor.

The proposal to shorten the term was made by freshman Councilman Gerald J. Hood, who has pressed for such change since he was elected in April.

After the meeting, Hood said, "this change gives everybody a crack at the mayor's job during their four-year terms. I think the mayor should chair the council meetings, not single-handedly run the city."

In a brief confrontation as they were leaving council chambers, Mrs. Barnard told Hood, "I know you hope to be mayor, but you won't be next year."

She later speculated that she won't be reelected for a second term. She predicted that Councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, who has never been mayor, would be chosen by the council to replace her.

She called her colleagues' sudden action "very discourteous" and said, "Any mayor who doesn't get a second term can feel he wasn't successful."

Burton said he opposed the change because, "You choose a mayor to set the tone of a city and it takes time for that tone to develop." Burton said the mayor has already been stripped of authority to make unilateral appointments to city boards and commissions.

Boessenecker voted for the one-year term because it "gives the council more flexibility."

"Besides," he said, "Jean can be reelected in April."

Her four council colleagues said they did not consider the new policy a reflection on Mrs. Barnard's performance as mayor.

Light Vote Turnout In Tiburon

Voter turnout appeared light up to lunchtime today as Tiburon residents went to the polls to decide on a $1.25 million bond issue for purchase of open space. The polls remain open till 8 o'clock tonight.

By 11 a.m. only 85 of the 1,012 voters registered at the polling place in city hall had cast their ballots. Turnout was heavier at Reed School where 69 of 500 registered had voted.

No report was available on voting at the other polling places, the Tiburon Baptist Church and Del Mar School.

The bond issue requires approval by two-thirds of those voting. If it is approved, the money would be used to buy approximately 125 acres of open space along the ridgelands of the Tiburon Peninsula.

There are 3,423 eligible voters registered.

Proclaims Day

McGovern Leads In State: Reagan

HOUSTON (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan, in Texas to campaign for President Nixon, said he believes Democratic presidential nominee Geore McGovern has an edge in California, regardless of what the polls say.

"I don't take any stock in polls favorable to the President," Reagan said. "I believe McGovern holds the edge because of the time and money he spent there during the Democratic state primary."

Reagan toured Houston's Nixon-Agnew Campaign Headquarters Wednesday and gave a pep talk to enthusiastic volunteer workers.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The attack carrier Hancock, the Navy's oldest, returned to the Alameda Naval Air Station today after its seventh deployment to the Southeast Asian war.

Denmark Joins Market, Krag Quits

COPENHA GEN (UPI) — Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag resigned today as head of the Social Democratic minority government less than 12 hours after he had won his greatest political victory—a referendum that leads Denmark into the European Common Market.

The move at the peak of his career surprised and stunned his country. Denmark's telephone network was so jammed by people asking if it were true that officials broadcast a request to Danes to stop making unnecessary phone calls.

The 58-year-old Premier made the unexpected announcement at the end of his opening speech to the new Folketing (Parliament).

"It has long been my wish to step down when there was an occasion," he said. "This has come now."

He said one of the reasons for his resignation was that "the events yesterday, which were so close to my heart, succeeded."

After a formal visit to the royal castle, Krag told newsmen when asked why he resigned: "Well, 25 years in the front line of Danish politics is a long time. I'll remain in the Folketing until the next general election." It is due no later than 1975.

JENS OTTO KRAG
Leaves office

He said from now on he planned to "devote more time" to reading literature and "seeing my family. I have many interests outside politics. But, of course, I'll continue to watch developments with interest."

There was immediate speculation that Krag had resigned to become Denmark's representative at the Common Market headquarters in Brussels. But he denied this.

"It is not true," he said. "It had nothing to do with my resignation. I just thought the time was ripe to step down."

Denmark voted Monday by a better than 2-to-1 margin to join the Common Market. It was a triumph for Krag because Norway had voted only a week earlier to stay out of the Market and polls had indicated strong opposition in Denmark.

Young anti-Common Market demonstrators burned the Danish flag and other banners outside the parliament building early today after Krag and other political leaders announced the vote.

Similar demonstrations were staged in other parts of the capital and bomb threats were telephoned to Krag's home, the national television station and other institutions.

Krag, who returned to power in September, 1971, paid a protocol call on Queen Margrethe II this afternoon although she had been present in the Royal Box for his speech to Parliament—a speech that surprised even his closest associates.

Political sources at Christianborg named Anker Jorgensen as the most likely successor to Krag. The bearded 50-year-old Jorgensen is leader of Denmark's largest trade union, the Danish Special Metal Workers Union (DASFLM).

He became a Social Democratic member of Parliament in 1964 but has never held any cabinet posts.

Jorgensen, the son of a coach driver, holds a strong position among Denmark's workers and, like Krag, is a firm supporter of Common Market membership.

News of Krag's resignation quickly spread. The country's telephone network was jammed and the Post Office made a special radio announcement asking people to avoid making unnecessary calls.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

UAW Proposal

TOKYO (UPI) — Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers (UAW) in the United States, proposed today that Japanese and American workers band together to control multinational companies.

Woodcock, speaking to a convention of Japanese auto workers, also said an international authority should be created "to recommend a uniform set of regulations governing international trade and commerce-binding on all national participating authorities."

Woodcock praised Japanese auto workers for banding together into a new confederation. He was the principal speaker at the first convention held by the Confederation of Japan Automobile Workers Union Jidosha Soren.

Shocking Schemes

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service's new audit program is turning up "shocking" attempts by some big corporations to evade taxes, IRS Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters said Monday.

"It is unbelievable that large publicly held corporations engage in such schemes," Walters said in a speech to the Tax Executives Institute. "Yet they do. This is flouting the law — deliberate, willful attempts to avoid and evade taxes with full knowledge of both what should be done and the result of what is done."

Walters said the new IRS program allows the IRS to audit in much greater detail. Some 1,600 corporations are included in the program.

"We now look at records that were untouched before," Walters said. "We're raising issues never before raised. Some are alarming — in fact, shocking."

Hijacking Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has approved anti-hijacking legislation to empower President Nixon to suspend air service between the United States and nations which encourage air piracy.

The measure adopted Monday would impose the death sentence, at the discretion of a jury, for a person convicted of hijacking, or a minimum 20-year prison sentence.

Passed by a 354 to 2 vote with only Reps. Phillip Burton, D-Calif., and John Conyers, D-Mich., in opposition, the measure is a weakened version of a Senate-passed bill.

Soviet Advisers

BEIRUT (UPI) — Yemen is seriously considering expelling Soviet advisers stationed there, the newspaper Al Anwar said today.

In a dispatch from the Yemeni capital of Sana, the newspaper quoted official sources as saying Soviet pilots flew Southern Yemen fighter planes in air strikes against Yemen border towns, notably Qataba.

Periodic fighting between Marxist Southern Yemen and its northern neighbor, which seeks to follow a neutral path in foreign affairs, flared up at their border last week.

Peace Restored

MANILA (UPI) — Moslem leaders from the southern Philippines said today peace has been restored in the politically turbulent region by President Ferdinand E. Marcos' proclamation of martial law.

Mayor Barli Abubakar of Jolo, capital of the Sulu islands, said the southern Mindanao, where 4.5 million of the minority Moslems are concentrated "is living now in peace without disturbances."

Before martial law was imposed Sept. 23, Marcos said violent disorders in Mindanao had claimed the lives of more than 1,000 civilians and more than 2,000 armed Moslems and Christians, and had displaced more than half a million persons.

Penn Prediction

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Trustees of the bankrupt Penn Central say the railroad could be operating on a private income basis by 1976 if it is allowed to cut 5,000 route miles from its present 20,000-mile rail system.

The trustees made the prediction Monday in a second interim report to U.S. District Judge John P. Fullam, who is overseeing reorganization of the line.

A 15,000-mile rail system would provide $243 million net income available to pay fixed charges in 1976, the trustees predicted. They said this would be enough money to reorganize the railroad on a private basis. The trustees said an 11,000-mile "core" system that had been proposed earlier would only provide $133 million net income — not enough to support the reorganization.

No More K.P.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite complaints the step would lead to a "namby-pamby military," the Senate has voted to relieve U.S. servicemen of the onerous duty of kitchen police.

By a 69 to 11 vote Monday, the Senate approved $60 million for the hiring of civilians to do KP at American military bases. The funds are included in a $74.6 billion Pentagon money bill for the current fiscal year.

Amin Willing

KAMPALA (UPI) — President Idi Amin has told President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire he was willing to send his foreign minister to Somalia to hold peace talks with Tanzania over last month's warfare along the Uganda-Tanzania border.

The Information Ministry said today Amin told Mobutu he was willing to send Foreign Minister Wanume Kibedi to Mogadiscu, Somalia, for talks with Tanzanian representatives. Tanzania's foreign minister has been in Mogadiscu nearly a week.

Promise From FBI

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III has pledged his agency will "investigate the hell out of" charges large grain dealers profiteered on the U.S.-Soviet wheat deal.

The FBI was assigned to the grain sales case by President Nixon. Gray, who succeeded the late J. Edgar Hoover, made his pledge Monday to the 1972 UPI Editors and Publishers Conference here.

Truce In Doubt

BELFAST (UPI) — The Official wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) put its six-month truce with the British army into doubt today with vows of "merciless reprisal" against British military intelligence squads.

Three intruders meanwhile shot and killed the patron of a Belfast Roman Catholic social club with machinegun fire after lining everyone in the building up against a wall.

The smaller of the IRA's two wings issued its warning after gunmen of the larger Provisional wing ambushed and killed a plainclothes British Army agent at the wheel of a laundry truck in south Belfast.

Mixup At Fault

BELCHERTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — A "communications mixup" was responsible for a head-on collision between two freight trains Monday evening, police said. Three crewmen were killed.

Harry Goryer, a member of the four-man crew of a Central Vermont train, said the collision between his train and a Boston and Maine Railroad train occurred because the B&M freight went on the Belchertown spur too soon.

Boycott In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Portugal and South Africa began a boycott of the U.N. General Assembly's Decolonization Committee Monday even before the committee seated as an observer the first representative of an African liberation movement.

The South Africans and Portuguese indicated when the seating vote was taken that their cooperation with the committee would cease when representatives of the liberation movements were seated.

The first representative of any African "liberation movement" seated in proceedings of the Decolonization committee was Shafrudine Khan of the Freedom Movement for Mozambique.

Travel Bill Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill to require presidential approval for travel by Americans to North Vietnam or any nation in armed conflict with the United States has been narrowly defeated by the House.

The measure fell just 18 votes short of passage Monday and its chief sponsor, Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., said he would ask the Rules Committee to revive the controversial bill for another vote.

HOME AT LAST

Former POW Leaves Hospital, Plans To Relax With Family

SAN DIEGO (UPI) —Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles, a Navy pilot released from a North Vietnamese prison camp, was finally home today to relax with his family, play with his puppies and enjoy this "most beautiful country."

On his release from Balboa Naval Hospital Monday, Charles told newsmen he was well treated and fed as a captive of the North Vietnamese. He said he was not brainwashed, mistreated, denied medical care nor given special treatment because he is black.

Charles said he does not plan to join any antiwar groups, at least while he serves out his remaining year in the Navy, and declined to discuss politics. But, he said, "I am committed to do all in my power to bring my fellow prisoners of war home, and that will be when the war ends."

"When I entered the war I believed in my country and still do," he said, "But I have done more thinking."

The war "should be terminated as soon as possible," he said, but he has not turned against the United States. "When I left this country there were many problems. When I returned there are still problems. Yet, believe me, America is a most beautiful country.

"I missed my wife, my daughter, my dog, my car, a hamburger, but I think what you don't realize is all the things, the little things, that you don't recognize, don't even pay attention to.

"And there are so many of them which are good. You miss all these things. And therefore I would have to say I missed America."

Charles said he plans to spend time with his wife Olga, who went to Hanoi to meet him, and his daughter, Kirsten, 3.

"I had 11 puppies but now I have 10 puppies," he said. "I'm looking forward to going home and playing with those puppies, playing with my daughter and being with my wife."

Charles said POW's are given three meals a day—breakfast of a half loaf of bread and sweet milk, lunch of fish or meat and a vegetable or soy bean substitute and supper of the same foods plus fruit or candy.

Work consists of sweeping and raking, he said, and for recreation the prisoners play basketball or volleyball, cards and chess, and give each other lectures on individual skills "such as a butcher might tell us how to cook steak. You create things to occupy your time."

Asked about the treatment of prisoners, he said that even those who had been captured years ago appeared to be in "generally average condition."

He said the North Vietnamese gave the prisoners books on Vietnamese history and "books published in America on the war ... philosophy, American philosophy and stuff like this, and you are able to draw your own conclusions about things."

Novato Fire Board To Meet Tomorrow

The Novato Fire District board will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the main fire station to conduct the business scheduled for the Sept. 27 meeting which was canceled, Fire Chief Jack Kidder has announced.

The board will not take up wages and hours until 7:30 p.m., Oct. 11 when a full board is expected, the chief said. Commissioner Dante Panfiglio will be absent tomorrow.

DeMont Honored By City Council

The San Rafael City Council presented U.S. Olympic swimmer Rick DeMont a resolution of commendation for outstanding athletic achievement as well as for bringing to the city both national and international recognition. (Another San Rafael City Council story, page 1.)

DeMont was stripped of his gold medal in the 400-meter freestyle in Munich and later ruled ineligible for the 1,500 meter freestyle, an event in which he held the world record. DeMont lost his medal and was banned from the 1,500 meter freestyle competition when an outlawed drug was found in his system, although he had properly reported his use of the medicine on Olympic medical forms.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini called the youth courageous for accepting "the harsh and agonizing decision of the International Olympic Committee" and urged him to try again in the 1976 Olympics.

DeMont accepted the plaque with a quiet "thanks" amid thunderous tribute from the audience.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

RENO — Approved Building Inspector Jack Coates's request to attend a three-day conference for contractors and plumbers in Reno, Nev.

REVOLVING ACCOUNT — Heard Finance Committeeman John A. Miskimen report the finance committee was considering changes in expense account procedures for council review next meeting.

PEACOCK GAP — Put over consideration of a proposal to develop Peacock Gap Unit 5 with a 170-lot single family subdivision until Nov. 6.

CRESTWOOD DRIVE — Denied a moratorium use permit for a 40-lot residential subdivision off Crestwood Drive, saying the proposal was incompatible with the city's ban on ridgetop building. "The top of that ridge won't grow anything, not even pasture for a mule," declared owner Richard Murphy, who proposed the development.

NORTHGATE EAST — Put over to Oct. 30 review of San Rafael contractor Arthur R. Nicolaisen's proposal for a six-story office building, restaurant and service station on a graded hillside north of the Civic Center. The council decided a more complete environmental impact study was needed on the proposal, in light of a recent state Supreme Court ruling which requires impact studies for development which may have major environmental significance.

GENERAL PLAN — Continued to Oct. 30 consideration of a proposal by the city's general plan consultants aimed at encouraging citizen participation in the general plan revision program.

CHAMBER FUNDING — Signed an agreement giving the city's chamber of commerce $8,000 in return for the organization's services as an information bureau.

EMPLOYEES — Put over to Oct. 30 review of the Marin County Employees Association request for authority to be a bargaining agent for 38 non-supervisory employees from street maintenance, tree and islands maintenance, parks and electrical departments.

REVENUE SHARING — Announced San Rafael's share of the federal revenue sharing program is $171,500.

LEAVE — Granted leaves of absence without pay to Evelyn R. O'Sullivan for 30 days and Harold Hall for 50 days. Both are public works employees.

PLAN — Heard Mayor Bettini lash the countywide plan as an a "attempt by the county to determine the future of San Rafael."

CONDOMINIUM — Approved a final map for a condominium project/at Kerner Boulevard and Fairfax Street after finding the proposal had no significant environmental impact.

SIMMS STREET — Approved a final map for Golden Gate Industrial Park off Simms Street after finding the proposal had no significant environmental impact.

APPOINTMENTS — Set 7 p.m. Oct. 26 for interviews of two candidates for one vacancy on the board of review, and 7 p.m. Oct. 30 for interviews of four candidates for three vacancies on the parks and recreation department. Incumbents on both governing bodies have also applied for reappointment.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Oct. 26 for a public hearing on redevelopment.

4th 'Stress' Lecture Set Oct. 10

Dr. Eugene Shatkin, psychiatrist and pediatrician, will discuss children next Oct. 10 at the College of Marin as the fourth evening in a lecture series dealing with stress in our society.

The lecture, co-sponsored by the college and the Marin Mental Health Assn., will be at 7:30 p.m. in Olney Hall.

Dr. Shatkin will discuss the battered child, the dying child and crisis in the family.

Other series events are: "Adolescence" with Dr. Philip Hicks on Oct. 17; "Aging" with Dr. Dan Beittel, Dr. A. D. Beittel and Florence Vickery, on Oct. 24; "Death" with Dr. Gordon Foster and Faith Bartlett on Oct. 31; and "Community" with Chester Villalba on Nov. 7.

Laughing Sal Loses Her Head

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Laughing Sal has lost her head after 35 years at Playland-at-the Beach and owner Jeremy Ets-Hokin said Monday that if the thief will return it, he won't ask any questions.

The mechanical figure's head "was ripped off over the weekend," along with some figures of soldiers that were along the main entry way to the Fun House at the defunct amusement park.

Ets-Hokin said he had plans to preserve Laughing Sal in a supermarket display area that he is developing on the site. The big-nosed, freckled Sal with a gap in her front teeth was also slated to star in a movie being made about the end of the amusement center.

Air Base Study Is Tabled

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today tabled indefinitely a proposal the county finance an environmental impact study on joint military-civilian use of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The board's action came after learning such a study could take six to eight months at a cost of about $50,000. Supervisors requested the cost estimates in August as a means of clarifying arguments against joint use.

Public works director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. said the estimates were made by several consultants who worked on the regional airport study prepared by the Association of Bay Area Governments.

The board, in voting unanimously to table the matter, agreed with Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste that joint use of the air base could not proceed until an in-depth study on long-range use had been made.

Supervisors said they would consider the matter again once federal revenue sharing filters down to the county. A bill providing such funding — which might be used for the study — is awaiting President Nixon's signature.

Two Face Charges Of Battery

A San Rafael man and another identified as a Berkeley policeman have been charged with battery following an Aug. 26 fracas in a San Anselmo bar.

According to Asst. Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas, Bruce K. Knoles of 1060 Los Gamos Road, San Rafael, and Christopher J. Panagotacos of Berkeley have been instructed to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court, though neither has yet been arrested.

Knoles faces battery charges on Panagotacos and an unknown woman and Panagotacos is charged with battery against Knoles in MacArthur's Bar, 218 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

According to police, officers arrived at the bar to find a "near riot" situation involving the pair and a group of onlooking motorcyclists. Some witnesses said Knoles had attacked a woman in the bar, then struck Panagotacos, while others said Panagotacos struck Knoles, according to police.

Police said Panagotacos puled a service revolver on Knoles at one point, but officers made no arrests due to varying accounts of the incident.

Novato Office For GOP Opens

The Novato Republican headquarters opened yesterday in an office at the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center at 412 Ignacio Boulevard, according to Mrs. William Miler, president of the Novato Republican Women.

The headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Republican women will host an open house from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday.

The women attending the headquarters to answer questions on the Nov. 7 general election are: Francis Cole, Monday; Marilyn Hilean, Tuesday; Genevieve Grunstrum, Wednesday; Lois Winterhalter, Thursday and Jane Christman, Friday.

Lagunitas Hires 'Open' Teacher

Lagunitas School District trustees last night hired an additional teacher, Leif Glomset, for the district's open classroom program, according to Anna Mae Kondratieff, district secretary.

Glomset will receive an annual salary of $7,986 that will be prorated because he will not work a full year. He was to start today.

A report from insurance adjustors on fire damage at Lagunitas School was not ready and the matter is to be taken up at the meeting next Monday at 8 p.m., Mrs. Kondratieff said.

Councilman Barbier Treated For Illness

San Rafael Councilman Harry A. Barbier was reported in satisfactory condition today in Ross General Hospital following an attack of influenza.

Barbier, who was admitted to the hospital last night, said he expected to be released by Friday.

Bugging Inquiry Killed In House

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With combination of Republicans and conservative Democrats holding sway, the House Banking Committee voted 20 to 15 today against conducting an investigation of the break-in and bugging of Democratic national headquarters.

All 14 Republicans present voted against the resolution while six of the 21 Democrats defected to vote with the Republicans.

Chairman Wright Patman immediately adjourned the meeting, making unlikely any investigation or trial of the June 17 break-in of Democratic headquarters. Patman had contended that if the committee did not investigate the case, the people would never get the facts of the break-in.

Rep. Garry Brown, R-Mich., contended any investigation by the committee, headed by Patman, would prejudice rights of defendants and would hamper the Justice Department's effort to prosecute them.

Patman said a committee investigation would be the only probe that could possibly be held before the presidential election.

Terming the Watergate bugging "the greatest political espionage case in the history of the United States," Patman told the committee —and a roomful of spectators —that waiting until after the election would give those involved a chance to destroy all records and to leave Washington.

"If these hearings are delayed until after the election and until these political (campaign) committees are dissolved and their personnel scattered, the American people will never have the facts," Patman said. "We either act now or we simply come up with meaningless shreds of paper and a long list of witnesses who can no longer be found."

Brown argued that "a very probable consequence of (a committee) investigation will be a prejudicing of the civil rights of those who have been indicted, and a further inevitable consequence of the prejudicing of the defendants is a prejudicing of the prosecution's ability to convict those who have been indicted."

In a last minute effort to head off a committee probe, the Justice Department said a congressional investigation would jeopardize criminal prosecution of seven men under indictment in the case.

Two of the unanswered questions Patman and other Democrats wanted to explore was why $100,000 intended for the Nixon re-election effort was transfered from Texas donors through Mexico to the Reelection Committee, and why $89,000 of that money reached the bank account of one of the men indicted in the break-in.

Stolen Gems Recovered In Arrest

San Rafael police yesterday recovered more than half the jewelry stolen from a home last week, and booked a Novato woman and a Larkspur man on suspicion of concealing stolen property and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Carol Ruth Litteral, 20, of 400 Norman Drive, Novato, and Ronald Berg Goodrich, 23, of 424 Elm Lane, Larkspur, were held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bail each. They were to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

San Rafael detectives said they spotted the pair when the officers went to the home of one of Goodrich's friends to ask his whereabouts. Officers said they saw Goodrich attempting to dispose of a coin purse in which a hypodermic needle was found.

Investigators recovered about $1,780 worth of jewelry Goodrich allegedly had sold to a San Rafael merchant for $165. Goodrich claimed he was given the loot to sell, by a man he didn't know, police reported.

The jewelry was part of $3,830 in possessions stolen Sept. 26 from the home of Elena Mills Foley on Nova Albion Way.

Ring answered that it was "a very valid concern" and said discussion of expense policy had preceded the I-J article.

Another man in the audience told the board it was "just skirting an issue that's been raised and raising the doubts." Referring to a preceding presentation on a proposed child care center at Redwood High School, which will not be financed by the district, he said: "If there are funds for these kinds of expenses why not funds for projects which will enhance education?" He was applauded by the audience.

Trustee Jerrold M. Ladar said: "One must remember that conferences are designed for a very important purpose. One of the things staff development is paid for is expansion of staff's ability."

Trustees discussed the new policy, and made suggestions on the per diem rate. The draft policy said $30 a day maximum. Hawkins said the district's management council recommended actual documented cost of a hotel plus $15 a day for meals.

Mrs. Wallace suggested the per diem rate should be $32 a day, and meals should be paid for at $4 for lunch, $6 for dinner.

Ladar noted that the attorney general of the United States travels on a $25 per diem rate, and Ring said he thought the figures "seem generous."

Albert Clark from the audience said: "There may be a state of mind for Mr. Hawkins that by saying well let's take the hotel bill for the actual cost and $15 for the meals — I've been in public service for 32 years and I've never seen anything like this get by."

The board took no action on the proposed policy and instructed Hawkins to present it again at the Nov. 6 meeting.

Boxer Reports Contributions

Seventy-three contributions totaling $1310 during September were reported today by Barbara Boxer, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Second District.

Her voluntary report listed the names of 62 contributors who gave between $1 and $25, 10 who gave between $25 and $50, including Patrick Heffernan, a director of the North Marin County Water District, and John W. Bissinger of Kentfield, who gave $100.

Mrs. Boxer voluntarily issues monthly reports of her contributions. Candidates are required by law to file reports by Oct. 18 listing any contributions of $500 or more.

Judge Gives Probation For Forgery

A 32-year-old Corte Madera woman who reportedly wrote forged checks to conceal her drug habit from her husband was placed on probation yesterday by a Marin Superior Court judge.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner placed Toni Theodora Howell on probation for five years, but imposed no jail time after probation officer Jesse Johnson told him jail time might increase her psychological problems.

She had pleaded guilty on condition she receive no more than 45 days in jail.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman agreed with the probation report.

Her attorney, William H. Stephens, said she wrote bad checks to obtain drugs in hope of keeping her heavy use of Valium a secret from her husband.

Mrs. Howell, who was then a secretary for a San Rafael firm, was charged with writing three checks each for $100, in November, December and January on the firm's account. Two of the three counts were dismissed when she pleaded guilty last month.

Although charged with writing only $300 worth of checks, the judge ordered her to pay for an additional $600 worth of checks she allegedly wrote.

Johnson said she spent the money to visit a doctor, get a prescription for Valium, then buy the drug. She did this at least seven times, he said.

safety deposit box," he said of the two-story office structure at Fourth and Court streets.

Pat Moezzi of 10 Portola Avenue offered her own sketch of an alternative to the McKeon proposal. "My proposal is fun with spice," she said of the drawing, which represented a rearrangement of the McKeon buildings with a circular bank and a large open space area.

A merchant urged immediate adoption of the McKeon proposal, noting the project met all city ordinances and left 40 per cent of the square in open space.

Another man warned that the downtown would "go broke" if the project were not approved.

In approving the proposal, the council found that an environmental impact study submitted by the firm met a recent state Supreme Court ruling which requires such studies on all development having a "non-trivial effect on the environment."

The council did not, however, establish guidelines for the preparation of such environmental impact studies, and postponed consideration of other development proposals slated for a hearing last night pending the establishment of guidelines and submission of impact reports.

"It'd be so much easier to live and do business if we didn't have lawyers," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier was absent due to illness.

Eviction Case To Be Continued

A hearing on the efforts of the Sausalito School District to evict the Marin City Learning Center from Manzanita School was continued today to Oct. 17.

Judge E. Warren McGuire continued the hearing on a preliminary injunction after two attorneys from the Marin Legal Aid Society said they need time to prepare the case and negotiate with the school district board.

The district filed suit Sept. 18 to evict the community school, which teaches about 80 children whose parents became disenchanted with the district's educational program.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson ordered the Manzanita building vacated pending a hearing, but the center had defied the order although the lights and telephone have been disconnected.

Dixie Group Opposes Prop. 14

The Dixie School District's Citizen Advisory Finance Group last night unanimously voted to oppose the Watson tax revision initiative — Proposition 14 on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The group named James Lee of 342 Hickory Lane, Terra Lnda as its chairman and Lance Moran of 1060 Lea Drive, Terra Linda, as vice chairman, according to district superintendent Clifford W. Campbell.

The group decided to hold another meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the board room at 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, to outline a campaign aimed at defeating the measure, Campbell said.

West Follows East, Prime Rate Goes Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Major western banks Tuesday raised their prime interest rate from 5 1-2 to 5 3-4 per cent, following the lead of East Coast banks.

Bank of America, Crocker Bank, and the Bank of California were among those announcing the rate boost.

Action Agency Sets Meeting

Community Action Marin, as the economic opportunity council is now called, will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. to consider a proposal that it subsidize a carpentry class for women in Bolinas.

The agency, which will meet at the San Rafael Railroad Depot at 930 Tamalpais Avenue, considered the request last month and tentatively allocated $900.

The agency board said it wanted clearance from carpenter's local 35, San Rafael, before granting the funds.

The class is made up of 27 women who live in Bolinas and want to learn carpentry as a trade. The agency's money would be used to hire an instructor.

Pharmacy Robbed Of Drugs And Cash

Burglars stole an undetermined amount of narcotics and other loot plus $60 in cash over the weekend from the Poehlman Pharmacy, 1430 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Entry was gained by prying a side window opening onto an alley. The burglary apparently took place after 7 p.m. Saturday, and was discovered Sunday morning. Inventory on the loss still was being made today.

OBITUARIES

'Mayor' Ralph Asay Dies At 74

Ralph N. Asay, known affectionately as the "mayor of San Francisco Boulevard" in San Anselmo, died yesterday at his home after a long illness. He was 74.

Asay was born in San Jose and also lived in San Francisco before coming to San Anselmo in 1922. He and his wife had lived in the same house at 115 San Francisco Boulevard since 1929.

He worked as a painter for many years, retiring in 1962 because of ill health. He was a member of the Painters' Union, Local 83.

He also was a member of the American Legion post of San Anselmo.

Asay became known as the "mayor" of his street because of his long residence there and his habit of sitting out in front of his house, waving at passers-by.

He also was called the "superintendent of Red Hill Shopping Center" because, as he once said, "I've watched it since they took down the first tree."

He is survived by his wife, Clarice; two sons, Ralph C. Asay of Fairfax and Lawrence J. Asay of San Rafael; a daughter, Marie C. Hunt of San Anselmo; 14 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be offered at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Keaton Chapel in San Rafael.

Tapes, Guns Taken From Parked Cars

Valentina Cordell, 1032 Mark Drive, Petaluma, told police yesterday that eight stereo tapes valued at $375 were stolen from her car Sept. 23 or Sept. 24 while parked at her home.

In another report, Searl U. Fields, 719 Regina Court, Petaluma, said a rifle and shotgun valued at $295 were stolen from his camper-truck Saturday.

ELMER F. KAHN

Funeral for Elmer F. Kahn of Kittredge, Colo., who died Saturday while visiting in Marin, will be held Friday in Denver.

Kahn, 68, was found dead, apparently of a heart attack by his wife, Helen, while visiting in Corte Madera at the home of his daughter, Elaine Hunsicker, according to the county coroner's office.

Kahn, a Colorado native, was a retired ticket agent for the Denver Union Railroad, having been employed with the line for 44 years.

Survivors, besides his daughter, are his wife, Helen, and two sons, James H. of Denver and Francis, with the armed forces in Panama.

DORA FREDERICO

Private funeral for Dora H. Frederico of Fairfax was held today at Golden Gate National Cemetery Chapel in San Bruno.

Mrs. Frederico, 64, died in a local hospital Sunday.

Born in Mill Valley, she had lived in Marin all her life. Her home was at 33 Creek Road.

She was the widow of the late Frank Daniel Frederico.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Ekwall of Corte Madera and a granddaughter.

The Rosary was recited last night at the Keaton Chapel in San Rafael. Burial was in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

MISS ANDERSON

Private funeral was held today for Evelyn Anderson of San Francisco, sister of Norman Anderson of Mill Valley.

Miss Anderson died in a local hospital Monday after a brief illness. She was a secretary with a San Francisco law firm.

C. M. MONROE

Private funeral for Charles M. Monroe, real estate executive and father of William W. Monroe of Mill Valley, was held yesterday in San Mateo.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the Heart Fund.

ELMER F. KAHN

Funeral for Elmer F. Kahn of Kittredge, Colo., who died Saturday while visiting in Marin, will be held Friday in Denver.

Miss Anderson died in a local hospital Monday after a brief illness. She was a secretary with a San Francisco law firm.

C. M. MONROE

Private funeral for Charles M. Monroe, real estate executive and father of William W. Monroe of Mill Valley, was held yesterday in San Mateo.

Monroe, 62, died Saturday. His home was in Hillsborough.

He was vice president and regional manager for Coldwell, Banker and Co.'s Northern California residential operations.

He was an alumnus of Stanford University and was a member of the Peninsula Golf and Country Club, Stock Exchange Club and a director of the San Mateo-Burlingame Board of Realtors.

In addition to the son in Mill Valley, he is survived by another son, Charles D. Monroe of San Mateo.

HOLLY K. RAPP

No funeral for Holly K. Rapp of Fairfax will be held according to her request. Mrs. Rapp died Sunday at a local hospital after a long illness. She was 66.

She was born in Porterville, Tulare County, and had lived all her life in California. She was a 40-year resident of Marin. Her home was at 181 Bolinas Road.

Mrs. Rapp was a supply superintendent at Hamilton Air Force Base for many years.

She was the widow of the late John Rapp, who died in 1958.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Roskovics of North Falmouth, Mass., and a brother, Edward Mattison of Fairfax.

MARJORIE FIELD

Private funeral for Marjorie P. Field of Greenbrae will be held tomorrow in San Anselmo.

Mrs. Field, 58, died Saturday at Ross General Hospital shortly after being admitted. Deputy Coroner Donald L. Cornish said death was due to lung disease.

Mrs. Field was born in Radville, Saskatchewan. She had lived 30 years in California, the last 17 in Marin County. Her home was at 50 Via Baranca.

She was a member of the Marin Foundation, Green Oaks Chapter.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Pamela J. Booher of Inglewood, Los Angeles County, and Mrs. Patricia Julian of San Diego; two grandsons; six brothers and four sisters, all of Canada.

The family prefers memorial gifts to the Marin Foundation.

A JAZZY BANKER

By profession, San Anselmo's Tom Stoddard is a banker — and a good one. But he is better known in some circles for another proficiency. He is one of the world's foremost authorities on early black jazz, the author of numerous articles and one book, the story of the great string bass player Pops Foster, with a second book under way. And he and his expertise in jazz are spotlighted in this Saturday's Marin Magazine.

Positions Shift On Ferry Plan

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The Sausalito City Council last night gnawed inconclusively on the Golden Gate Bridge District's plan for a $1.7 million downtown ferry terminal.

A glimmer of agreement to accept the plan — with changes — was evident, however.

Both councilmen and spokesmen for citizens groups shifted positions they had taken two weeks ago at a previous "study session" on the plan, but acknowledged later they did so only as ploys to bargain with the bridge district.

Both councilmen Stephen A. Fraser and Evert H. Heynneman, who previously pushed for endorsement of the plan but with tough conditions, last night switched to advocacy of a second terminal in North Sausalito. Fraser conceded the new position was a break with their previous stand, while Heynneman insisted it was not a change.

The Sausalito Citizens Council, which two weeks ago argued hotly against a downtown terminal, last night instead endorsed a statement by the Sausalito Business Association and Chamber of Commerce favoring a downtown terminal. The president of the citizens council, Alan Conner, told the I-J that the new position reflected "political reality."

Conner cited statements by bridge district officials that a North Sausalito terminal would not be considered for construction for five to eight years.

Bridge District director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco stated it bluntly to the council: "It (North Sausalito terminal) just isn't in the cards today. There is no way we can build a two-terminal system in Sausalito within the fiscal limitations." He noted that the North Sausalito terminal would cost some $2.4 million, and probably would not qualify for two-thirds federal funding.

After more than three hours of debate before an audience of about 30 persons, the council set a third "study session" on the issue at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 10. The plan was sent to the council by the district almost five months ago for its reaction.

The district's construction timetable calls for council action on the plan by November so work can begin early next year.

At least three votes appeared possible to endorse the downtown terminal plan, the bare majority needed. The majority would be Fraser and Heynneman joined by Sallq Stanford. She missed the first meeting on the terminal, but forcefully declared her support for the plan last night.

The wake from ferries going to a North Sausalito terminal, she predicted, would hit the city with "more law suits than you could handle."

Mayor Robin Sweeny repeatedly objected that a downtown terminal could push Sausalito back to the 1920s when it was "a transportation hub for the rest of Marin."

Told the city's planning commission had endorsed the downtown terminal, Mrs. Sweeny retorted that the commission was "a recommending body, it does not set city policy."

She called for a second environmental impact study of both a downtown and a North Sausalito terminal, saying the study completed in November by the bridge district "hasn't answered Sausalito's problems."

The letter from the Sausalito Business Association and Chamber of Commerce said a North Sausalito terminal would "benefit up-county commuters but not Sausalito." It said the downtown terminal should be on enough bay fill so that no parking spaces would be lost. (The district's plan calls for removing 70 of the 180 spaces in Lot No. 1.)

The businessmen also proposed that the old railroad right-of-way between Marinship and downtown be converted to a public transportation corridor linking downtown to a parking lot in North Sausalito for at least 600 cars. The district's plan calls for parking 320 cars south of the Big G Supermarket.

The letter said the downtown terminal "will best serve the Sausalito resident, Sausalito commuter and Sausalito businessman."

Theft Suspect Is Arrested

An 18-year-old San Rafael youth has been arrested on suspicion of burglary and concealing stolen property after he told officers he stole auto parts from the home of an acquaintance, police reported today.

David Michael Sass of 325 Fairhills Drive was booked into Marin County Jail and released on $1,500 bail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

According to police, friends of a youth recently killed in a motorcycle accident traced items missing from his garage to Sass, who said he took the parts in connection with a previous auto sales deal.

Mill Valley Fire Station Snagged

The proposed East Mill Valley fire station, which seemed for a while to be finally under way, ran into big trouble at last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting.

The council was told by the project's probable architect that the firehouse could not be built for $275,000 and that the recommended site at the intersection of extended Roque Moraes and Sycamore Avenue might not be suitable.

He estimated the size of the building would have to be reduced from about 7,500 square feet to less than 6,000 square feet, and even then the cost might exceed revenue authorized by voters in April.

A general description of the new fire station, which would become the city's main one, included wall-to-wall carpeting, a color television, a stereo system and generous office and training space.

Fire Chief Joseph E. Regalia began the discussion by describing the layout and admitting his department did not expect all the luxuries they were requesting.

The council was somewhat concerned with possible extravagance of the new station, but was stunned at the bad news from architect Matthew R. Mills of Mills and Robinson of San Francisco.

Though the architectural firm has not yet been formally hired by the city, it has made a preliminary review of the proposed structure and building site since it was chosen by the council to design the project.

Mills recommended that the council authorize him to cut the scope of the firehouse to a size the city could afford. He also suggested that a private soils engineering firm be hired for about $1,000 to determine if the recommended building site is susceptible to landslides.

A preliminary soils study, said Mills, indicated that the triangular-shaped parcel may be located at the foot of a natural drainage swale. If that is the case, he said, the area may be vulnerable to slides.

After the disappointing news registered with the councilmen, they praised Mills for foreseeing their impending financial trouble and agreed to follow his suggestion.

They instructed him to return Oct. 16 with an estimate of his fee to prune down the proposed building and an estimate from the soils engineer.

Councilman Robert E. Capron asked if Mills still thought it possible to reduce the scope of the project and build it for $275,000.

Mills shrugged his shoulders and said, "I would say it is fleetingly possible."

Responding to the list of probable cutbacks, Councilman Robert E. Burton said, "I don't want to build a second rate firehouse. I'd rather have none at all."

The entire matter will be back before the council Oct. 16.

Soft Stand Taken On Liquor Ban

Outdoor drinkers in Mill Valley were granted a partial reprieve last night as the city council softened its proposed ban on public guzzling.

Two weeks ago, the council passed the first reading of a draft ordinance that would have prohibited drinking any alcoholic beverage at any time on any public street, sidewalk or passageway or in any city-owned park or playground.

The booze ban was requested by the police department as a weapon against a handful of youthful drinkers who frequently congregate in front of the Mill Valley bus depot.

Reacting to citizens who opposed the "shotgun" approach to what they consider to be a "spot problem," the council limited its proposed drinking ban to the city's commercial areas and the parks after dark.

If the revised ordinance is adopted on second reading Oct. 16, drinking will be prohibited in the downtown area, along parts of East Blithedale and Miller avenues, other commercial zones, and in city parks from sunset to sunrise.

Goldenaires Trip Deadline

Deadline for reservations for the San Rafael Goldenaires Senior Citizen Club's trip to Marine World is at 4 p.m. Friday, according to Nancy Person of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department.

The seniors will go by bus to Marine World for an all-day outing including lunch and entertainment on Oct. 13.

Mill Valley Won't Get Its Dogcatcher

The City of Mill Valley isn't getting a full-time dogcatcher promised by the Marin County Humane Society, Gerald J. Hood told fellow city councilmen last night. (Another Mill Valley City Council story, page 1)

Hood said he had been so informed recently by John Gill, executive director of the society.

After some discussion of Hood's surprise announcement, the council agreed that it thought Gill had specifically promised to transfer a full-time control officer to Mill Valley two weeks ago.

But, according to Hood, the Humane society director has decided the full-time officer depends upon the city's acceptance of a four-part dog control program he has proposed.

Rather than adopt Gill's entire program, the council established a committee to study the dog problem in Mill Valley and report to the council by the end of November.

The council agreed to draft a letter which Hood will carry to Gill at the next meeting of the dog committee. The letter will firmly request Gill to follow through on what the council considers to be his commitment to send a full-time dogcatcher.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

SEWAGE — Scheduled a special meeting for 8 p.m. Oct. 19 to review the recently released report from Marin Municipal Water District about consolidating sewage treatment facilities in Central and Southern Marin.

REVENUE SHARING — ExpressedSqdisappointment that recently approved revenue sharing legislation will funnel only about $48,000 to Mill Valley when the city had hoped for about $100,000 from the federal government.

TENNIS COURTS — Awarded a contract of $7,000 to Malott and Peterson-Grundy Construction Co. to resurface the tennis courts in Boyle Park. Hood and Robert E. Capron voted against the contract because they wanted additional information on the bids.

EAST BLITHEDALE — Banned parking on East Blithedale Avenue from 3 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily to allow the city's street sweepers to clean the avenue. Councilman Robert E. Burton voted against the ban, saying it was too extensive.

YOUTH COMMISSION — Appointed Gregory Wrisley, Kathy Graham, Dennis Lopez and Douglas Feller to terms on the youth commission after reviewing the candidates in a closed session before the regular meeting.

RAILROAD — Continued to Oct. 16 future discussion of the city's opposition to transit use of the existing Northwest Pacific Railroad right-of-way. Capron said he had not yet written a letter to the federal government of the council's opposition to the acquisition of the right-of-way because the council might be able to work out a satisfactory contractual agreement with Golden Gate Bridge District.

IMPOUND FEES — Passed the first reading of an ordinance which would enable the city council to establish by resolution rather than ordinance impound fees for picked-up dogs.

BUS DEPOT — Declared itself in favor of two ticket-selling sites in Mill Valley, one of them the existing bus depot whose proprietor, Janice Aronoff, was stripped of her ticket-selling contract by Golden Gate Bridge District which said she had been splitting up commuter ticket books to sell individual trips at higher prices. The council told the city manager to review the situation with the bridge district management and deferred discussion of the city's contract with Mrs. Aronoff.

Dope Case Moving To Los Angeles

Three men arrested last month in connection with what was thought to be the largest cocaine raid ever in Marin will not be charged locally.

Instead Keith Woods Karpinski, 26, of Fairfax, Rollin Gary Russell, 27, of Soquel, Santa Cruz County, and Gene Wayne Scarnecchia, 36, of Tamalpais Valley will face charges in Los Angeles, according to Marin's assistant district attorney, Joshua W. Thomas.

Thomas said the evidence is better in Los Angeles where the three and Diane De Falvo, 24, allegedly negotiated the sale of 24 ounces of cocaine for $16,000 which was ultimately set for sale in a San Francisco restaurant on Sept. 2.

The sale aborted when the sellers became suspicious of undercover agents, but Karpinski and Russell were arrested in an auto with the cocaine on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Scarnecchia was arrested near his home shortly afterward. Miss De Falvo was not arrested, but had allegedly arranged the sale with Los Angeles police officers by telephone from Scarnecchia's residence, according to Marin sheriff's inspector Alfred Teixeira.

Thomas said Karpinski was arrested in Oakland Wednesday on a Los Angeles warrant charging possession of cocaine for sale and conspiracy to sell the drug.

House Floor Test Urged On Nixon Economy Powers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., today advocated a floor test in the House of a Democratic leadership move to reduce proposed authority for President Nixon to cut federal spending as he sees fit. But Mills said he still favored such authority.

The Ways and Means Committee headed by Mills previously approved a $250 billion spending ceiling sought by Nixon for the current fiscal year along with Nixon's request for power to cut any program, even those protected by law like Social Security and veterans benefits.

Speaker Carl Albert, House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and Assistant Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. balked at the sweeping authority and last week blocked a Rules Committee hearing called to clear the measure for floor action.

The leaders have been trying since then to draft a substitute proposal, and Mills sought his committee's approval to back away from its earlier vote to bar any amendments from the floor, and to support a rule to permit offering of the leadership proposal.

'Missing' Report Draws Criticism

A minority report on a proposed addition to administrators at Tamalpais High School never reached trustees, it was disclosed last night. (Another Tamalpais High School District board story, page 1.)

Failure to put the report into trustees' hands when they were asked to make the promotion to the $20,000-a-year assistant principalship at their Sept. 19 meeting was called "administrative mishandling" by trustee Jerrold M. Ladar.

He said trustees were given the impression then that the reassignment "was of a relatively routine matter" and were not presented the minority report "unwittingly or otherwise." Ladar did not explain what made the matter now seem other than routine.

After the board turned down the promotion of Redwood High School counselor Anthony Compagno to the assistant principalship, Ladar received "a number of calls from the community about the matter."

Ladar did not disclose what the minority report stated, but said it came from the only lay person group called "The Tam Screening Committee," composed otherwise entirely of district employees.

(Unofficial district sources report that the position is actually that of "campus policeman.")

Noting that the Tam Screening Committee is composed of Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins, the district's education leader Lawrence Sheppard, and staff members, with only one community member, Ladar suggested:

"We have said we intend to involve the community actively in our processes. In looking at the extremely diverse community in the Tam attendance area I would like to ask if one member is ever going to be adequate —from the number of comments I've received it's almost a herculean job. In future we should involve more community members.

"There is some problem in trying to reach a community such as ours. I also have the concern that matters such as those raised by the community member in the minority report must get before this board before we are asked to take action."

The board of trustees voted unanimously to reassign Compagno to Tamalpais High School, Ladar commenting that dissension "would set back the process at Tam."

At the Sept. 19 board meeting Compagno's reassignment was disapproved by a 3-to-2 vote. Trustees Bette Wallace, Robert W. Corlett and Ladar objected, while trustees David D. Ring and Frank L. Miller voted for the reassignment.

At last night's meeting no reason for the change in trustees' votes was given; however it was preceded by a 70-minute closed session during which trustees talked to the entire Tam Screening Committee about the proposed reassignment, according to Supt. Hawkins.

The closed session had been billed in advance as "discussing hiring personnel."

Tamalpais High School District Also:

CHILD CARE CENTER — Congratulated members of Woman on the Move on their proposed child care center at Redwood High School after a presentation by cochairman Carol Neumeier and Anne Tellis, and by Dr. Walter S. Lee, special education coordinator. Mrs. Neumeier announced they were registering as a nonprofit corporation to be called Redwood Childhood Development Center in order to get funds from private and federal sources.

COMPLAINT — Were told that a letter of complaint from Doris Bassett of 167 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, calling the first day's registration at Tamalpais High School "close to total chaos" had been referred to Dr. Lawrence Sheppard; Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins said the chaos was caused by new arena scheduling: problems were being evaluated and it was hoped they would be corrected before next year.

GYM ROOF — Called for bids for reroofing the gymnasium at Redwood High School.

COMPUTER — Awarded a contract to Data General Corp. for $42,172.50 for a minicomputer at Redwood High School.

BALLOT — Cast its ballot for Sally Rakow as representative to the assembly of the California School Boards Association.

PERSONNEL — Hired Nancy Bratt on a part-time basis to replace a teacher on leave of absence at Tam High at $1,870 a year; elected directors of recreation programs for the 1972-73 school year —Edward Chavez, Tamalpais; Robert Fitzhenry, Drake; Richard Hart, Redwood; granted a general leave of absence for this school year to Reynolds Crutchfield, Drake teacher.

ATHLETICS — Approved extra service assignments for sports teachers at Tam and Drake; took no action on a complaint by Tamalpais math teacher Frank Gold that there is wide disparity between salaries in the two schools, with a Tamalpais football assignment getting $831, while a Drake football assignment pay was only $440; Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey explained that schools each had their own budgeting responsibility for the assignments.

JDL Leader Ordered To Jail

TEL AVIV (UPI) — A judge today ordered the head of the Jewish Defense League, Rabbi Meir Kahane, jailed for four more days on suspicion of organizing attempts to smuggle weapons abroad for counterattacks against Arab guerrillas.

"We have reason to believe that he is the organizer," Capt. Moshe Shaltiel said in explaining why the police want to hold Kahane longer without filing charges against him.

Kahane, 40, was arrested Sunday and the police then were given the court's permission to hold him for 48 hours for questioning. When that period expired, they sought, and were granted, four additional days for their investigation.

Steel Company Denies Charge

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (UPI)— Bethlehem Steel Corp. has denied charges that it spent more than half a million dollars to support the re-election campaign of President Nixon.

A Bethlehem spokesman said Monday the charges were "completely without foundation."

He said the company would defend itself "vigorously" against a suit filed in U. S. District Court last Thursday by Richard A. Ash, who holds 50 shares of Bethlehem Stock. Ash said the company used its own funds unlawfully to buy advertisements supporting the President.

Botulism Strikes

LOVELOCK, Nev. (UPI)— Botulism has killed 5,000 ducks on the Toulon-Humboldt marsh areas near here in the past three weeks and a Fish and Game Department spokesman said Monday migrating ducks could contact the disease.

Clubs, Cart Stolen

Golf clubs and a cart valued at $450 were taken from the San Geronimo National Golf Course clubhouse at about 2 p.m. Saturday, sheriff's deputies reported today. The clubs belonged to Cecil A. Perkins of Greenbrae, deputies said.

Novato Redevelopment Agency Creation Marked By Squabble

Novato City Councilmen voted 3-2 last night to create a redevelopment agency for the city's downtown, but a squabble over paying the agency's directors — themselves — $15 a meeting almost stymied the action.

The final decision came only after a tangled series of split votes on deleting the pay, and parliamentary maneuvers to reconsider.

Only about 20 citizens watched the proceedings that were the only business of the council's three-hour hearing. Several citizens, including former Mayor J. Wayne Womack, spoke against the redevelopment agency. Most speakers repeated stands taken at three earlier discussions.

In summing up before taking a vote, the redevelopment agency was opposed by Councilmen Fred F: Ruegg on grounds that the city and private enterprise could implement the Novato Downtown Plan without the expense of the agency. Councilman Dorothy P. Young stressed that a redevelopment agency needed strong community support to succeed, and said such support was lacking in Novato.

Mayor F. Wayne Sartain and Councilmen George Quesada and David Price Jones supported the agency formation.

Jones moved adoption of the ordinance establishing the agency. Ruegg moved to strike a provision paying agency directors with $15 per meeting, to a maximum $60 a month.

"We have better ways to spend the money than on ourselves," Ruegg argued.

"Mr. Ruegg certainly knows what he's worth," said Quesada. "I think we spend too damn much time at this job anyway," he added, declaring that he wouldn't give the extra time to the redevelopment agency without pay.

"I'm worth as much as anybody on this council," Ruegg replied.

Ruegg's amendment passed with Quesada and Sartain dissenting, but Quesada declared he would not vote for the ordinance itself unless the pay was reinstated.

Faced with apparent defeat of the agency, Sartain called a recess for coffee. When the council returned to the table, the redevelopment agency was established with $15 salaries to be paid.

The redevelopment agency formation was the latest step in a four-year campaign to revitalize the city's downtown area centering on Grant Avenue. At the prodding of downtown merchants, the Novato Downtown Plan was hammered out in 1970, calling for a halt to decentralization of shopping centers and for creating a single large regional center on the Pinheiro property north of Grant Avenue.

Next step will be for city staff to prepare an outline of the actual redevelopment area, and plans for projects which would be subjected to further public hearings, Brown explained.

The council adjourned to a regular meeting at 8 p.m: today.

Open Burning Hearing Set

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Public hearings on proposals to change open burning regulations and adopt a new air pollution warning system will be held tomorrow by Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors.

The board will meet at 10 a.m. at 939 Ellis Street, and its budget and finance committee at 9:30 a.m.

New state law prohibits air pollution control districts from banning agricultural burning.

Huge Award Won By Riot Victim

DETROIT (UPI)—Albert Wilson, 18, was awarded $875,000 by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury Monday, the largest single injury claim ever won in Michigan, his attorneys said.

Wilson, a senior at the city's Cody High School, was paralyzed from the waist down by a bullet from a policeman's gun during Detroit's July, 1967, riot.

George J. Bedrosian, Wilson's attorney said the shooting occurred while Wilson, then 13, was in the I & J Five and Dime Store on July 24 two blocks from the point where the riot began.

Wilson testified at the four-day trial that he had gone into the store to warn a friend that police were coming. While kneeling behind a partition he said he saw a policeman fire a rifle and then felt pain in his left side. Wilson also lost a kidney due to the gunshot.

Diffenbach Development Opposed

The Strawberry Recreation board last night said it is opposed to a plan to construct 2,600 dwelling units on the former Diffenbach Ranch in neighboring Corte Madera.

According to David E. Roberts, recreation manager, the board thought the large development would spoil hillside on which it would be built and have too great an impact on schools and shopping facilities in the area and on the community's recreation center.

The board agreed to write a letter to the Corte Madera Planning Commission detailing its objections.

In other business, the board asked the Marin County Planning Commission to delay acting on the proposed development of 56 condominiums in Marin Cay, on Tiburon Boulevard between the Cove Apartments and Strawberry Circle.

Roberts said the board indicated it needed more time to study plans for the development. The planning commission will consider the matter at its Oct. 16 meeting.

The recreation board also asked for volunteers to assist in preliminary work on a children's playground. Volunteers will be needed at 11 a.m. Saturday, according to Roberts, who said the playground is being built next to the recreation center at 118 Strawberry Drive.

Sonoma's 21-Year Tax Collector Quits

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted the resignation of Treasurer-Tax Collector Jimmie Anderson, effective Nov. 1.

Anderson, 50, said he wanted to retire at an age where he could "still enjoy many healthy years." He has worked as tax collector for 21 years and held the joint title of treasurer-tax collector for 16 years.

In his letter of resignation, Anderson complained that the county administrator's office over the years has taken power away from the elective office.

In recent weeks Anderson has come under fire from Sonoma supervisor Ignazio A. Vella because of his open campaigning for David Eby, Vella's opposition in the Nov. 7 supervisorial election.

The board will make an appointment to fill the remainder of the two-year term.

Smuggling Charge In Dope Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A Marin couple, arrested in what agents termed the second largest seizure of hashish ever made by customs officials, have been charged with smuggling the drug into this country and possessing it with intent to distribute.

Audrey Ellen Goldsmith, 25, of San Anselmo, and John Westfield Gillette, 24, of Tiburon, are due to return to U.S. District Court on Oct. 13 for a preliminary hearing.

The 900 pounds of hashish seized in connection with their arrest was discovered in the bed of a camper truck with Illinois license plates that had arrived in Newark, N.J., from Antwerp, Belgium.

After two customs officers aided by a detector found the drug, they substituted an equal weight of scrap iron. The couple then was followed on a camping trip across the country in an attempt to run down other contacts in drug traffic.

Miss Goldsmith and Gillette were arrested last Thursday when they arrived in Marin.

Information On Accident Given

The car involved in an accident Sunday in which Thomas Richard Sanchez of Novato was killed, did not belong to him, but to Pamela Lee Turner of 300 Sunset Parkway, Novato, according to her mother, Hazel Turner.

Miss Turner was reported in satisfactory condition today at Novato General Hospital with injuries received in the accident.

Mrs. Turner said that the two had just left her home and had not been drinking. She said that the gallon of wine reported in the car was unopened and that beer cans similarly mentioned had been there for some time.

Sanchez, 19, was killed when the car skidded off Novato Boulevard near Stafford Dam and hit a tree.

Broken Leg Suffered In Accident

A motorcyclist suffered a broken leg in a collision with a pickup truck at Fourth and Tamalpais streets shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday, San Rafael police reported.

Richard Wendell Jones, 20, of P.O. Box 11, San Geronimo, was reported in good condition today with a fractured lower left leg, according to Marin General Hospital authorities.

Police said Jeanine Rita Flynn, 26, was making a left turn from the westbound lane of Fourth Street when her truck was struck by Jones's eastbound motorcycle. A passenger on the motorcycle, John Dewey Wittenberg, 14, of 6 Mount Wittenberg Court, San Rafael, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital for scrapes and bruises and released.

Police said Jones would be cited for improper speed and failing to have a driver's license in his possession.

1st BART Accident: Computer At Fault?

FREMONT (AP) — "It will take several days of investigation and examination of the cars themselves before we can say for sure what went wrong," a spokesman said after four passengers and a train operator were injured when a computer-operated Bay Area Rapid Transit train car derailed and plunged down an embankment.

The accident yesterday was the first since the $1.4 billion BART system began operating three weeks ago on the first 28-mile Oakland-Fremont leg of what will eventually be a 72-mile system.

The four passengers were treated at a local hospital for minor bruises and released. The operator, Eli Palmer, 36, of Oakland, was hospitalized with possible internal injuries.

The BART spokesman said the two-car train, traveling about 37 miles per hour, failed to stop at the Fremont station and the front car plowed through a five-foot-high, 30-foot-long sand barrier and a chain link fence before careening down an embankment. It came to rest at a 45 degree angle, nose in an asphalt parking lot, tail in the sand. The second car remained on the track.

The train was operating on automatic control from the system's computer at the Oakland headquarters. The spokesman said the automatic command system apparently failed to stop the train, and Palmer may not have had time to bring the manual controls into play.

Car Runs Over, Kills Hitchhiker

BOULDER, Nev. (UPI)—A hitchhiker who fell asleep on a highway was killed by an automobile Monday and his companion was seriously injured.

The Nevada Highway Patrol said the car's driver suffered back injuries trying to avoid the teen-age pair. His car ran off the road and then veered back on the highway. The driver was not cited.

The youth wo was killed was Cris Brookover, 15, of Bullhead City, Ariz.

Thomas A. Baker, 16, also of Bullhead City, suffered two broken legs, a possible broken pelvis and bruises and was taken in serious condition to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital in Las Vegas.

Baker said the pair had seated themselves on the road to rest and apparently had fallen asleep.

Man Survives Fall Into Garbage

HONOLULU (UPI)—Doctors today called it "miraculous" that a Honolulu man survived a 22-floor fall into a pile of garbage.

Thomas Finney, 22, tumbled down a garbage chute at the Queen Emma Gardens but the garbage at the bottom cushioned his fall.

He told police he was "fooling around" when he plummeted down the chute. He was hospitalized with only cuts and bruises.

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Carbon monoxide, clean air.

Smoke particles, light air pollution.

Other areas:

San Francisco, clean air.

San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, while the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Transit District Staff Is Dissolved

The skeleton staff of the Marin County Transit District was dissolved today as an independent operation and made an arm of the public works department.

Transit district directors approved the change, 5-2, rejecting two years of argument by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin that the district needed a full-time general manager.

James B. Robertson, who works half-time as the public works department's traffic engineer, has been acting general manager of the district for the past two years. He will continue handling the details of the transit district, but took a $2,112 cut in annual salary.

The board also approved hiring an additional engineer to assist Robertson in his transit duties. The new position pays a minimum of $13,008 a year.

Supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Michael Wornum voted against the change, each arguing for a full-time general manager. The inevitable growth of transit in the county already requires a full-time man, they said.

The majority, however, said such a position would duplicate the staff of the Golden Gate Bridge District. It is the bridge district, after all, that provides transit service, not the county's district, they said.

Marin County Transit Directors Also:

GRANT — Set a special meeting at 8:30 a.m. next Tuesday in the Marin Civic Center to review Marin Transit Systems' application for a federal grant.

REVENUE — Approved "in principle" a joint application with the bridge district to give the county's share of revenue from the sales tax on gasoline to the bridge district this fiscal year. The share is expected to be about $1 million.

ROUTES — Changed the destination of bus Routes 27 and 30 from San Domenico School to Sleepy Hollow School, and of the Santa Venetia bus route from Adrian Way to North San Pedro Road, both effective next Monday.

WEST MARIN — Postponed to next Tuesday's special meeting action on a request from West Marin citizens for more frequent bus service.

POINT REYES — Received staff report that 1,854 passengers rode the shuttle service at Point Reyes National Seashore during 10 summer weekends.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate today confirmed without debate or dissent the nomination of Kenneth Franzheim II as ambassador to the Kingdom of Tonga.

Plywood Stolen

Golden Gate Showdown Postponed

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A scheduled showdown on a bill creating the Golden Gate National Recreation Area was postponed yesterday when the House of Representatives bogged down with 45 other last-minute legislative items.

The $118 million park thus will not come to a vote at least until sometime next week. It would link the Golden Gate Headlands with Point Reyes National Seashore.

The day saw intense lobbying on the measure, with the White House's liaison men to Congress pushing for its passage — thus fighting against lobbyists from the Army and Coast Guard, which object the park would take land from their installations at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, has predicted the proposal will be dead until next year if it fails to survive the lower house vote.

Gymnasium Hours Set 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The gymnasium at the new Mill Valley middle school will be open from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

According to the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department, the gymnasium may be used for exercises, volleyball and basketball.

Board Changes Site For New Hospital

The Petaluma Hospital District board changed its mind last night on where it plans to build a new 100-bed hospital.

Dist. Adm. Joseph E. Horner said the board has been offered 10 acres of free land on the northern boundary of Petaluma on Old Redwood Highway just north of Sonoma Joe's restaurant.

Board president Frederick K. Groverman said that site would be superior to other sites considered in East Petaluma because it has greater accessibility to both East and West Petaluma. He said the northern location would also provide better service to Rohnert Park and Cotati residents.

Dr. Groverman said the offer of 10 acres from dairyman Bill Lawrence might be expanded to 15 acres. He said preliminary soils tests showed the land there to be better than other sites and that it might reduce land preparation costs by $300,000. Other sites considered were on North McDowell Boulevard and East Washington Street.

Plans for the hospital and new location will be presented Oct. 26 to the Sonoma County Comprehensive Health Facilities Planning Council.

Black Prison Population Up

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A new state Department of Corrections survey shows the number of white and Chicano inmates at state prisons has fallen off during the past 10 years while the total of blacks has increased sharply.

In a survey released Monday of inmate "characteristics," the department said 50.3 per cent of the total 14,685 male inmates are white compared with 56 per cent in 1962.

At the same time, prisoners of Mexican ancestry represent 16.9 per cent of the prison population compared with 18.1 per cent a decade ago. Blacks now total 31.3 per cent compared with 21.1 per cent.

Typewriter Missing

A $400 typewriter was stolen from an office of Deer Park School near Fairfax between 9:30 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday, the sheriff's department reported today.

Railroad Proposal To Council

A plan to turn a portion of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way in Sausalito into a narrow gauge railroad will be considered by the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr said the proposal, by Robert Mohun of the Sausalito-Richardson Bay Railroad Co., would be to operate a railroad on weekends from Johnson Street to the north city limits, primarily to provide a means of touring the city.

Later, if the city acquires and develops a northern parking facility in Marinship, he said the trains could be used as a shuttle service between the lot and downtown.

The council will also consider adoption of a noise control ordinance and a proposal which would make it mandatory for an individual selling property in Sausalito to obtain a report for the buyer on any actions by the city which might influence how the land can be used.

Big Crowd Hears Meeting Results

A standing room crowd of Corte Madera residents filled town council chambers last night to hear the results of Saturday's town meeting.

Seated in chairs, on window sills and on the floor, about 90 townspeople listened to reports by Betty Pierce, chairman of the town meeting, and four committee chairmen, on the discussions and resolutions that resulted from the all-day meeting.

Judy True, co-chairman of the master plan committee, cited four major concerns: proper mix, density, quality, appearance and design control of housing; preservation of small town character and preservation of open space; citizen participation in planning development; and controlled growth coinciding with planning goals.

Her group recommended a control on taxes to allow retired citizens to continue living in Corte Madera, a study of the environmental and economic impact of the proposed Hahn shopping center before plans proceed and an obligation by developers to study the environmental and economic impact of any developments of more than four residential units or any commercial type.

They included a program of traffic control to alleviate speeding on Tamalpais, Corte Madera and Redwood avenues and Madera Boulevard; a study of the feasibility of undergrounding utilities in the town; an active volunteer fireman recruiting program to include women; a study of the feasibility of combining some town services with Larkspur, and exploring the feasibility of redrawing school district boundaries to conform with neighborhoods.

An open space bond election was called for within three months, an extension of the current building moratorium until a master plan is adopted and a park for eastern Corte Madera and miniparks throughout the town.

Steven M. Haines, chairman of the committee on communications and citizen participation, reported several recommendations.

They included an amendment of the existing cablevision franchise agreement providing for two to four hours a day of locally originated public access programming and a status report on the town's legal commitments in reference to the Redevelopment Agency.

Mrs. Pierce repeatedly emphasized that the citizen committees would be on-going and should be recognized by the council.

Mayor Holmes S. (Pete) Norville called recommendations "overall, very pleasing" and said the town meeting was "conducted in the best spirit of improvement."

He agreed to Mrs. Pierce's request to place the recommendations on the agenda for Nov. 20 for further discussion.

Zoning Policy Change Urged In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council was urged last night to establish a policy banning inclusion of land unsuitable for building in zoning acreage.

A letter, signed by 13 residents, told councilmen:

"We think the buildable land only should be considered in zoning; that is, cliffs, land under water and swamps should not be added to areas to increase the number of units to be built on usable land.

"As a specific example," the letter continued, "the Quarry site has about 5.85 acres upon which units can be built. The rest is too steep. According to the present zoning regulation if the 20 acres are zoned R-2, the number of units for 20 acres could be built on the 5.85 acres.

"Another example is the recent zoning near Lucky Drive. The building density is going to be higher than R-2 because part of the acreage is over Corte Madera creek."

Councilmen favored the suggestion, even going further by proposing that what is needed in addition to a policy is an ordinance to enforce it.

They referred the matter to the planning commission and to their planning consultants Sedway-Cooke for study and comment.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

PROPOSITION 20 — Debated the pros and cons of Proposition 20, the coastline conservation initiative to be voted on Nov. 7, but took no stand.

CLEAN UP WEEK — Designated Oct. 30 to Nov. 3 as "Semi-Annual Clean Up Week."

CONFERENCE EXPENSES — Authorized $250 in expenses for Town Mgr. Ronald E. Bartels to attend the annual conference of the League of California Cities in Anaheim Oct. 15-18.

TENNIS COURTS — Approved an agreement with the Reed School District to build tennis courts at Granada School, awarded a contract to the low bidder for the courts and authorized the transfer of $5,000 from unappropriated reserves to pay for the excess over the budgeted amount.

COMPLETION — Accepted completion of the reconstruction of Edison Avenue from Redwood Avenue to Route 100.

DEBRIS — Authorized Bartels to initiate nuisance abatement proceedings against H. Koch for debris and trash on his property adjoining his industrial plant on Koch Road.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at town council chambers, noting that the Oct. 16 meeting was cancelled due to a lack of quorum and the Oct. 23 meeting rescheduled due to Veterans Day.

Food For Peace, And Money Too

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food for Peace program will ship 200,000 tons of rice to South Vietnam, but a provision of the contract will give $30.2 million to the Saigon government to defray war costs.

The Agriculture Department announced the shipment Monday. Under the shipping agreement, South Vietnam will pay for the rice in what is technically a long-term credit arrangement.

However, 80 per cent of the funds, or $30.2 million, will be turned right back to the Vietnamese government as a "grant for common defense."

The food aid program has resulted in $152.6 million in military grants to the Saigon regime this year. Last year's figure was $78 million.

Grotto No. 1 On Wharf Leased To Alioto Kin

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Transfer of the lease and license of the Old Exposition Fish Grotto No. 1 to Frank Alioto has been unanimously approved by the Port Commission.

Alioto, a cousin of Mayor Joseph Alioto, and the Tia Maria Mexican restaurant chain had sought the right to use the land of the Grotto, opened by the late Silvio Oliva in 1935.

Tia Maria president George Martinez told the commission he planned to create public mini parks as part of his development. But the commission said it ruled in favor of Alioto simply because Tia Maria's offer to the founder's widow was not accepted and Alioto's offer was.

Doctors Use Laser Beam For Surgery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An invisible laser beam that cuts more sharply than any scalpel has been used successfully to remove dead skin from burn victims and repair damaged internal organs in animals, medical researchers report.

Dr. James P. Fidler, director of the University of Cincinnati Medical Center's laser laboratory, discussed his research team's new surgical laser at the opening of the College of Surgeons 58th annual clinical congress here yesterday.

Fidler said the technique uses an electric arc to excite molecules of carbon dioxide gas until they send out a beam of intense, highly focused, and coherent radiation.

When aimed at tissue through a microscope, this laser beam's bursts of invisible light produces a spot of heat less than a hundredth of an inch deep, enabling it to cut more precisely than any scalpel, Fidler said.

The laser has been used on four severely damaged burn patients to vaporize dead, unwanted skin instantly and without any bleeding, the study reported. The excised area was so clean that skin grafts took more quickly than after conventional surgery, Fidler said.

Corte Madera Council Denies Shoreline Rezoning Request

Expressing reluctance to approve any rezoning until the town's general plan is adopted, the Corte Madera Town Council denied an appeal last night by Karl Treffinger to rezone a piece of shoreline property along Paradise Drive.

The 3-0 vote, with Councilman Edward W. Colthurst abstaining, followed numerous objections from audience members based on desire for open space, opposition to developing the shoreline or concern for the ecology of the marshes fronting the property.

Malcolm Manson, headmaster of Marin County Day School, a neighbor of the parcel, was applauded when he urged the council to stop all rezoning until a general plan is adopted.

Treffinger, an architect from San Francisco, was asking to have a three-acre parcel rezoned from single-family dwellings to multiple-family planning to allow development of 10 homes.

"I think," he told councilmen, "the question tonight is not whether to rezone the land or not but what to rezone it to."

He criticized the planning commission's denial, saying it didn't consider the property owner's economic situation, the proposal for open space that was included in development plans or the inappropriateness of the present zoning.

Catherine Bauer presented an emotional plea for her mother, Lucy Codder, whom she identified as the owner of the property. Mrs. Bauej said her mother was a 69-year-old invalid who lives in Mill Valley and who has invested more than $70,000 in the land over the past 10 years in acquisition and taxes. She said present zoning would allow only two single-family dwellings and that "wipes out the value of the property."

Mrs. Bauer, also of Mill Valley, said her mother requires medical care, has not had an annual income of more than $4,000 for the last 10 years and "can no longer afford to pay the taxes on the land."

Councilmen and audience members sympathized with her, but denied the appeal.

Medical Center Sale Endorsed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors has endorsed the sale of the Weimar Medical Center tg Sacramento businessman James T. Ralph for $510,000.

The center, which is jointly operated by 15 counties, was a main tuberculosis treatment center in Northern California for the past half century but suffered declining use in recent months.

Ralph, who submitted the only bid for the center, said he would use the Placer County property for a nursing home and commercial development if his bid is accepted by the 15 owner counties.

'More' Women Surgeons Needed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A former American College of Surgeons president thinks there should be more women in his profession because they sew so well.

"Certainly women have been master of the needle and thread for centuries and the challenge of (stitching) blood vessels and utilizing grafts should be most appealing to them," Dr. Robert M. Zollinger said Monday.

Dr. Zollinger, who is from the Ohio State University, was speaking to colleagues at the ACS convention.

There are only 300 women among the 33,000 members of the college.

Longshore Union May Cancel Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—West Coast longshoremen's leader Harry Bridges said Monday his union may cancel the labor contract agreed upon after a 130-day strike because of court decisions striking down a container jurisdiction clause.

Bridges said his International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union has notified the Pacific Maritime Association that it reserves the right to suspend or cancel the agreement reached last February.

"The PMA is on notice that unless the contract is changed to give the union what we had when the strike was settled and the agreement accepted as a whole—good parts and bad parts—by referendum vote, then the union reserves the right to suspend or cancel the whole agreement and to take any action necessary to protect its interests," Bridges said.

He said the action was taken because federal courts and the National Labor Relations Board struck down a contract provision giving the union jurisdiction over stuffing and handling of cargo containers on the docks.

Under the agreement, the shippers were to pay the union a $1 a ton royalty for some containers handled by the rival Teamsters Union.

Culinary Olympics Attract 2 Marinites

By MOLLY MARIN

Shirley McRae of Belvedere and Caryl Saunders of San Rafael left Saturday for Frankfurt, Germany, where they will attend the Culinary Olympics.

As their athletic counterpart, the Culinary Olympics are held every four years. The site is always Frankfurt, and teams of chefs, this year representing 35 countries, vie in the eight-day competition for culinary honors. Skills are judged in preparation of foods in both hot and cold categories.

The Marin women will support an American team fo chefs from throughout the country. Representing the West are Jack Sullivan, executive chef of Disneland and team manager, and Gerard Grimeissen, executive chef of the Del Paso Country Club in Sacramento.

The women will also attend the Federal German Hotel and Restaurant Show in Frankfurt and will then travel to Paris for the Equip Show, another trade exhibition.

Finally, the women will tour France, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia for a "gastronomical tour" before returning home.

Shirely McRae is a food consultant, and Caryl Saunders is the public relations director for Western Iceberg Lettuce.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Noah gave a dinner party for 12 Saturday night at their new home in Rolling Hills, Tiburon.

A RECEPTION held Sunday in the Livermore Room of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross honored Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Schindler of San Francisco, married in August at Rubicon, Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Schindler, the former Joyce Matthew, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian J. Matthew of Greenbrae. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schindler of Walnut Creek are the bridegroom's parents.

Many-Talented Actress Also Designs Costumes

By BETTY FROST

Jan Stratton is an actress who takes all of stagecraft to be her province. Besides her many before-the-footlights credits, she is the kind of team worker who assists with costumes, design, construction, make-up, lighting, promotion, stage managing and directing.

She is bringing her talents to designing costumes for the current repertory season of the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts. For the first production, Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex," she has created what she calls "earthy, organic" costumes using neutral colors and accessorizing with leaves, boughs and palm fronds. The low-keyed costumes carry out director Martin Frick's primitive interpretation of the classic play.

The opening production of "Oedipus Rex" is scheduled for an 8:30 p.m. curtain Thursday at the center, on Buena Vista Avenue in Mill Valley.

A GREAT believer in the kind of community theater represented by the Center for the performing Arts, Mrs. Stratton says, "I am doing the costumes because that's where I felt I was most needed."

She is teaching beginning drama at the College of Marin, emphasizing voice and diction, she explains in her own low pitched voice. Occasionally she finds a student who has never seen a play. Community theater, she thinks is an important first step in "getting the theater to these people, who have never been to the theater."

As one small part of costuming for "Oedipus Rex," the actress dyed 160 yards of cheesecloth an earthy gray for the chorus costumes. During the process "my washing machine blew a fuse," she grimaced. Several women are assisting with the fabrication of the costumes, following her designs. She has "always made my own clothes," she said, and after taking 12 college units in costume design enjoys having this skill.

For the next production, Jean Cocteau's "The Infernal Machine," based on the Oedipus legend, she has designed costumes in classic lines and vibrant colors.

ACTING HAS always been a part of Jan Stratton's life. As a child she used to write, produce and act in plays in the back yard of the family home in Alhambra. She directed the play for her eighth grade. At Alhambra High School she took a course in fundamental speech. Her teacher encouraged her to continue studying forensics, and she went on to become a member of her school's winning debating team, and performed in three State speech tournaments. She attended Pasadena City College and San Jose State College, interrupting her education to marry and start a family.

Now a resident of San Rafael, Jan is the ife of George Stratton, who teaches at Adeline E. Kent Junior High School in Kentfield. They have two daughters, Alison, 16, and Nancy, 15, who attend San Rafael High School.

When the children were in school all day, Jan resumed her education, first on a part-time, then a full-time basis. For five years she studied at Dominican College, the College of Marin, and California State University, San Francisco. She earned the B.A. in drama at California State University, San Francisco and went on to receive the master's degree along with a junior college teaching credential at the San Francisco campus. She began teaching drama at the College of Marin in the fall of 1970.

She continues her acting career also, and has appeared in such films as "Play It Again, Sam," "Blacula," "Outside In," "Organic Brain Syndrome," and "The Date." She is in the cast of "Pete and Tillie," the movie starring Walter Matthau and Carol Burnett, which will soon be released.

"THE FUNNY thing about 'Pete and Tillie' ", Mrs. Stratton confided, "is that all of the exterior shots were filmed in Marin County. However the interior scenes were done in the Universal Studio in Southern California. I had to fly to Universal City from Marin for those scenes."

The actress loves musicals and has appeared in many, including "Rough and Ready," the Tamalpais Mountain Play. She has filmed commercials, and had major roles in plays at California State University, San Francisco, ACT and Gallery Theater and California State University, San Jose. When she played Queen Gertrude in a college production of "Hamlet" a few years ago, she recalled that she had first done the role as a sixteen year old girl in Alhambra.

"ORGANIC AND earthy" is the way Jan Stratton describes the costumes she has designed for the production of "Oedipus Rex", which will open the repertory season at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts Thursday night. The costumes are in keeping with the primitive interpretation given the classic play by Martin Frick, director.

"A WORTHWHILE kind of acting, which informs as well as entertains," she calls her participation in the "Plays for Living" series done under the auspices of the Family Service Agency. Dramatizations of true to life situations, these plays "are a great source of human insight," she says.

During the 18 years the Strattons have lived in Marin County, Mrs. Stratton has been associated with a number of organizations. She sang with the Winifred Baker Chorale for eight years, assisted with Girl Scouts and Parent-Teacher Association, Chi Omega Alumnae Chapter of Marin, and was given the Fellowship Award in 1965 for her work as costume designer and stage manager of the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

ON THE AGENDA

Novato Hostess Club To Hold Real Reno Night This Year

This year members of the Novato Hostess Club have decided to make their annual Reno night for real.

Each year as a fund raising effort club members have had a gaming party in Novato. This year they have decided to spend a weekend at Crystal Bay, Nevada and will board a chartered bus early Saturday morning in front of Roger Wilco Market in Novato. They will return Sunday evening.

Chairman is Mrs. Larry Monestier, and committee members are Mmes. William Lemon, Dan Basich and Robert King.

MEMBERS OF Madrone Unit, Marin Foundation, Friends of Arequipa, are serving a public lunch tomorrow at 11:30 p.m. in the parish hall at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Larkspur.

Proceeds will go to the Marin Foundation group home for teen-agers.

A DINNER PARTY to celebrate the 23rd anniversary of the American Legion will be given Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Carriage House in Rohnert Park by members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Donald V. Westlund Post 7816.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Ed Larsen of Novato.

A "Thank God It's Friday" mystery tour is scheduled for Friday night by the Sausalito Woman's Club for members and guests.

The evening will begin with hors d'oeuvres and wine tasting at the Loomis Wine Cellars in Sausalito at 6 p.m. The group will then travel by chartered bus to a mystery location for dinner and dancing.

Mmes. Raymond G. Gergus, Richard F. Phillips and Clifford Raisbeck are chairmen, and are also serving as reservations chairmen.

Stefanelli is president of Sunset Scavenger Co. of San Francisco. He will show slides of his travels in the United States, Europe and Russia, where he studied solid waste disposal.

MRS. JAY C. CROTTY
Youth in Arts staff

'Part Time' Position Is Full Time

The difference between being a volunteer and a paid staff member, according to Mrs. Jay C. Crotty of San Rafael, is when you are a staff member and are at the end of the buck passing.

Last year as the Marin Museum Association volunteer representative on the Youth in Arts board of directors Helen Crotty was involved in the planning of the second Youth in Arts season. When Youth in Arts, a series of cultural programs for school children, received a $10,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation, the president, Mrs. Gordon Dunn, called Mrs. Crotty with tha news.

"Joanne (Dunn) called to tell me we had the grant and could now hire somebody to run the office. She said, 'I'm not interested in the job. Are you? I said no, and then started thinking I'd like to take a trip to Europe to visit art museums, so I took the job," she said.

The part-time job is supposed to be 12 hours a week, but it is more like 12 hours a day, according to Mrs. Crotty.

All reservations are made through schools, and full or nearly full are performances of the "Wizard of Oz," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Babar the Elephant," and "Mr. Scrooge." She has processed nearly 22,000 reservations.

Mrs. Crotty has been active with the Marin Museum Association for seven years and has headed the classroom program, training volunteers to go into the school and teach art appreciation. She said she was dragged into the volunteer art program when her daughter, Heather, now 16, was a student at Coleman School.

She was always interested in art, but prior to that had little formal training, she said, but involvement in that program changed her life and began a consuming interest in art.

A native of San Francisco she grew up in Burlingame and attended Stanford University. When she was 20 years old she was executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of San Diego.

Couple Takes Journey To Hawaii After Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John Michael Nelson are on a wedding trip to Hawaii and will live in Mill Valley on their return.

The former Argene Maria Quartaroli of San Francisco became the bride of John Nelson in a Sept. 24 ceremony at SS Peter and Paul's Church in San Francisco.

The honor attendant was Cynthia Anzoategui of San Francisco. The bridesmaids were Juliann Atkinson of Sausalito, Jean Marie Smith of San Rafael and Marcia Nelson of Albuquerque, N.M., the bridegroom's sister.

Richard Johnson of Los Alamos, N.M., served as best man, and the ushers were Douglas McCurdy, Steven McDow and Jerry Duckor.

The reception was held at the Carnelia Room of the Bank of America World Headquarters in San Francisco.

MRS. JOHN M. NELSON
(Argene Quartaroli)

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio J. Quartaroli of San Francisco. She is a graduate of St. Vincent High School and Dominican College.

John is the son of Mrs. Dougwell Nelson of Albuquerque. He is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and received a graduate degree in psychology from San Jose State College. He is a representative for Parke Davis Pharmaceutical Co.

For Best Coffee

A well-scrubbed coffee pot makes the best coffee. Coffee oils cling to a coffee pot and quickly go stale. Serve coffee within an hour of brewing. And if you use an automatic coffee pot, maximum flavor is achieved by brewing at least half the capacity of the pot.

GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Important Message For Those Waiting For POW Bracelets

DEAR EVERYONE:

This is an important message to those of you who are still waiting for the Prisoner of War bracelets you ordered from VIVA this summer:

The tremendous flood of orders, resulting from (we're told) our two mentions in GENERATION RAP, created a backlog that is almost conquered, thanks to vast amounts of volunteer help, as well as — finally — the aid of a computer company.

Adding to the problem, a factory shipment of 40,000 bracelets was found defective and had to be returned.

If you have not yet received your POW bracelet, send a eminder to VIVA, 10966 LeConte, Los Angeles, Calif., 90024. A photocopy of your cancelled check or money order will help.

Should you have ordered from McClellan AFB, this address is: POW-MIA Headquarters, 2053 "R" Street, McClellan Air Force Base, California, 95652.

Thank you for your patience.

VIVA is again accepting orders, and the price is: $2.50 (nickel); $3.00 (copper). Each bracelet is imprinted with the name of a prisoner of war, and should be worn until all such prisoners are returned home. May that day be soon! — HELEN AND SUE

RAP:

To the fellow who lost his job because he neglected to include a conviction for possession of marijuana on his application blank: You'd better be thankful that it wasn't a felony charge in his state!

Even though you get a suspended sentecce on a "first offense"... even though you're caught smoking one cigarette, and have never "sold," if it's a felony offense, this is what you might lose:

The right to vote, the right to own a gun or run for public office.

The opportunity of ever being a doctor, dentist, pharmacist, policeman, realtor, school teacher, stockbroker, engineer, lawyer, among many other professions which rule out convicted felons.

You may never get a job where you must be bonded or licensed. You can't work for city, county or Federal government.

But you can still be drafted or enlist in military service, though you won't have a choice of service or positions.

The majority of states can still throw a felony at you for pot use. A misdemeanor charge for a first offense is bad enough (it knocks you off good jobs) but why make pot a felony when the police just hand out a tap on the wrist to a teenager popping pills? — AGAINST UNFAIR LAWS

A.U.L:

We, too, are against unfair laws, and at the top of our list is the one which makes "possession" of illegal drugs for private use a felony. Marijuana, reportedly less harmful than alcohol, should not be placed in the same category as heroin — and heroin users need rehabilitation more than jail!

"Decriminalization of marijuana" — that is, no arrest for possession of small amounts with no intent to sell — has been recommended by government drug-study commissions. Why not? — HELEN AND SUE

(Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel — or both, in care of the Independent-Journal, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.)

MRS. MICHAEL TOMASINI
(Sallie Jean Fisher)

Lake Tahoe Trip For Newlyweds

St. Joseph's Basilica in Alameda was the setting for the nuptials of Sallie Jean Fisher of Alameda and Michael Frederick Tomasini of Nicasio, Sept. 24.

Matron of honor for the bride was her sister, Mrs. Timothy Comstock. The other attendants were the bridegroom's sister, Lisa Tomasini, Mrs. Robert McAuliffe Jr., Linda Kamby, Devon Stewart and Cathleen Cornell.

Terry Tomasini served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Timothy Comstock, Harry Wetzel III, Philip Harris III, Kenneth McCorkle, John Pasisz and Thomas Talbot.

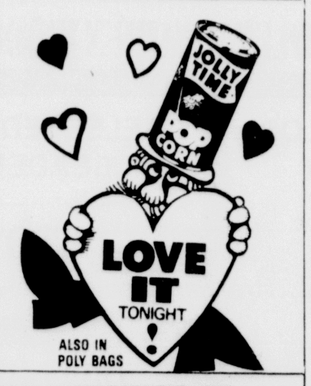

The couple will live in Davis after a Lake Tahoe wedding trip. The bridegroom is a graduate student at the University of California at Davis. The bride also is a graduate from U.C. Davis.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Russell Warren Fisher of Alameda and the late Mr. Fisher. Russell W. Fisher Jr. is her brother. Sallie was graduated from Alameda High School.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edward Tomasini of Nicasio and the brother of Jeffrey Tomasini. He is a graduate of Petaluma High School and U.C. Davis.

Grape Festival Set Saturday

The 73-year tradition, the Grape Festival, is not ending, as stated in a headline in yesterday's I-J.

The festival, sponsored by the 37 Sunny Hills Guilds, will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. in a field adjacent to the Marin County Civic Center Lagoon.

Avoid Anger If You Are Criticized

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — When someone criticizes you "for your own good" avoid denial, defense, attack or door slamming.

Instead parry for time to digest what has been said with a bland remark. "Do you really think so?" is the retort suggested by writer Mary Scott Welch.

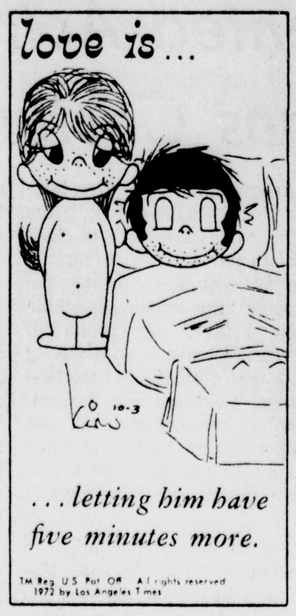

If your critic is being merely spiteful he will be bitterly disappointed by your cool, and if he is making a serious attempt to be useful to you he will be relieved by your reasonableness, according to the author.

Once you've listened carefully and invited practical suggestions, exit smiling and start assessing the criticism on an objective basis. Does it make sense? If so, how can you make good use of it? If not, how can you prevent it from nibbling away at your self-esteem? To find these answers, consider the source, the motives and the history.

SOME PEOPLE criticize destructively and woundingly, just for a feeling of power. In some cases, a critic may be talking about himself, in reverse. Suppose you quit smoking and your friend says you're self-righteous about it, or he calls you a square. His unconscious motive may be to excuse himself for his own inability to give up cigarettes.

All kinds of motives — spite, sour grapes, jealousy, envy, revenge — may hide behind "helpful" criticism. So before you let yourself get upset, consider the motives of your critic. Remember though, the venal and self-centered sometimes speak the truth, albeit with forked tongue.

Next consider the content.

Does it sound familiar? Have you heard some version of it before? If different people remark about the same thing, the criticism probably warrants attention on your part.

The trouble is that you may not recognize a repeated criticism when you hear it. Everybody tends to "forget" what is painful or even merely uncomfortable to remember — but you don't really forget it; it's there, buried in your subconscious, but you can't easily dredge it up. It continues its disruptive effect within your psyche.

HOW CAN you avoid that complicated sort of "forgetting?" Keep a written record of reproofs. Then you can check back to see if someone else made this same complaint to you; to help you decide on its validity you can check its history and the sources.

If the criticism turns out to be well-taken, you should know what you've been told is true. Hopefully, suitable action by you will follow. You can change your actions and reactions and make a brickbat into a building block.

First Stamp

The first trading stamp was a copper token.

THE SOFT touch for a second home — Ease into holidays by providing some low-care luxuries in your weekend home. This mountain cabin has been humanized with bright yellow Herculon indoor-outdoor carpet and fabrics made from olefin fibers. Both are designed to be non-absorbent so spots and spills can be whisked away.

INSIDE YOUR HOME

Dressing Up A Holiday

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY
(Distributed by General Features Corp.)

Your home away from home need not be as well appointed as the family mansion, but there's no need to overdo the bare bones look. Whether you own or rent a bungalow, mountain cabin or even a motorized home, there are some tricks you can learn to help achieve weekend comfort.

After the car or vehicle is completely packed with all the necessities and you're about to take off for the hideaway, slip back into the house and grab up an armful of small and large pillows. Include the decorative ones from the living room sofa, plus a few from the beds.

Toss them into the car or van and let the kids and adult drivers enjoy the cushioned comfort on the long trail ride. And when you reach your destination, they'll be one of the best decorative and comfort assets you've brought along. Remember, even though you're away from home, your body still appreciates some pampering.

Another way to give a short holiday the feel of real festivity is to create some temporary table covers. A decorative bed sheet is perfect. Buy a new one, such as those striking designs by Yves St. Laurent, Bill Blass, Vera or Pucci. They cost a lot less than ready-made tablecloths and have a lot more pizzazz. Best of all you can toss them in the local laundromat along with the messy beach towels and they'll come out sparkling.

If you own your own second house, you might find indoor-outdoor carpeting a good investment. Aside from the natural comfort of carpeting it is easier to clean up after youngsters have trudged through in bare feet or dusty boots. And you'll love the basic cheer of arriving at a country home to be greeted by a bright yellow or deep orange or blue floor covering. The mountain cabin illustrated today has a yellow Herculon olefin fiber type and in addition to using it on the floor the owners used a leftover fragment to upholster the front of the breakfast bar.

Carpet scraps can be used in other ways too. Small squares can be cut to cover cubes of unfinished wood. Spray-vinyl adhesive provides a sufficiently good bond for such jobs. A deck or outside balcony area is eligible for this indoor-outdoor carpet. I've seen Chicago high-rise balconies live right through a snowy winter with no damage to the carpeting.

Another idea for a second home is the co-ordinated table cover and pull-down shades made of olefin fiber fabrics. The shades were designed to conceal, and keep dust free, the open storage shelves above sink and stove. So you don't have to wash everything before you start enjoying.

Newlyweds To Make Their Home in Davis

The two exchanged vows in a late afternoon ceremony, with Noreen Ferrari of Kentfield as maid of honor and Norm Goldenberg as best man. The bridesmaids were Linda's sister, Lisa Trieber; the bridegroom's sister, Donna Pearlman, and Terry Hilgers, and Bonnie Cook. The ushers were the bride's brother Rick Trieber, and Jerry Conant, Steve Nicholson, Jeff Land and Richard Sonne.

MRS. MARK PEARLMAN
(Linda Ann Trieber)

A reception was given at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

The couple will live in Davis.

Linda, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trieber of Belvedere, attended Marin Catholic and Redwood High Schools and the University of California at Davis.

She is the great granddaughter of Mrs. Blase Clecak and the granddaughter of Mrs. Phil Modrich and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zalk, all of San Francisco.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney N. Pearlman of Salinas. He is a graduate of U.C. Davis and is continuing his education there. He is employed by Huston's Shoes in Davis.

Super Mother Had 69 Children

The greatest number of children produced by a mother is 69, according to the Guiness Book of World Records.

The woman, Mrs. Fyodor Vassilet, lived in Russia during the 19th Century. She had 16 pairs of twins, seven sets of triplets and four sets of quadruplets. Most of the children lived to adulthood.

Mrs. Vassilet became so renowned that she was presented at the court of Czar Alexander II.

Relations Mixup In Engagement Story

The story in Saturday's I-J announcing the engagement of Kathleen Marie Murphy and Lt. J. G. Raymond Eugene Mattson incorrectly stated that the future bride is the daughter of Stephen Murphy of Newport News, Va., Mrs. Harold Sagan of San Francisco and Michael, Gregory, Teresa, David and Kristine Murphy. They are her sisters and brothers.

Kathleen is the daughtr of Major (ret.) and Mrs. James S. Murphy of Novato.

Set Your Hair While You Soak

Set your hair while you soak. Put large rollers in your hair before you get in the shower or tub. The steam will give it enough of a bend to revive the style.

Heated curlers, handheld blow dryers, electric combs or brushes are other ways to quickly rev up a set or restyle the hair.

If there is no time you can always hide out-of-hand in need of work hair with a wig or a close turban or a hat.

The Short Dinner Dress Is Back

The short dinner dress is back. Even the short little black dinner dress is back, but with a difference. The 1972 version frequently is styled with a deep plunging neckline and wide tight band to define the waist. Shirred sleeves stop above the elbow.

Red wool is treated with a halter neckline that exposes lots of shoulder. Shiny lurex treated stripes in white and mint with a tank suit top is another version of the easy night-time style, according to Women's Wear Daily.

Spray-On Helps Protect Fabrics

A new spray-on helps provide protection against soil, grease, food and water stains. The maker says it will not affect fabric texture, color or porosity if used as directed.

It is safe for wood and metal trim as well as foam and sponge rubber padding. Or, it can be used on clothing, slipcovers, draperies and the like, too.

I-J OFFERS GUIDE FOR PRESS CHAIRMEN

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

Moving Is Reason For Depression

By JAMES CARRIER

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Psychiatrists say moving is far more stressful than generally believed and is a contriuting factor in depression among American women.

"When you ask a bunch of depressed people about events that have occurred in their life recently, moving was about the third most frequent event," said Myrna M. Weissman, codirector of Yale University's Depression Research Unit.

"In no way should we say that depression is caused by moving," she said. "It could be a contributing factor, we feel it is substantial."

Dr. Weissman's studies, outlined in "Society" and the Yale Alumni Magazine, dealt with depressed women. Those women who had been through a move generally didn't connect their illness to the move, Dr. Weissman and coworker Eugene S. Paykel wrote.

THE WOMEN attributed it, instead, to financial problems, loneliness, marital friction, career frustrations, but "almost always, however, these problems were the result of poor adaptation to the stresses created by moving.

"These women didn't associate their depression with the move because moving is an accepted part of American life," the psychiatrists wrote.

Twenty per cent of the U.S. population, 40 million persons, moves at least once per year, according to census figures.

Keep It Healthy

One minute of brushing is a good way to keep hair healthy. Bend from the waist down and with a bristle brush start from the neck and brushup to the ends.

MARRIED IN STOCKTON RITE

Rosilyn Bewley and Alfred Paul Otto III of Ross were married in a ceremony in the garden of her parents home in Stockton. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Bewley and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Otto Jr. of Ross. They are on a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe. (Covello photo)

Barbara Leigh Tucker Engagement Announced

Dr. and Mrs. I.N. Tucker of Greenbrae have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Leigh Tucker, to Jack Edward Lee of Santa Rosa.

The couple are planning to be married on Dec. 23.

Barbara, who is working toward a teaching credential at California State College, Sonoma, is a graduate of Redwood High School and the University of California at Berkeley.

She is the sister of Kenneth, Bruce and Carol Tucker of Greenbrae and Mrs. J. Anthony Guichard of San Francisco.

Jack's parents are Mrs. Gladys Lee of Santa Rosa and Roy W. Lee of Antioch. He is the brother of Duard and Donald Lee and Mrs. Mary Bell. A graduate of Petaluma High School and U.C. at Berkeley, he received the master's degree in physical therapy from Stanford Univeristy. He is employed with Lee Brothers Construction Co. Inc., in Petaluma.

Old Antiwar Resolution Is Revived

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate has dusted off a year-old policy resolution on Vietnam—and given it teeth—in an effort to force President Nixon to set a date for United States' disengagement from the Indochina war.

The measure was brought up at a night session Monday before passage of a $74.6 billion military appropriations bill. It swiftly passed without a murmur of opposition. Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., who sponsored it, said if the amendment becomes law, President Nixon and his agents could be held personally liable if they continue to defy the will of Congress for a swift end to the war.

The vaguely worded amendment, of uncertain legal consequence, was all that war critics were able to salvage from a year-long drive to legislate an end to the war. A week ago, they lost by three votes in a showdown on an amendment to require total U.S. withdrawal in four months.

Earlier Monday, antiwar forces lost 55-26 when Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., sought to cut off funds for the aerial bombardment of Indochina.

Refusing to quit, Mathias strode into the chamber just before the final vote on the defense bill and read his amendment. It passed by voice vote.

The Mathias amendment declares that "none of the funds appropriated by this act (the defense bill) may be expended in Indochina for military operations, not in accordance with" a 1971 antiwar amendment passed by Congress and signed by the President.

That measure, which Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield sponsored, establishes the "policy of the United States" that all U.S. military operations in Indochina must be ended "at the earliest practicable date" and that the President should establish a final date for withdrawal of all forces from Indochina contingent on only one factor: release of U.S. prisoners.

When Congress approved it originally as part of the 1971 defense money bill, Nixon said when he signed the bill that he was not constitutionally bound by its conditions.

But Mathias said if the same thing happens this year, the President and his agents would be "personally liable if they bought bombs or paid troops" in violation of the amendment, now that it is backed up by the Congressional power over the purse.

The Mathias measure could be dropped, however, when House and Senate negotiators meet to draft the final version of the defense bill.

MUSIC REVIEW

One Hit, 3 Misses In Chamber Recital

By WILLIAM CLARK

A hit and three very close misses was the score at the chamber recital last night by violinist Anne Crowden and pianist Donald Pippin at Sonoma State College's Ives Hall of Music.

A British composer new to me, Thea Musgrave, was represented in a superb performance of "Colloquy," an intense, lyrical piece in a dissonant idiom reminiscent of the 1940s. The performers handled the interplay of fragmented melodic lines with great sensitivity. The pedal was expertly employed by Pippin to produce magical sounds throughout the four movements, and the vitality of the whole brought enthusiastic response from the audience.

All ingredients seemed right in the opening Mozart Sonata in B-flat, but they didn't quite jell. Delicacy of phrasing, freely relaxed tempos, clarity of detail and a restrained dynamic scale this time added up to only a didactic experience, perhaps because the rather lush piano sound tended to swallow up the violin.

Miss Crowden makes a sure, fine, sometimes exquisite sound on the violin, but does not have an exceptionally big, rich tone. Balance was a problem throughout the concert, nowhere more apparent than in the slow movement of the Faure Sonata in A, played so expressively on the violin that the piano seemed intrusive. The scherzo was wonderfully light and airy, but in the outside movements there was a tendency on Pippin's part to keep things pushing nervously ahead, even when it was not necessary.

Pippin's solo performance of the Chopin Ballade in A-flat was straight and direct, letting the piano sounds speak for themselves without much personal meddling. The effect was somewhat detached, but pleasant.

McGovern Draws Praise

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sargent Shriver praised his running mate George McGovern Monday night for his honesty and truthfulness but said it may be true that he doesn't have the charisma of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Talking to 1,500 exuberant supporters in the gymnasium of Mother of Sorrows High School in traditionally Republican suburban Blue Island, Shriver described McGovern as a "man of sincerity, honesty, and truthfulness."

"He's sort of square," Shriver said. "His face is square."

"Some say he doesn't have the charisma of my brother in law, President John Kennedy."

"And I think it's true," he said during the applause following the mention of Kennedy. "I'd say maybe that's true, I don't know," Shriver added when the clapping quieted down.

"We've had the old Nixon and the new Nixon, the old, old Nixon and the new, new Nixon. We'd like to have a president with one image—to be his own man, one character, one personality and only one face."

"We need truth and honesty in the White House," he said.

"Nobody seems to be disturbed about it. People don't feel moral indignation ... that's a bad sign for our country when people are not concerned about this kind of skulduggery around the office of the president."

Earlier in Rock Island, Shriver told a group of 1000 gathered on the lawn of the county courthouse that the sale of wheat to Russia cost American farmers $180 million.

Meany Can't Punish Union For Backing McGovern, Judge Says

DENVER (UPI)—A federal court Monday stopped AFL-CIO President George Meany from punishing a Colorado union affiliate for endorsing Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern.

U.S. District Judge Fred Winner said the Colorado Labor Council's endorsement of McGovern was its own business. He issued a preliminary injunction forbidding Meany from placing his own man in charge of the council.

"The scales tip decidedly in the plaintiff's favor," Winner ruled. He said his injunction was aimed at stopping Meany "from taking control or attempting to take control of the CLC."

As the ruling was handed down, it was announced Meany had ordered the California AFL-CIO to rescind a resolution calling for the defeat of President Nixon. The California AFL-CIO scheduled a special convention for Oct. 19 to act on the order.

The labor boss said the resolution violated the spirit of the AFL-CIO's declared neutrality.

"A call for the defeat of one candidate is equivalent to endorsement of the other...", he said.

In the Colorado ruling, Winner said AFL-CIO affiliates were "free to endorse and support any candidate of their choice." He said Meany had overstepped his authority in attempting to have affiliates follow his policy of neutrality.

AFL-CIO attorneys argued that Meany, as head of the national labor organization, had the power to interpret union rules regarding endorsements by affiliates.

"We are not talking about a rule," Winner said. "President Meany's interpretation of the word 'affiliates' amounted to an attempted amendment of the AFL-CIO constitution. He has no power to individually amend the organization's constitution."

Colorado Labor Council President Herrick Roth, suspended by Meany for refusing to rescind the endorsement, said the court decision, in effect, stripped "arbitrary authority from people (who) impose decisions from the top down."

Roth said Meany's stance on the McGovern endorsement "has no place in the American labor movement.

"The structure has to be devised so the (union) leadership reflects what the people believe," Roth said.

Meany Orders Spurs State Labor Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California AFL-CIO Monday called a special convention to act on an order by AFL-CIO President George Meany to withdraw a statement calling for defeat of President Nixon in the Nov. 7 election.

The convention will be held Oct. 19—just 18 days before the election.

John F. Henning, executive secretary-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, released Meany's letter Monday along with the announcement of the special convention to be held in Sacramento.

The California Labor Council on Political Education (COPE) adopted a resolution on Sept. 7 which said in part: "The good of labor and the nation requires the defeat of Richard Nixon in the presidential election November 7."

Meany sent a letter to Henning dated Sept. 25 saying that the action violated AFL-CIO policy adopted on July 19 against endorsement of either President Nixon or his Democratic opponent, Sen. George S. McGovern.

However, Meany said "...a call for the defeat of one candidate is equivalent to endorsement of the other, and the substance, as well as the letter, of AFL-CIO policy on national issues must be followed by state and local central bodies.

"The California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, is therefore hereby advised that it must rescind the statement adopted by California Labor COPE calling for the defeat of President Nixon."

New Hampshire Drops Sweeps

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)—The granddaddy of all state-operated sweepstakes programs is being dropped by New Hampshire.

The last Granite Stakes race for $3 tickets will be Oct. 14. The $3 program grossed about $900,000 this year while the lottery tickets brought in more than $6.5 million.

With administrative costs subtracted, funds from the gambling programs are used for education. Sweepstakes revenues make up about 1 per cent of the total used for education.

The Sweepstakes Commission voted unanimously Monday to discontinue the program because "sales just don't justify continuation of it," said a spokesman.

Javits At S.F. State— Raps 'Unwise' McGovern

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sen. Jacob Javits, R-New York, told a student audience Monday that Sen. George McGovern was "unwise and shortsighted" to urge that the United States withdraw half of the troops it maintains in Europe.

Javits held that maintaining such forces in Europe "is in the interest of our allies as much as in the American interest...at least through the transition decade of the 1970s"

Speaking at California State University at San Francisco, Javits declared that "In my judgment, Senator McGovern's call unilaterally to pull half of our forces out of Europe is unwise and shortsighted."

He noted that President Nixon had resisted the demand by the Democratic presidential candidate, adding that Nixon "is right and responsive to the highest interests of our nation and world peace."

Javits said this nation is in the "throes of a deep identity crisis."

"The frustration of many of our highest hopes in the 1960s has shaken our confidence and exacerbated tensions and visions within our society," he said.

"The prescription for America is not to turn inward and further to exacerbate these tensions."

"President Nixon's historic rapprochement with the People's Republic of China has established the necessary precondition for a major lowering of the American profile and involvement on the Asian mainland," Javits asserted.

"It has made possible a rapprochement between Japan and China—the final major unfinished business of World War II in Asia."

Rohnert Park Council Approves Proposal

The Rohnert Park City Council last night approved the general concept of a 680-acre development that could double the city's population within 10 years.

Shapell Industries of Northern California presented tentative plans for the land in the northern section of the city and said approval of the concept would be necessary before more money is spent on actual plans.

The council unanimously endorsed the concept and said it would agree to plans for some homes on 6,000 square foot lots although the current minimum is 6,500 square feet. They said the promised donation of 40 acres for park sites would balance the smaller lots.

James W. Rogers, representing the developer, said custom homes on large lots will be built around the golf course. Plans also call for apartments, townhouses and a small neighborhood shopping center.

Rogers said the first phase will include mostly single family homes and that the entire development could be finished in six to eight years if the market continues to develop.

More detailed plans will be presented to the planning commission along with requests for rezonings.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

APARTMENTS — Approved the rezoning request of Forhim Corp. to permit 235 condominium units on 25 acres north of Rohnert Park expressway and east of the golf course.

PARK — Directed City Mgr. Peter M. Gallinan to get a firm price on 100 acres of the John Rapoza Ranch in the Sonoma Mountain foothills for a possible regional park. The council heard that the Sonoma County Parks Department also looked at the site and may consider joining the city in buying and developing the land.

PLANNER — Agreed to hire part-time planner Thomas Cordill on a full-time basis for October at a salary of $1,500.

MEETING — Adjourned to the next regular meeting on Oct. 16th at 7 p.m.

Viet Civilians Caught In Military Crossfire

SAIGON (UPI)—Hundreds of screaming civilians today got caught in the crossfire of battling South Vietnamese militiamen and Communist troops who cut a highway about 25 miles northeast of Saigon, field reports said.

At least six civilians were killed and 28 wounded in the fighting on Highway 1 near the district headquarters of Huong Loc. Hundreds of minibuses, three-wheeled Lambrettas and other vehicles were backed up for more than 10 miles along the highway, the reports said.

On the central coast Monday, military sources said today, Viet Cong troops tried to stampede a herd of water buffalo through a government ranger base but the stubborn animals balked at charging the barbed wire perimeter. A U.S. adviser described it as a "Wild West show."

The U.S. command said a swingwing F111 fighter-bomber, the controversial jet brought back into the war last week after persistent mechanical bugs forced its withdrawal from Indochina four years ago, crashed from unknown causes Thursday on its first combat mission over North Vietnam. Its two crewmen were missing.

Military spokesmen said 12 U.S. B52 bombers overnight blasted Communist troop concentrations with 360 tons of explosives between 25 and 32 miles from downtown Saigon, and reported a string of North Vietnamese shellings in the upper Mekong Delta 20 to 35 miles southwest of the capital.

The sources said the Communists had begun a campaign to cut roads near Saigon and carry out terrorist actions in the refugee-swollen city of more than three million.

The U.S. Command reported American warplanes flew more than 280 bombing raids over North Vietnam Monday. Hanoi Radio monitored in Saigon said a Navy A7 Corsair jet was shot down in one of the raids over Nghe An Province and claimed it was the 3,964th U.S. plane downed by the North Vietnamese since 1964. The U.S. Command acknowledges 1,039 planes lost over the North in the same period.

One of the strikes Monday hit a military installation 12 miles northeast of the base at Dien Bien Phu, scene of the final French defeat in Indochina in 1954. Military spokesmen said pilots reported touching off several major fires in the attack 184 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Italy surrendered in World War II on Sept. 8, 1943.

U.S. Command Insists F111s Are 'Operational'

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command today denied that F111 fighter-bombers have been relieved of combat missions over North Vietnam following the unexplained crash of one of the controversial planes and said they were "operational."

A spokesman for Gen. Frederick Weyand, U.S. troop commander in Vietnam, said the planes were "available" for combat and were conducting daily flights from their Takhli, Thailand, base. But the spokesman, citing security restrictions, refused to state whether the planes were actually being used in combat over North Vietnam.

"The F111 has not been grounded," an Air Force spokesman at the Pentagon in Washington said today, citing the U.S. high command in Saigon as the source of his information. "They are available for combat missions."

The denial followed earlier news reports today that the F111s have been removed from combat and are flying training missions only. The command announced today that one of the swingwing jets, back in the air war after a four-year absence due to mechanical bugs, crashed Thursday from unknown causes over North Vietnam on its first mission and its two crewmen are missing.

U.S. command policy is to report combat flights only after such flights have been completed and pilots have reported "significant" bomb damage. Command spokesmen are the sole judges as to what damage is "significant," the officer said.

Spokesmen did say, however, that the F111s flew at least one combat mission after Thursday's crash. The plane went down from "unknown" causes, spokesmen said.

The later flights apparently ruled out any possibility that the planes were pulled out of combat because of the crash.

Firemen's Ball Set Oct. 21

The Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its 18th annual Firemen's Ball Oct. 21 at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Music for dancing will be played by the Maury Wolohan Band.

Jack Forster, secretary of the volunteers, said the tickets are available at the fire department. Profits from the ball, which usually attracts more than 500 people, will go for "health and welfare of the fire department," said Forster.

2 Boaters Lost As Search Fails

A fishing expedition on the Marin shores of San Francisco Bay ended in tragedy yesterday with the apparent drowning of two persons.

A Coast guard spokesman said one of the victims, an 18-year-old girl, fell or slipped into the bay and a male companion jumped in to rescue her.

Despite a search that lasted into the night and resumed early today, both the girl, Cindy Carter, and her would-be rescuer, James Southerland, about 45, both of San Pablo, were still missing today.

The Coast Guard said Miss Carter tumbled into the bay's chilly waters at Tennessee Point near Golden Gate Bridge about 5:30 p.m. When Southerland jumped in, Miss Carter's brother, Larry, threw a line toward the couple but was unable to reach them.

Carter made his way up a cliff and alerted a military police detachment at Fort Cronkhite. The Coast Guard was summoned, and a helicopter and air cushion vehicle searched the area until darkness.

The Point Chico, an 82-foot Coast Guard patrol boat, arrived soon after nightfall and searched without result until late last night. The vessel returned to the area with a helicopter early today.

Town Status Sought By San Anselmo Aide

A San Anselmo Planning Commissioner last night urged that the city become a town.

Commissioner John H. Colteaux believed the designation "Town of San Anselmo" would be more in keeping with the community's atmosphere, according to John T. O'Rourke, assistant city engineer.

O'Rourke said Colteaux got the idea from the city fathers of Fairfax, who recently decided to call their community a town.

San Anselmo incorporated as a town in 1907 but changed its designation to "city" several decades ago, O'Rourke said.

Although one commissioner objected to the expense of changing names on maps, stationery and signs, the commission agreed to discuss the idea on Oct. 16, O'Rourke said.

San Anselmo Planning Commission Also:

ALCOHOL — Approved Patricia Barbera's application for a wine and beer permit at Plank Delicatessen on Mariposa Avenue on condition operating hours be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., capacity be limited to 48 persons and six off-street parking spaces be provided. Also approved was Ernest Meier's application for a wine and beer permit for a restaurant at 81-85 Red Hill Avenue on condition three off-street parking spaces be provided.

ELKHORN WAY — Held over to Oct. 16 Dorothy Mock's application for a proposed parking platform on Elkhorn Way.

LAUREL AVENUE — Denied Wilburn Y. Wallace's variance request for a frontyard setback for parking at 437 Laurel Avenue after Wallace failed to show adequate hardship, according to O'Rourke.

Train Derails; Hogs Run Wild

VERNON, Calif. (UPI)—A freight train loaded with hogs derailed Monday, crushing at least 500 animals to death in the wreckage, and freeing hundreds of porkers to go squealing through the streets.

Police and slaughter house employes chased an estimated 800 pigs through the area, waving leather straps as they tried to herd the hogs into makeshift pens, hastily constructed with boards from a nearby lumber yard.

The train wreck and pig roundup blocked the Union Pacific track for four hours.

Reno Man In Guilty Drugs Plea

A 25-year-old Reno man pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to misdemeanor charges of having drug equipment and being in a place where drugs were being used. A felony count of having marijuana was dismissed.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner accepted the plea bargain with Frank Harry McKelvie after Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman said there wasn't enough evidence to support the felony charge.

McKelvie is to be sentenced Nov. 21 to no more than 30 days in jail and probation.

McKelvie and Richard Lee Morgan, 27, were arrested July 12 by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 near Marin Civic Center because their car was traveling erratically.

Morgan, who was traveling around, avoiding arrest on Arizona charges, was earlier sentenced to state prison for having a small quantity of marijuana.

The prison sentence was made concurrent with eight to 10 years in prison imposed by a judge in Maricopa County, Ariz., on a charge of importing 700 pounds of marijuana.

Sausalito's James Bond Released

Sausalito's own James Bond was released from probation 18 months early yesterday after he told a Marin Superior Court judge he can't get another job as a probation officer while he is on probation.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner cut short three years on probation for Kenneth Theodore Chelton, 42, who went by the name of the fictional British spy in the telephone book.

"I was 15 years in the probation field and I can't get back into the field until I get off probation," Chelton told the judge.

He was suspended as night superintendent of San Francisco Juvenile Hall following his arrest by Sausalito Police at his home March 27, 1970.

Police said they received a complaint about noise at his residence, found him badly beaten, but arrested him when they found a World War II machine gun.

He was fined $500 and placed on probation in May 1971 on a misdemeanor charge of having an illegal weapon.

'Adventurous' Thief Draws Jail Sentence

A Stinson Beach garbageman who said he "did it for adventure" was ordered yesterday to spend six months in jail on felony counts of grand theft and burglary.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court also placed Richard Warren Lacaze, 20, on probation for five years and ordered him to repay the victims of five burglaries. Value of items he took was estimated at $1,700.

Lacaze, whose mother operates a garbage service in Tamalpais Valley, Muir Beach, Stinson Beach and Bolinas, was arrested in March with coworker Dennis Michael Murphy, 22, following an investigation of about 25 burglaries in the communities.

Lacaze's attorney, Peter E. Mitchell Jr., said that despite the investigation, his client was responsible for only five.

Sheriff's inspectors said the two apparently saw things they wanted while collecting garbage, then took them.

Murphy is still awaiting trial on felony charges of stealing a motorcycle and concealing stolen property.

Girls Report Attack By Man With A Knife

Two 13-year-old San Anselmo girls were attacked by a man with a knife at the intersection of San Francisco Boulevard and Santa Cruz Avenue at 5:12 a.m. Saturday, San Anselmo police reported yesterday.

According to police, the man — who wore a dark jacket, black boots and had a bandana over his face — jumped from a wooded area and pressed a knife into the stomach of one of the girls. He fled toward Memorial Park when they began screaming, police said.

A beginning course in sign language as used by and with deaf persons will begin at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry.

Interested persons may register at the first class. Instructor Jerry Baker, a missionary to the deaf, said students will learn about 600 basic signs in the 10-week course.

Road Projects Are Announced

Projects in progress on Highway 101 which will alter traffic patterns or affect the flow of traffic tomorrow were announced today by the State Division of Highways.

Sections of the freeway involved are:

1. Richardson Bay Bridge, the southbound middle lane will be closed from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for welding.

2. San Rafael, the northbound outside lane will be closed from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for leveling of bumps.

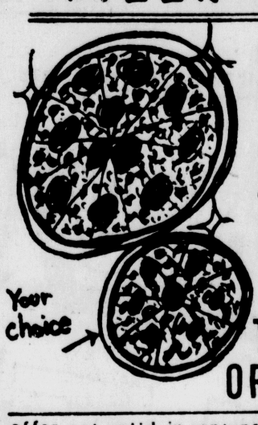

95-Day Strike Of Airline Is Ended

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) —After a 95-day strike, some pilots and other personnel of Northwest Airlines were back at work today. The airline promised that most of its service wuld be restored within a week.

The airline said it will give priority to restoring service to North Dakota, Montana, and Winnipeg, Man.,—areas which had little regular commercial air service during the strike by Northwest's 1,619 pilots. To those areas it hoped to restore some service within a day or two.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THE PLEA BARGAIN

Is Speedy Method Legitimate Or Not?

By LARRY MOWELL
(Second of two articles)

Is plea bargaining a plot to turn the courthouse over to the criminals, to loose the bad guys on the good guys as soon as possible, or is it a legitimate method of conviction?

The answer lies in the sentence, a melding of contradictory theory and conflicting forces which is supposed to protect society, rehabilitate the criminal and serve as an example to others.

Not surprisingly, everyone isn't happy with the results. The "law and order" faction insists that if judges would only throw the book at criminals, there would be more respect for the law and less crime.

But Marin judges said the dissatisfaction with sentencing is not the fault of plea bargaining. Judge Samuel W. Gardiner said the sentences formed in plea negotiation "are not substantially different" from those following a trial conviction.

Plea bargaining "does not involve giving away anything," he said, "but it does eliminate a lot of abortive trials because a jury won't convict and it does eliminate a lot of fighting on the part of defendants panicked by the prospect of a maximum sentence, however unlikely that maximum sentence may really be."

Rather the dearth of prison sentences is attributable to penal theorists who maintain that if a man is imprisoned, he will eventually be released worse than he went in. Wouldn't it be better to place him on probation and try to make him a productive member of society, they argue.

The judges worry about both the punitive and rehabilitative sides of the coin, but apparently Joe Citizen doesn't. All he wants is to leave home without having it burglarized and walk the street without being mugged, raped and robbed.

"I think people expect the courts to be more punitive," Henry J. Broderick, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, said.

What people don't realize he said, is that judges have to weigh other factors than punishment.

"The misconception arises from the fact that judges aren't encouraged to send people to prison," he said. "Whether that is right or wrong, that is the way things are going."

Given the statewide effort to cut the population of non-rehabilitative prisons and the prevailing penal philosophy of handling criminals at the local level with jail time and probation subsidized by the state, judges have a fertile field for plea negotiating.

Defendants "are all shaky. For every felony you've got a potential state prisoner" Judge E. Warren McGuire said. The guilty are willing to trade their slight chance of acquittal by a jury for the assurance they won't be packed off to prison, according to McGuire.

Even if a judge has to pare a couple of months of jail off a proposed sentence to obtain a guilty plea, it is worth it, McGuire said. "What is the real difference between six and nine months when you look at the overall picture?"

He said jail is not rehabilitative and ceases to have much extra punitive effect after six months.

Furthermore, McGuire said, probation and a short jail term aren't the good deal people think they are. "It is the worst thing you can get," he said.

A man on probation for a felony has state prison hanging over his head even for a minor violation until the probation expires. Probation is imposed sometimes for up to five years.

Probation has the further advantages of allowing a probation officer to tailor a rehabilitation program for the criminal, but proponents of prison, notably Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, claim there is nothing like a dose of prison.

Judge Broderick said the district attorney's inflexible state prison recommendations mean the prosecution isn't much help in deciding a sentence during plea bargaining.

Public defender Haroid J. Truett further condemned the district attorney approach to plea bargaining.

"I think at the present time it is being distorted here in Marin County not for legal, but for political purposes. So long as the judge is acting as the intermediary here, the D.A. can play like Pontius Pilate and wash his hands of the whole thing."

One of the reasons judges don't usually follow the prison recommendations of the district attorney was pointed out by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner. Judges have frequent sentencing conferences with psychiatrists and criminologists to inform each judge what the prevailing attitude is on sentencing.

The idea is to produce some uniformity in sentencing so that a defendant's sentence doesn't depend too much on what judge he gets. Lockup, considered counterproductive, is no longer the essential element in sentences, the judge said in a letter to Chief Justice Donald R. Wright of the state Supreme Court.

The goal can be broken down into three very simple objectives: It is to rehabilitate, it is to deter others, it is to incarcerate the incorrigible. These, then, need to be balanced, but if all of us will take a good look and the public will take a good look at the fact that there are these three goals and no others, if they will then consider the fact that lockup is not rehabilitative, I think they can see somewhat better what the reasons may be for plea negotiations," he wrote.

Sweet Adelines Will 'Share A Song' Thursday

Marin Sweet Adelines will celebrate their national "Silver Anniversary Share a Song Day" with an informal concert at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Boardwalk shopping center in Tiburon.

The appearance, also sponsored by the Boardwalk Merchants Association, will be followed by another songfest by the group on the 4 p.m. ferry from Tiburon to San Francisco and back.

Salon Owner Pleads Guilty In Grand Theft

A 28-year-old Sacramento beauty salon owner pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a felony count of grand theft provided he receives no more than 60 days in jail.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner scheduled sentencing of Terry Tuey for Nov. 27 after dismissing a second count of grant theft and one of petty theft in accord with a plea bargain.

Tuey was charged in August with taking a $5,000 ruby ring, a $300 diamond ring, a $200 gold chain and $40 in coins from J. Gordon Levinson, Larry E. Lenschmidt and Gordon Johnson Jr., all of 260 Spencer Avenue, Sausalito.

Sausalito Quiz To Parents On Switchover Of Schools

Parents of upper grade students in Sausalito School District will be surveyed to determine how many would like their children to attend Edna Maguire Middle School in Mill Valley next year, the Sausalito school board decided last night.

Mill Valley and Sausalito school officials have been meeting to discuss additional cooperation between the two districts. A proposal to exchange upper grade students is one plan being studied, although no decision has been made. If initiated, the exchange would be on a voluntary basis and no child would be forced to change districts.

According to trustee Douglas B. Martin, the board agreed to send letters to parents of fifth, sixth and seventh-graders asking their views on such a program.

The parents will receive postcards asking if they would like to send their youngsters to Edna Maguire, both if transportation is provided by the district or if parents must provide their own transportation.

The district is asking that the cards be returned by Oct. 16 so survey results can be discussed at the next meeting of Mill Valley and Sausalito officials, scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 19 in the middle school.

The Sausalito School District Board Also:

TEACHERS — Approved hiring Shizue Grandinettis as a half-time teacher in the district's enrichment center, and the employment of Joan Yearby as a half-time teacher in the learning disabilities program.

TOLIVER — Authorized the superintendent to recruit a teacher to replace James T. Toliver Jr. for the 1972-73 school year. Toliver is on a leave of absence to become director of the Oakland Street Academy, sponsored by the Bay Area Urban League.

AIDED — Approved hiring an educational aide for Martin Luther King School and an aide to serve as a playground supervisor at Bayside School.

NEW POSITIONS — Approved establishment of these new positions: a head custodian-maintenance man for each of the district's two schools and a head bus driver-custodian-maintenance man. Both will be paid $20 a month in addition to their salaries as custodian-maintenance man and bus driver-custodian.

TRANSFERS — Approved transfers out of the district for one student and transfers into the district for two students.

MEETING — Adjourned until 8 p.m. tomorrow. At that time the board will complete its agenda.

'Reformed' Second Offender Will Serve Three-Month Jail Term

A former convict who began writing bad checks four months after his release from prison was ordered yesterday to serve three months in jail by a Marin Superior Court judge who was convinced he was reformed.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner also placed Ronald Lynn Holloway, 29, of San Rafael, on probation for five years and ordered him to pay for the $1,890 in bad checks he wrote.

Deputy probation officer Jesse Johnson said Holloway has made a "real turnabout" since his wife threatened to divorce him over his criminal activity.

"I don't accept this kind of story very often," Gardiner said. "Nobody is going to take a chance on you again. I'm not sure anybody should now."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Jerry R. Herman was also swayed. He reduced the district attorney's recommendation from a year in jail to six months.

Holloway pleaded guilty in July to the forged check charges that followed his arrest by San Anselmo police Jan. 21. He was linked to checks passed at the United Market in San Anselmo in December and two forged checks totaling more than $1,600 passed at Marin banks in January.

He told Johnson he wrote the checks because he had no money after a bout with hepatitis.

'Practice Burning' At Hilarita Project Asked

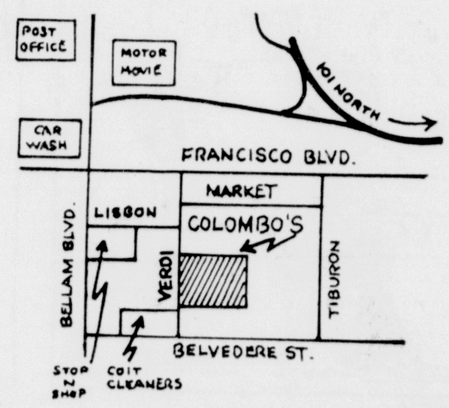

A Tiburon Fire Department request to burn buildings at the Hilarita housing project as part of a training program will be considered by the Marin County Housing Authority board, meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Kruger Pines project, 47 North Knoll Road in Mill Valley.

The board also will make plans for its Oct. 17 presentation to the county board of supervisors. At that time, the agency will present plans from five developers to complete development of Marin City.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

WHO'S WHO TODAY? Try these clues and sing "Happy Birthday" when you've got it. Our mystery man is a New Yorker, tall, dark, and handsome, with an aristocratic air . . . born Oct. 3, 1925, the son of a West Point military instructor and grandson of a U.S. Senator. At 14 he began writing, at 19 he was published, and today his credits include screen, TV, and stage plays . . . as well as essays, poems, song lyrics, short stories, reviews, and novels. He clashed once with Bill Buckley on TV. Wrote "Myra Breckenridge." Got it? Okay . . . blow out 47 candles on your cake, Gore Vidal!

FAMOUS BIRTHDAYS TODAY

1. GEORGE BANCROFT, historian and statesman, lived to the age of 91. Besides writing a definitive history of the United States, he served in the cabinet of President Polk. On his birthday, does anyone know whether he founded the (A) U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis; (B) U.S. Military Academy at West Point; or (C) Bancroft Library at Berkeley?

2. WILLIAM C. GORGAS, born this day in 1854, became a U.S. Surgeon General and spent his life of 66 years fighting disease. After Walter Reed discovered mosquitoes carried yellow fever, Gorgas organized and led the Army sanitary team that wiped them out of the swamps, making possible the building of the (A) Brazilian Railway; (B) U.S. Naval Base at Cuba; (C) Panama Canal.

3. THOMAS WOLFE, who celebrated an Oct. 3 birthdate, only lived to the age of 38. Yet this talented English teacher left his mark in American literature with his very first novel: (A) The Magnificent Ambersons; (B) Look Homeward, Angel; or (C) Arrowsmith.

ANSWERS

1. A (Annapolis); 2. C (Panama Canal); 3. B (Look Homeward, Angel).

Oct. 3, 1972

Terry Purcell
Peggy Cavanagh
Paul Cane

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's Hard To Blame Defenders For Mistakes In This Hand

"Any shift at all would have beaten me," South proclaimed smugly after he had made four spades with today's hand. He was right, but it was hard to blame the defenders for their mistake.

Opening lead – ♡ K

DROPPED HEARTS

When West opened the king of hearts, South casually dropped the seven of hearts from his hand. This unnecessarily high card, known to bridge players as a false card, persuaded West to continue the suit.

West had seen his partner follow suit with the nine of hearts to the first trick. This would be the beginning of an encouraging signal if East also held the three or the deuce of hearts. When South produced the seven of hearts, West thought that South had no lower hearts and that East therefore held the three and the two.

WEST HOODWINKED

Convinced that his partner was encouraging a continuation, West led the ace of hearts at the second trick. This gave South his contract. He could win the third heart, draw trumps and give up one club trick.

If West had led a different suit at the second trick, the defenders would have won three hearts and a club sooner or later. East would gain the lead with the king of clubs and would return the jack of hearts to defeat the contract.

This false card was a very elementary weapon, but it worked, as it usually does. As declarer, you can often deceive your opponents by following suit with a higher card than necessary. As a defender, you should keep an eye out for a false card when declarer is experienced and crafty.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner deals and bids one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ - A Q 7 5
♥ - 8 5 4
♦ - 10
♣ - A J 10 9 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. Show the longer of your two suits first. If you decide to show the spades later, your partner will avoid raising this secondary suit unless he has four-card support.

Controller Sounds Warning On Prop. 14

BURLINGAME (UPI)—State Controller Houston Flournoy says passage of the Watson initiative would mean an average 15 per cent cutback in statewide school support or a big state tax increase.

"In either event," Flournoy said Saturday, "every school district in California would be placed in a strait-jacket of uniformity by the Watson Initiative prohibition of any additional local effort to raise money for schools."

The initiatve, Proposition 14 on the Nov. 7 ballot, would pace limits on property taxation.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE HIGHWAY AND TRANSPORTATION DISTRICT NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT sealed bids or proposals will be received by the Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District at its mailing address, Box 9000, Presidio Station, San Francisco, California 94129, or by delivery to its office at the Administration Building, Toll Plaza, Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco, California until 2:00 o'clock PM on Friday, October 20, 1972 at which time bids will be publicly opened and read for the following:

All items listed above to be supplied thirty (30) to sixty (60) days after contract award.

Bids shall be submitted on District's "Form of Proposal" enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "FARE BOXES," plainly endorsed with bidder's name. They must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond, as described in the contract documents, which shall be forfeited to the District if the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into a contract awarded him.

Bids will be examined and reported to the Board of Directors of the District at a meeting within thirty (30) days after the bid opening. The Board of Directors reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding procedure. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the date bids are reported to the Board of Directors. Each bidder will be notified of award.

The contract is subject to a financial assistance contract between the District and the United States Department of Transportation.

Any name appearing on the Comptroller General's list of ineligible contractors for Federally financed and assisted construction is not an eligible bidder.

Specifications, forms of proposals, bonds and contracts may be inspected and obtained at the office of the District, Toll Plaza, Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco, California. Attention is directed to both General Conditions and Special Conditions, as well as to Specifications appearing with the contract documents.

LEGAL NOTICE JOINT PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the San Rafael City Council and the San Rafael Redevelopment Agency will hold a joint public hearing on Thursday, October 26, 1972, at the Council Chambers, City Hall, San Rafael, California; said hearing shall commence at 8:00 p.m. o'clock and may be continued from time to time until completed. Any person or organization desiring to be heard will be afforded an opportunity to do so.

The purpose of said hearing is to consider the proposed Central San Rafael Redevelopment Plan, hereinafter called "Plan". The Plan also known as a "redevelopment plan" authorizes the undertaking of a redevelopment project pursuant to the California Community Redevelopment Law.

The general objective of said proposed plan is the strengthening of the financial, commercial and cultural role of central San Rafael. The scope of said project includes the acquisition of land, demolition or removal of buildings and certain improvements, installation, construction and reconstruction of streets, utilities, parks or other project improvements and making land available for redevelopment by private enterprise or public agencies as authorized by law. Said proposed project will be an undertaking of the San Rafael Redevelopment Agency.

The Central San Rafael Redevelopment Project Area is situated in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, and is more particularly described as follows:

EXCLUDING THEREFROM Parcel 'A' described as follows:

BEGINNING AT a point on the southwesterly line of Highway 101, said point being also the point of beginning of that parcel of land conveyed to William A. Timmer on March 25,1965, as described in Book 1923 of Deeds, at Page 137, Marin County Records; thence around said parcel the following courses; South 35° 20' West 648.35 feet; thence North 41° 57' West 102.52 feet; thence North 35° 20' East 649.37 feet; thence southeasterly along the southwesterly line of Highway 101 along an arc concave to the west, tangent to a line bearing South 45° 42' 21" East, having a radius of 1,172 feet, through a central angle of 4° 52' 31" for a distance of 100.06 feet to the point of beginning.

Any and all persons having any objections to the proposed redevelopment plan or who deny the existence of blight in the proposed project area, or the regularity of any of the prior proceedings, may appear at said hearing and show cause why the proposed Plan should not be adopted.

In accordance with the California Community Redevelopment Law the San Rafael Redevelopment Agency has adopted and made available for public inspection rules to implement operation of preferential treatment for persons who are engaged in a business in the project area as well as rules to implement the requirements of participation in the process by owners of property in the project area. Said rules are now available for inspection in the office of the San Rafael Redevelopment Agency, City Manager's Office, City Hall, San Rafael, California.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

On The Way To London

With airplane hijackings so much in the news these days it should be no surprise that disgruntled passengers are suing the airlines for damages.

Mrs. Koop was a passenger on a flight to London when one of the passengers diverted the plane to Arabia. When the hijacking was announced to the passengers, Mrs. Koop became very frightened. She feared that at any moment the nervous hijacker might fire his gun and injure her or cause the plane to crash.

Two days after the hijacking Mrs. Koop was safely returned to London. But she still suffered mental anguish and distress. She sued the airline for damages.

When a passenger is aboard an international flight, his rights may be governed by international law. The Warsaw Convention is the main agreement setting forth passengers' rights, and the liabilities of the airline. Look at your airline ticket. If it is for an international flight, there will be frequent reference to this Convention.

This agreement limits recovery for "bodily injury" to $75,000. The airline claimed that Mrs. Koop suffered no bodily injury, only mental anguish. But she had lost weight and suffered a rash. The court said that Mrs. Koop could recover. The mental suffering was bodily injury suffered while on board the aircraft during international flight. The airline was liable.

The Warsaw Convention also limits liability on baggage. If a passenger is carrying valuables, he should purchase additional insurance. If his baggage is lost, he is bound by the limits of liability. Similar limits also apply to local carriers — airline, bus and train.

Carriers owe a high degree of care to their passengers. They must protect them against assault, for example, from a drunken passenger. But a carrier is not an insurer of safety. A sudden, unexpected downdraft which causes the plane to fall or jerk may not be a liability to the airline. These may be risks the passenger must take.

If a person is riding as a guest in a private plane, he is bound by the same rules as a guest in a car. There is no liability unless there is wilful misconduct by the pilot.

Nader Asks Cox Bill Passage Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ralph Nader has appealed to former associate Edward F. Cox to ask his father-in-law, President Nixon, to support Senate passage of the consumer protection bill.

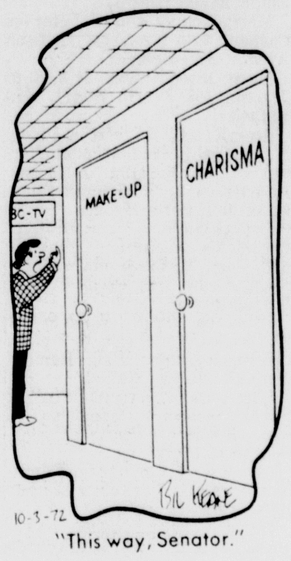

Cox worked as a "Nader's Raider" when he was a Harvard law student in 1970, the year before he married Tricia Nixon.

"I ask you to appeal directly to the President today to support the consumer protection bill, or at a minimum that you urge him to order a relation of obstructive efforts by his assistants," Nader said Monday in a letter to Cox.

Tax Groups Backs Two Initiative's

Only two of the 22 statewide propositions on the November general election ballot deserve voter approval, according to the Marin County Taxpayers Association.

The two are Proposition 14, the Watson Initiative, and Proposition 5, which purports to expand the ability of school boards to control educational programs.

Tax News, the association's newsletter, reported the stands on the measures in its September issue. The association declared its opposition to propositions 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 15, 16 and 20. It took no position on the remaining seven.

Proposition 14 would impose limits on property taxes, hike the sales tax to 7 per cent and hike business taxes. Proposition 5 would give to the Legislature power it apparently already has to authorize school district trustees to carry programs "not in conflict with laws and purposes for which school districts are established."

Southland Jiggled By Minor Tremor

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Parts of Hollywood and Glendale, Calif., were jiggled by a minor earthquake Monday.

The tremor had a magnitude of 2 on the Richter Scale and was centered on the Silverlake area at 8:46 a.m., according to the seismological laboratory at California Institute of Technology.

Ryan's Widow Wins Liberal Party Nod

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Priscilla Ryan, widow of Rep. William Fitts Ryan, was nominated by the Liberal party Monday night to run against Rep. Bella Abzug, the Democratic nominee, in New York's 20th Congressional District.

The outspoken Mrs. Abzug, whose gravel-voice and floppy hats have become a fixture at women's lib rallies, was defeated in an effort to gain the Liberal nomination as well as the Democratic nomination in June.

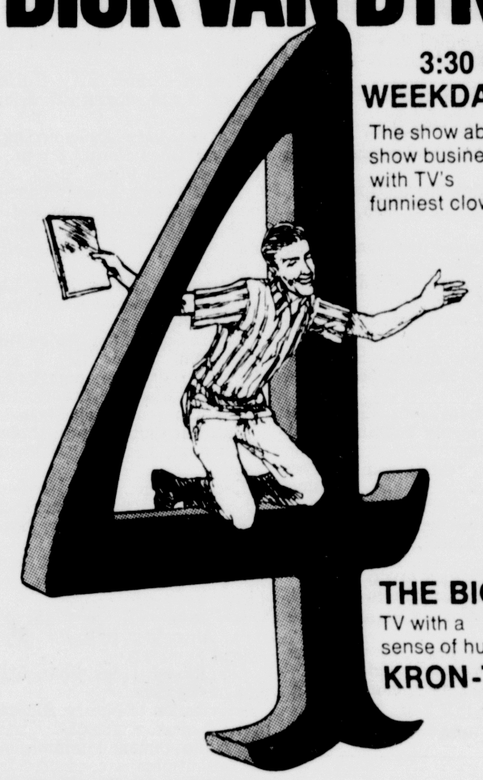

Mrs. Ryan's husband, for a dozen years one of the most outspoken liberals in the House, died Sept. 17 of cancer. He had defeated Mrs. Abzug in the Democratic primary June 20, but died less than three months later.

Mrs. Ryan announced she would seek the Democratic nomination to replace him, but lost to Mrs. Abzug. However the Liberal party, the fourth largest in the state, endorsed Mrs. Ryan 35-3.

Normally the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in the distrit, but Mrs. Abzug's abrasive personality has alienated many reform Democrats.

Since the positions of the two women are in most respects the same, the campaign is expected to center on the personality and the effectiveness of Mrs. Abzug.

Farrell's May Not Be Back

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor chain has not decided yet whether to go back into tha shop which was demolished Sept. 24 when a jet plane crashed into it.

Twenty-two persons were killed, 20 of them patrons of the ice cream parlor.

The shop is being rebuilt, a spokesman for the Crossroads shopping center said yesterday. Architect Edwin Kate said the damage was estimated at about $100,000 and reconstruction would take four to five months.

Westmoreland's POW Bracelet

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)— Gen. William C. Westmoreland, retired Army chief of staff, started wearing a POW bracelet recently at the suggestion of his wife.

Westmoreland told newsmen Monday that he developed some pain in his fingers in recent weeks because he has played a lot of golf since his retirement. The general said his wife suggested that he wear a copper bracelet which some people claim will ease pain.

Westmoreland said the copper POW bracelet was sent to him by a friend in New York about two weeks ago.

The bracelet bears the name of Maj. Joseph Karins who has been a POW since Nov. 3, 1967.

Toneff — KTIM Radio's Big Grid Addition

Bob Toneff, a 13-year National Football League player who has been out of the game for seven years, today looks like he could still bang helmets with the best of them.

The 250-pound Toneff is 42 but he looks more like 32. He's about 15 pounds lighter than he was when he was a lineman with the 49ers, then the Washington Redskins. Where fat should be, there is a strange substance called muscle.

BOB TONEFF

Toneff lives in Sleepy Hollow and commutes to San Bruno where he is part owner of Tanforan Dodge dealership. He also talks football with station manager Bob Dinsmore over KTIM, 5:15 p.m. preceding the Monday night pro football games.

Being an alumni gridder from Notre Dame, Toneff is a natural for the KTIM show, since the station also broadcasts all Notre Dame games on Saturdays. On his Monday evening stint he discusses the 49er and Raider games of the day before, the Notre Dame game of the previous Saturday, and the Monday night TV game which is also aired over the San Rafael radio station.

TONEFF PLAYED FOR the 49ers, mostly as a defensive end, from 1952 to 1959 when he was traded to the Washington Redskins where he remained until '65. He was traded mid-season and finished out that year with the Pittsburgh Steelers, a team for which he still does some scouting.

Of all the defeats, the Detroit 31-27 win over the 49ers in a playoff for the Western Conference title in 1957 sticks out in Toneff's mind.

"That was awful. I thought we had tried to sit on that 24-7 halftime lead and I let 'Red' Hickey (then 49er offensive line coach) know how I felt," said Toneff. "I know that's why I was traded."

The trading away of Toneff came prior to the 1959 season, the year that Hickey took over from Frankie Albert. "I was the first player traded by Hickey when he became the head coach," said Toneff.

HE WAS PLAYING in the days of the 49ers' "million dollar backfield" of quarterback Y.A. Tittle and runners Hugh McElhenny, Joe Perry and John Henry Johnson.

"I never did understand how the 49ers could have traded away Tittle," said Toneff, shaking his head. That's okay. I don't think anyone ever figured that one out.

During his tenure in professional football, Toneff played center, tackle and guard offensively and tackle, end and linebacker on defense. He played in four pro bowl all-star games, 1956 when he was with the 49ers and 1959, 60 and 61 when he was a Redskin.

He gave coaching football a thought once, four years ago when he helped Norm Van Brocklin get a team of college all-stars ready to play against the Green Bay Packers.

BUT HE REALIZES the problems involved in coaching, especially on the assistant level, where things are not too stable. You know, here today, gone tomorrow.

Toneff and his wife are still trying to get over that tragedy of last March when their 13-year-old daughter, Alene, was killed by a hit-and-run driver on Butterfield Road, near the Toneff home. A 19-year-old boy was arrested and later admitted his guilt.

It was a terrible blow for a fine guy like Toneff.

FIRST AID — Frank Mora of San Rafael (right) demonstrated first aid treatment for a broken leg Saturday at Tamalpais High School during the San Francisco Ski Patrol first aid safety refresher course. Bob Kahn of Belvedere was the demonstration "victim" as Ginnie La Rose, San Francisco, and Peter McKenney, Ross, looked on.

REFRESHER COURSE

Ski Patrol Back In Action

By RON LENT

Snow might not have been in Marin County but that didn't stop the San Francisco Ski Patrol from being here.

Some 50 members of the San Francisco unit working in Squaw Valley to facilitate recreational skiing operations came to Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley Saturday for a first aid refresher course. The registered patrolmen were given lectures, practical problems and examinations.

These registered patrolmen, who are called upon to give first aid in emergency ski conditions, "took this yearly course to remain registered with the National Ski Patrol, according to Jim Keane, San Francisco Ski Patrol leader.

The study also featured a four-hour review and avalanche lectures Sunday in Lafayette. The clinic concludes with a four-hour ski equipment review and toboggan run in the snow sometime after Thanksgiving.

But for Marinites, the story can not be found in Squaw Valley; rather, it was in Tam's gymnasium where the patrolmen, including eight from Marin, gathered.

The group heard Dr. Edmund Jacobson of Sausalito, San Francico Ski Patrol medical adviser, deliver a medical lecture. Other participating Marinites included: Bob Clark of Kentfield; Blanche McKee, Mill Valley; Willard Dakin, Greenbrae; and Peter McKenney, Ross.

Though the eight Marinites are affiliated with the San Francico group, there is a San Rafael chapter — headed by a San Franciscan, Don Marriott. The Marin group has an estimated 25 members.

Keane pointed out "many San Francisco unit members are from Marin, so it is not unusual that the North Bay Patrol (San Rafael) is guided by a San Franciscan."

Similarly, the Tamalpais course was directed by a San Franciscan, Keane, and explained by another San Franciscan, Joe McFarland. McFarland, San Francisco Ski Patrol secretary, noted the afternoon session was devoted to practical ski problems.

As an example, he cited a skier who, hypothetically speaking, fell 20 feet from a chair lift. After hitting the ground, he was bleeding from the ears and nose while complaining of lower back pain.

"We must determine the meaning of the symptoms and give prompt first aid. The lower back pain," McFarland explained, "might indicate a spinal injury. So the victim is moved to a hard, flat surface and is immobilized while resting on his back. This must be done cautiously but efficiently. So, we must know how quickly to determine the problem and react accordingly," he summarized.

"While functioning under extreme pressure, it is done voluntarily," Charles J. Gallagher, San Francisco patrol publicist, states.

WRESTLING ON GRIDIRON — Philadelphia Eagle linebacker Ron Porter (50) clamped a headlock on New York Giant running back Charlie Evans (31) last night in first quarter National Football League action at Philadelphia. Evans picked up a first down on this running play before being flattened by Porter. New York won, 27-12.

Old Times For Lolich

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It was like old times for Mickey Lolich Monday night as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to within one game of the American League's Eastern Division title with a pressure performance reminiscent of the three games he won in the 1968 world series.

In a game that has to rank as the most important the portly left-hander has pitched since he bested Bob Gibson in the final game of the series four years ago, Lolich hurled a six-hitter and struck out 15 Boston Red Sox as the Tigers moved into first place with a 4-1 victory.

A win over Boston tonight or Wednesday will clinch the flag for Detroit and send the Tigers into the AL playoffs against the Oakland Athletics, the Western Division champions, on Saturday.

Lolich, who had volunteered to pitch on Sunday with only two days rest, was manager Billy Martin's choice to start in the big series opener against the Red Sox instead.

Lolich was overpowering in the first seven innings, striking out 14 men. But in the third he got into a jam, and only a baserunning mishap by usually sure-footed Luis Aparicio prevented the Red Sox from a big inning.

Tommy Harper singled with one out and raced to third on Aparicio's hit and run single to left field. Then a ball hit by Carl Yastrzemski to right center just dropped beyond the reach of Mickey Stanley for a double, scoring Harper to tie the game 1-1. On the play, Aparicio was attempting to score too, but slipped rounding third and hustled back to the bag only to find Yastrzemski there waiting for him. Yaz was tagged out and Lolich stranded Aparicio when he fanned Reggie Smith.

Lolich, now 22-14, walked five men and was in trouble on several other occasions but he always came up with the clutch pitch to escape danger.

A home run by Al Kaline in the first inning off loser John Curtis, 11-8, gave Lolich an early boost and a lead off hom-

ON LANDING BARRY

Confidence Of Mieuli Remains

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Now that Rick Barry is legally a member of the Golden State Warriors again, owner Franklin Mieuli still exudes confidence he can get the much-travelled superstar back on the court.

Barry became a member of the Warriors under a federal judge's order that a contract signed three years ago became valid at the termination of his former contract with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association Sunday night.

Previous Barry-Mieuli discussions were cut off when Warrior attorneys advised that such talks would be tampering while Barry was still under the Nets contract.

But now Barry has been contacted for new bargaining although his steady stream of comments from New York that he won't come west might give pause to a less ebullient soul than Mieuli, who has never swerved from his determination to reunite Nate Thurmond and Barry on a basketball court, where they teamed so brilliantly in the mid-60s for the Warriors.

Barry wants a six-year, no-cut, no-trade contract or per-

Ron Johnson Triggers The Grid Giants

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Versatile Ron Johnson of the New York Giants runs inside and out, catches passes long and short, and makes fools of braggarts like Leonard Tose.

The dapper Tose, who took $16 million from his trucking fortune to buy the lowly Philadelphia Eagles three years ago, went around town all last week "guaranteeing" his club would finally win a football game Monday night before a national television audience. Johnson proved Tose's "guarantee" was as worthless as the warranty on a second-hand truck by scoring four touchdowns in the Giants' first victory of the season, 27-12.

To top everything off, the Giants were under the direction of Norm Snead, a quarterback traded by the Eagles a year after Tose took command.

49er Game Ball For Jim Johnson

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Cornerback Jimmy Johnson of the San Francisco 49ers got the game ball after Sunday's New Orleans game, but that was just because nobody could figure out how to slice it 11 ways.

San Francisco held the New Orleans Saints to 84 yards in the first half—and none in the second in a 37-2 romp.

The rushing total of seven yards surrendered was the best ever for San Francisco on defense since it joined the National Football League. The 49ers once stopped Los Angeles with 1 yard in the old All America Conference.

Only once in the second half did the 49ers have to start a drive on their own side of the 50.

Old pro John Brodie, however, denied that the Saints win was extra satisfying, since it followed an upset loss to Buffalo.

"Anyone who thinks one week's win is more important than the next is silly," he said.

San Francisco calls on Los Angeles Sunday.

Olympic Picks: Lake Placid Or Squaw Valley

DENVER (UPI)—The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) indicated Monday consideration should be given to having the 1976 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif., or Lake Placid, N.Y., rather than in Colorado.

EPA officials said use of Squaw Valley or Lake Placid, sites which previously were used for the Olympics, might be environmentally more sound than Colorado.

The EPA urged that the alternate sites be considered before Congress gives approval to a $15.5 million federal funding proposal for the 1976 games.

The EPA made the comments after studying a draft environmental impact statement on the games prepared by the Interior Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Squires Get Court Nod In Erving Case

NEW YORK (AP) — The first step has been taken toward unraveling the complications surrounding the Julius Erving case in pro basketball.

Erving is the 6-foot-6 University of Massachusetts star who left college after his junior year a year ago to play for the Virginia Squires in the American Basketball Association. He jumped to the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association after his rookie season.

The Milwaukee Bucks then drafted him after his Massachusetts class graduated and were given the rights to him, over Atlanta's objections, by the NBA Board of Governors.

Now Erving has been barred by a Federal district judge from playing for any team other than the Squires.

Judge Edward R. Neaher so ruled Monday in issuing a preliminary injunction. He also ordered the Squires to settle their contract dispute with Erving by arbitration as soon as possible.

Neil Pollio, Erving's attorney, said he would appeal Neaher's ruling and would seek a stay of the injunction from the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Also on Monday, Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the NBA

FISH AND GAME

Waterfowl Season Gets Later Start

By AL GIDDINGS

Six state and federal waterfowl areas will have later openings this year because of late crop harvests, the Department of Fish and Game announced this week.

The DFG also announced that applications for reservations to hunt the areas during the first half of the season have been shipped to license agents and should be available to sportsmen this week.

The other nine state and federal areas on which hunting is managed by the DFG will start on the opening dates of the waterfowl seasons for their respective season zones.

SCHEDULED to open Oct. 7 are the state's Imperial Wildlife Area and the federal Salton Sea refuge. One week later, on Oct. 14, the state's Honey Lake, Grizzly Island, Volta, Los Banos and Mendota wildlife areas and the federal San Luis and Kesterson national wildlife refuges will open.

The remaining areas, except for the Merced National Wildlife Refuge which will open Oct. 28, will open Oct. 21. These are the state's Gray Lodge Wildlife Area and the Sacramento, Delevan, Colusa and Sutter national wildlife refuges.

CALIFORNIA WATERFOWL hunters won some and lost some this year under regulations adopted by the California Fish and Game Commission.

Along with hunters in the balance of the country, Californians will be unable to hunt canvasbacks, but, unlike the case elsewhere, there will be no restrictions on redheads along the Pacific Flyway.

As you may or may not know, the commission in setting regulations is free to act only within the framework set by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The bans on the hunting of canvasbacks everywhere in the country and the hunting of redheads everywhere except on the Pacific Flyway were federal not state decisions.

ACCORDING TO Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton, the decisions were based on the declines in numbers of canvasbacks and redheads even after reduced hunting bags for these species in recent years and in the face of increases in the numbers of other duck species.

"Canvasbacks and redheads are not in danger of extinction," Morton said, "but they certainly are in trouble and stern measures are needed to help rebuild their populations.

"I have followed the advice of waterfowl experts and concur with their recommendations that if we err, we should err on the side of sound conservation.

"Canvasbacks long have been considered one of the premier waterfowl of the continent. Generations of hunters have been delighted with this fine game bird, and it has been held in the highest esteem by all familiar with our waterfowl resources."

MORTON SAID that Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service is studying the possibility that the declining quality of habitat in certain key areas may be affecting the status of canvasbacks.

The possible effects of disease, pesticides and other pollutants also will be studied under an expanded research program on canvasbacks which is being financed by a special $200,000 appropriation.

Framework regulations, within which states select their hunting seasons, are established by the Fish and Wildlife Service after recommendations have been made by state wildlife agencies, flyway councils and major private conservation organizations.

Giants End Bad Season With Padres

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants season grinds to a close tonight and Wednesday with two final games against the San Diego Padres.

The Giants never recovered from the disaster of last April 18 when Willie McCovey broke his arm in San Diego.

It was the first of a series of mishaps that cut down Juan Marichal, Sam McDowell, Dave Kingman and Ron Bryant.

But the ill fortune also gave manager Charlie Fox a chance to give needed experience to a sensational looking group of young players such as the three Garys—Maddox, Matthews and Thomasson and the two pitching Jims—Barr and Willoughby.

Fox believes that young men such as these can bring the Giants back up the standings, but whether they can do it as soon as even next season remains to be seen.

Both teams can go with their youth corps tonight since the Giants are mathematically locked in fifth and the Padres in sixth and last in the National League West.

It will be Jim Willoughby (64) against the Pads Mike Caldwell (7-10) tonight and Bryant (13-7) against either Fred Norman (9-10) or Ralph Garcia (0-0) in Wednesday afternoon's final battle.

The collapse of the Giant fortunes has also seen a collapse in attendance from the usual figure of about a million to 644,486 with two days to go.

The season is already over for two Giants. Infielder Jim Ray Hart and pitcher Juan Marichal both checked into Stanford hospital Monday. Hart wants a thorough checkup on his injured left knee and Marichal wants to get some help with the aching back that could make this season his last one.

er by Aurelio Rodriguez in the fifth proved to be the winner. Rodriguez also singled in two other runs.

In other American League games Milwaukee defeated New York 6-1 and Chicago downed Minnesota 6-4.

Bill Stoneman was the man of the hour in the National League as he pitched the second no-hitter of his career as Montreal defeated New York 7-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The Mets took the nightcap 2-1. Chicago edged Philadelphia 4-3.

Stoneman, who no-hit the Phillies on April 17, 1969, had only one scare of losing his gem and that came on a ball hit back to him in the fifth inning. Don Hahn, a former teammate, hit a slow roller past the mound and stoneman made a play for the ball but couldn't handle it. The official scorer ruled it an error.

A bases-loaded triple by Boots Day in the third inning was the big blow in the Expos' attack in the opener while Dave Schneck singled in the winning run for the Mets in the ninth inning of the second game.

What the Eagles lacked was a sense of opportunism. With rookie quarterback John Reaves starting his first game after two losses under Pete Liske, they moved inside the Giant 30-yard line seven times and had first downs inside the 25 six times. They scored only on a five-yard Reaves pass to Po James in the third quarter and field goals of 27 and 15 yards by Tom Dempsey in the first half. A missed field goal, an interception in the end zone by Spider Lockhart, a fumble recovery by Willie Williams and an interception by Jim Files spoiled the other Eagle chances.

Johnson set a club record with his four touchdowns on Snead passes of 16, 9 and 15 yards and a 5 yard run. He carried 36 times for 124 yards and added 60 more on five receptions.

Giant Coach Alex Webster said his "game plan was to run Johnson because we felt we weren't playing a team like Dallas or Detroit."

Johnson, at full strength after being idled by leg injuries last year, said his performance "was a big emotional lift because I was playing cautious until now."

Although the Eagles rolled up more yardage, 394 to the Giants 321, the Giants converted 11 of 16 first downs, led 21-6 at halftime and coasted behind Snead's passing for 164 yards on 12 of 19 attempts. Snead surpassed the 25,000 mark in career yardage totals.

"I'm getting ready to do my radio and television work," Barry explains. " I'm probably going to be color man for the station that does the Nets games. Yes, I'll listen to Franklin but I doubt it will change my mind."

The bearded Mieuli, one of sport's most un-run of the mill owners, said that "as of today, I legally can be and have been in personal contact with Barry. As this is a highly sensitive period in our well-known relationship. I can only say at this moment that discussions obviously have centered around his future plans."

So far the Hawks have refused to pay the fines. They have filed a $2 million antitrust suit against the NBA.

A's, Angels In Anaheim Tonight

ANAHEIM (AP) — Winning 20 games in a season is still a major league pitcher's dream.

Ken Holtzman and Nolan Ryan have slim chances at reaching that plateau as the American League regular season closes today and tomorrow.

"That would cheapen it," he said. He said Holtzman would be in the bullpen and, if needed legitimately, might be called on.

Ryan, on the other hand, is 19-15 and has pitched well of late. His 319 strikeouts leads the major league and his 17 whiffs the last time out was a career high. He pitches for the Angels in the concluding regular-season game Wednesday night against the Athletics.

2 Former Giants Boosters' Guests

Jim Davenport and Mike McCormick will be guests of honor at the monthly meeting of the San Francisco Giants Boosters of Northern California tomorrow at Rubini's restaurant in Fairfax.

Davenport, formerly star third baseman for the Giants, is now manager of the team's farm club in Phoenix, and McCormick, former southpaw pitcher for the Giants, played last year for the Hawaii Islanders of the Pacific Coast League where he won 14 games and lost nine.

Cocktails begin at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 o'clock. Reservations must be made through club president Allan B. Murray at GTS Travel in San Rafael.

PREP OF THE WEEK

San Rafael's Loughlin 'In Love' with Wishbone Play

By LEW CODDINGTON

It probably won't go down into the history books with Antony and Cleopatra, or even Liz and Dick, but Lance Loughlin's love affair with the Wishbone may help bring San Rafael High School the Marin County Athletic League football title.

Certainly it was in evidence last Friday night, when the lanky senior quarterback directed five long drives against Tamalpais High School, four for touchdowns, as the Bulldogs rolled to a 32-16 victory.

Loughlin ran for 47 yards and passed for 84 more, but chiefly it was his intelligent field generalship which earned him Independent-Journal Prep of the Week honors.

"He may not be flashy," said San Rafael coach Bob Muster, "but he's the perfect quarterback for our system."

"I'm in love with the offense," said Loughlin, a 5-foot-10, 155-pounder. "There's no way to defense it, because we can't make a mistake. The player we key on commits himself, and we react to it. We decide what to do as the play's developing."

This requires a clear head and split-second reactions by the quarterback. "It's on me," said Loughlin. "I call the plays, except in some special cases. It took me four years to learn how."

LANCE LOUGHLIN
Wishbone lover

Loughlin became a quarterback, he says, because he couldn't fit in anywhere else. "I was a linebacker in Pop Warner, but I'm not big enough to do that in high school. I considered being a wide receiver, but decided I'd rather be a quarterback instead."

Whenever Loughlin moves down the line on the option play, the ghosts of his medical history pursue him. Each year at San Rafael he's suffered a major injury —cracked ribs as a freshman, broken collarbone as a sophomore, a broken nose last year as a backup quarterback to Dirk Gansloser.

Loughlin also plays baseball, and was a starter in left field for San Rafael last spring, but plays no other sports. "I'm not involved much in anything except football," he says. "I like to draw and paint some in my spare time, and I go hiking."

Loughlin carries a 3.1 (B) grade average and is thinking of going to college at UCLA or University of California at Santa Barbara. "I'll probably major in business," he says. "I think I'll do something with art, like commercial art, but that's not definite."

He is the only football player in a family that includes a sister, Lorin, now at Cal State San Diego, and a brother, Kevin, at San Rafael High.

He says he doesn't plan to continue football in college, which means one thing: if he's going to get joy rather than heartbreak out of his love affair with the Wishbone, he's got to do it this year.

Raiders Set To Activate Back Davis

The Raiders need the speedster since they have shown the ability to grind out the yardage but have lacked any breakaway speed in piling up a 1-1-1 record.

"I don't think it's too serious," said Madden hopefully, "not cartilage or ligament damage. Terry is an important part of our special teams."

Trout Season Set Dates Idea

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The creation of permanent dates for trout season openings and closings will be proposed to the California Fish and Game Commission Friday.

The Fish and Game Department is recommending that the permanent opener in most of Northern California would be the last Saturday in April and the north coast opener would be the Saturday before Memorial Day.

The season would run through Nov. 15 with the limit remaining at 10 trout.

Bill To Curtail Blackouts Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arguing there is "no reason on earth" why sellout sports contests shouldn't be televised to hometown fans, Sen. J. Glenn Beall Jr., R-Md., today urged enactment of legislation to curtail broadcast blackouts.

Beall made his point as Senate hearings began on a bill that would prohibit local TV blackouts of professional contests that are sold out 48 hours before game time.

"If a home game is sold out, there is no reason on earth that it should not be televised in that area...," Beall said in testimony prepared for a Senate communications subcommittee.

"The people were once the sole source of support for professional football teams, but they have been forgotten amid the incredible financial success the sport has attained. The fans have a legitimate complaint that the owners have ignored for too long."

Though designed to affect all of the four major professional sports, the bill is aimed primarily at the National Football League and its rule banning television coverage within a 75-mile radius of the home stadium.

Baseball, basketball and hockey leagues—which also would be affected by the measure—have similar rules, although they are sometimes relaxed.

Hockey Seals Vs. Roadrunners

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The California Golden Seals play their next-to-last exhibition game tonight against the Phoenix Roadrunners of the Western Hockey League.

They must cut their one extra man Thursday.

Former Warrior To 76ers; Wagner Hurt

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Former San Francisco Warrior Dale Schlueter is making the rounds in the National Basketball Association.

After playing two years with the Warriors, he was sent to the Portland Trail Blazers, performing there for another two years. Today, he is with the Philadelphia 76ers competing for the starting center job with Dennis Awtrey.

The Colorado State University product was traded to the 76ers yesterday for second-year guard Dave Wohl. Schlueter, 27, averaged 11.7 points per game and 10.6 rebounds per game.

Don De Jardin, general manager of the 76ers, said the one-for-one trade would "give us the flexibility at the center position."

Baseball

LOS ANGELES — Former San Francisco Giant slugger Leon Wagner was pistol-whipped and his wife shot Sunday during a robbery at a neighbor's apartment, police said.

Wagner and two of the other victims were treated for cuts and bruises and Mrs. Wagner was listed in satisfactory condition.

Hockey

BOSTON — The U.S. Court of Appeals heard a challenge by the Boston Bruins today of a lower court decision not to issue an injunction barring former Bruins Gerry Cheevers and Derek Sanderson from playing in the new World Hockey Association.

U.S. District Court Judge Andrew A. Caffrey ruled last week that the two players who jumped leagues would be hurt more financially by being forced to sit out this season than the Bruins would be if Cheevers and Sanderson played in the infant WHA.

Golf

NEW YORK — The top ten money winners on the pro golf circuit remained unchanged last week, but Deane Beman, collecting $20,000 for his one-stroke victory in the Quad Cities Open, jumped from 28th on the list to 18th.

Beman's win brought his 1972 earnings to $87,630, nearly $5,000 better than his 1971 total.

Boxing

HOUSTON — Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc. (ACE), offered heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier $750,000 to defend his title against No. 2 contender George Foreman of Hayward in the Astrodome in November or December.

Tennis

HOUSTON — Twenty-two of the world's top female tennis players, including Billie Jean King and Margaret Court, have formed the Women's Inter national Tennis Federation, Gladys Heldman said Monday.

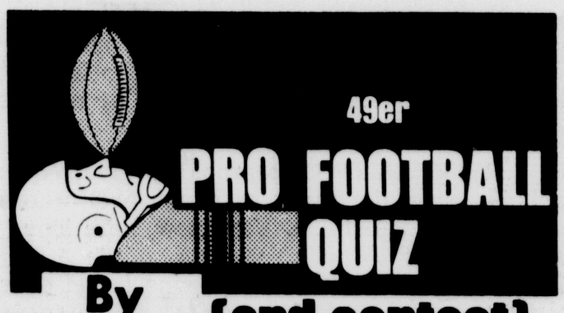

The new federation (WITF) will sponsor a 13-week, $410,000 winter-spring tour starting the third week of January and ending May 6, Mrs. Heldman said. The tournament prize money will range from $25,000 to $80,000.

Newcombe Prize Of $10,000 Is 'Disappearing'

ALAMO, Calif. (UPI)—John Newcombe says his $10,000 check for first place in the $50,000 Redwood Bank International Tennis Tournament is about ready to do a disappearing act.

Says Newcombe, who has won $78,000 in tourney earnings this year, "I ought to tear this check in half—because half goes to the government right away. Then I ought to tear the other half in half, because one half goes to my wife and the other to my agent. Now I'm broke. I don't even know why I came out here."

The Aussie expatriate blitzed Cliff Drysdale 6-1, 6-1, 7-5 in Sunday's finals at Round Hill Country Club to win the tourney.

Lackluster Market Is Down Again

Volume amounted to a mere 5.4 million shares as investors and institutions stayed on the sidelines and allowed prices to drift. Market experts contended the sluggish pattern stems from rising interest rates and a lack of positive economic news.

American Natural Gas was the morning's most active stock, off 3-4 to 37 1-4 on 429,500 shares. Trading in the issue included a block of 416,600 shares at 37 1-4 off 3-4.

Prices also were lower on the American Stock Exchange. Declines led advances, 31 to 269. The actives were paced by Lea-Ronal, unchanged at 17 on 27,900 shares.

F-100 PICKUP TRUCK

Ford Division's new F-Series pickup trucks, including this F-100 Ranger XLT, feature the most extensive changes in six years. The F-100/250/350 light trucks include an all-new cab, new interiors, new exterior sheet metal, longer wheelbases and wider tracks. Cab length is increased two inches, permitting more leg room and a roomy storage area behind the seat in most models. Lyons-Ryan Ford in San Rafael, J & B Ford Sales in Corte Madera, and Novato Auto Sales are the Marin dealers.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

A-Rated Debt Issues Yield 8.5 Per Cent

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I own shares of a growth stock, paying a small dividend. I would like to invest the $171,000 I could realize from the sale of this stock in bonds for income. Would a good bond portfolio return $15,000 to $20,000 a year? — J.H.

A. On the amount of capital involved, a return of $20,000 would represent an 11 per cent yield, a rate which is not feasible without considerable risk. A portfolio of A-rated debt issues — all with ample interest coverage — will pay you 8.5 percent on your investment. All are trading at a premium over face value on the New York Exchange. On the total purchase price of $170,000, which allows leeway for price fluctuations and commissions, you will have an annual income of $14,500.

I suggest you buy 25M Aluminum of Canada 9½s of 1995, 26M First Mortgage Investors 9s of 1978 and 25M General Telephone of California 9¾s of 2000. In addition, 26M Mississippi River Fuel 9¾s of 1990, 25M Northern Natural Gas 9½s of 1990 and 26M Vermont Yankee Atomic 9⅝s of 1998.

Q. I would appreciate your opinion on Tassaway (OTC) as a buy for speculation. — G.D.

A. An order by the Federal Court in Los Angeles permanently enjoining the company and its president R.P. Oreck from violating the registration and anti-fraud provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 was handed down in July.

Profits have failed to materialize — a deficit has been reported annually for five years. The internally worn sanitary device manufactured by Tassaway has met less than spectacular acceptance in test marketing promotions. The product in its present disposable plastic form and earlier reusable rubber version has been available since 1963.

Coors Collects Billionth Can For Recycling

GOLDEN, Colo. — Adolph Coors Company's aluminum collection program topped a historic milestone this week with the announcement that the billionth can has been recovered for recycling.

Participating in the recycling program is Golden Gate Distributing Co. of San Rafael, Coors distributor for Marin and Southern Sonoma. Golden Gate Distributing has recycling depots at 12 Harbor Drive in Black Point and at 1942 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Coors distributors pay a dime a pound for clean aluminum containers, Coors or any other kind.

Old Bel Aire Shopping Center Gets New Name And Renovation

Cove Shopping Center is the new name of the old Bel Aire Shopping Center (also known as Marin Town and Country Shopping Center or the Cala Market Shopping Center) at the corner of Tiburon Boulevard and Blackfield Drive.

That's the word from Robert H. Greene Real Estate in San Rafael, which has been appointed property manager and owner's representative for the shopping center, owned by Edward Dea Cheu of San Francisco.

Along with the name change, Greene announced a new project of expansion and renovation and refurbishment of the existing buildings at the Cove Shopping Center.

The latest addition will be an 8,000-square-foot free standing building, which will house another Bourbon Shop, operated by Custom Package Stores Inc. of San Rafael. Custom Package Stores already has five shops in Marin. The new Bourbon Shop will occupy half the building, and the remaining 4,000 square feet is for lease, Greene announced. The building will be completed in December.

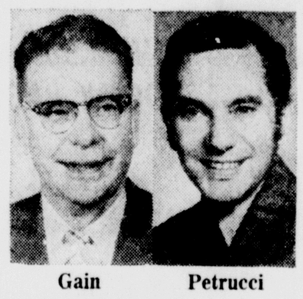

GREENE ALSO acted as broker in the sale of the 27,000-square-foot building at 65 Paul Drive in Northgate Industrial Park. The new owners group is headed by E.J. Mahoney III, an associate of Greene Real Estate. The building contains retail, manufacturing and warehouse space.

In Sausalito Greene sold the former Art Boates building at 3000 Bridgeway to Donald Davis of Sausalito, who plans to convert the 5,000-foot facility to an office building.

To supplement the many activities of the Robert H. Greene Real Estate office, Greene has formed a new financial corporation to handle private syndication, sales and property management. Called the G & N Financial, its executive vice president-manager is David Nelson, an attorney and real estate broker.

JAMES C. GAIN, assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Mill Valley office, retired last week after 12 years of service.

Gain joined Wells Fargo in 1960 in the Orinda office and later served in the Martinez office and the Northgate office in San Rafael. He was named to the Mill Valley post in 1970. Gain and his wife, Donna, live in CHICO.

Gain Petrucci

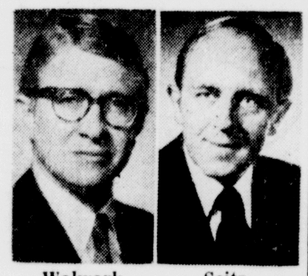

TRANSAMERICA TITLE Insurance Co. has moved into the entire third floor penthouse of the Robert H. Greene office building at 818 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael. Greene himself has moved his real estate and development office from 810 Fifth to 818 Fifth Avenue.

Manager of the Transamerica Title office is Arnest Petrucci, 21, who has been with Transamerica for 11 years. Plant manager is Robert Feed, and escrow officer, Donald Loegering.

Transamerica also maintains an escrow branch office in the Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda. Transamerica microfilms all recorded documents from Marin County to provide quick retrieval of information which forms the basis of title reports on Marin property.

DALE M. WALWARK, formerly of Ross, has been named manager of financial communications for Dillingham Corporation in Hawaii. In his new capacity, he reports to W. H. Stryker, director of public relations for the Honolulu-based firm.

Walwark was in the Transamerica organization in San Francisco for the past seven years. Former resident of Fallen Leaf Avenue in Ross, he now lives with his wife and family in Honolulu. Dillingham is a diversified corporation with maritime, construction, real estate and natural resources activities throughout the Pacific Basin.

Walwark Seitz

JAMES E. SEITZ of Kentfield has been elected a vice president of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. His election was announced at the 85th annual meeting of the accountants' national professional society in Denver this week.

Seitz is a partner in the San Francisco office of Touche, Ross & Co. He is a member of the California and Michigan Associations of CPAs and of the National Association of Accountants.

BELL SAVINGS and Loan Association, headed by President Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael, has applied to the State Savings and Loan Commission for permission to open a new branch office in Mill Valley. The new branch is sought at or near the intersection of Blithedale Avenue and Sunnyside Avenue.

Bell Savings has offices in San Rafael, San Mateo and Burlingame; is negotiating for property to open an office in Woodside Plaza in Redwood City; and has applications for new branches at 5050 Geary Boulevard in San Francisco and in Woodside Village in Woodside.

A NEW VOICE STUDIO has opened at 55 Buena Vista Avenue in Mill Valley, where instructions are given in vocal technique, classical art songs, operatic repertoire, as well as musical comedy.

Owner and instructor is Robert Hamilton Bush, who performed with the Company of the Golden Hind in San Francisco about eight years ago. For the past four years, he was choral director of the Healdsburg High School District. Before that, he was choir master at Trinity Methodist Church in Berkeley and St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato.

SEMINARS for investors will be held on Oct. 12 and Oct. 17 in the San Rafael Bay Room of Holiday Inn, 1010 Northgate Drive, San Rafael. The seminars, presented by Shearson, Hammill & Co. of San Francisco, are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The topics will be "Tax Shelters" on Oct. 12 and "Investment Management" on Oct. 17.

EVENING SEMINARS on various phases of business management will be offered by the University of California Extension beginning Oct. 10 at the UC Extension Center, 55 Laguna Street, San Francisco. The weekly sessions in the six-week series, entitled "Management Colloquium", will be held on Tuesdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

Professors from the UC faculty will discuss "New Perspectives in Management Planning," "Law and Society", "Trends in Labor Relations," "Motivation", "Management Structures" and "New Directions in U.S. Trade and Monetary Policies."

Agreement Near On Park Development

The Petaluma City Council last night neared agreement with Sonoma County on the development of Shollenberger River Park.

A preliminary draft of a joint agreement was favorably received by councilmen although it involved spending an extra $17,000 in city funds not previously included.

In the agreement, the city would provide sewer and water service to the park adjacent to the city boat launching ramp. Councilman Richard Clecak said the council would have to appropriate an additional $17,000 to replace a two-inch water line with an eight-inch line needed to serve the park.

The county would develop four acres initially with picnic and play equipment as well as fencing the entire 20-acre park.

Organizations such as little leagues and soccer leagues would then have two years to construct play areas on the remaining portion. If that were to fail, the land would revert back to the city to develop as it wished.

Clecak said no city money other than the $17,000 would be needed during the first two years of development and that funds during that time could go to development at Lucchesi Park on Maria Drive.

Supervisor Philip L. Joerger said he was pleased that misunderstandings of the past seemed to be cleared up with the agreement. He warned the city council not to vacillate on the $17,000 outlay since it will receive a $239,000 park in exchange.

The preliminary draft goes next to the county board for its approval and preparation in final form.

The Petaluma City Council also:

PLAN LINES — Reviewed proposed plan lines to widen East Washington Street to four lanes from Lakeville Street to Highway 101. Several businessmen complained that the plan would take too much right of way from their property.

PLANNER — Named Rev. G. Roland Bond to the vacancy on the planning commission. Bond is pastor at the Christian Church of Petaluma.

JITNEY — Terminated the franchise for the Graveson Brothers jitney service after deciding not enough residents use the bus service to subsidize the money-losing busing business.

GRANT — Officially signed papers to receive an $896,500 state grant to use with federal funds in financing the $3,886,000 sewer plant expansion.

COMMERCIAL — Introduced an ordinance rezoning 833, 837 and 841 East Washington Street to neighborhood commercial to permit a Jack-In-The-Box Restaurant.

HEARING — Set an Oct. 10 hearing on the appeal filed by Ernest Curtis to rezone 817, 821, 825 and 829 East Washington Street to neighborhood commercial.

MEETING — Adjourned to Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

City's Tax On Hotels Boosted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The Board of Supervisors voted Monday to increase the city tax on hotel rents by half a per cent, so that it will be 6 per cent.

The increased money, anticipated at $370,000 a year, will be used to provide housing for persons displaced by the Yerba Buena Redevelopment Project, which includes a convention center.

Supervisors also voted to reduce the city sewage tax so that it will provide $6.3 million a year, instead of the expected $12.8 million.

Additional funds needed for the sewer program are to come from federal revenue sharing, the city's new share of gasoline taxes and the sale of surplus property.

Under the new rates, residential users will pay 85 cents a month instead of the present charges which average $2.40 per residence.

Non-residential water users will be charged between $2.50 and $90 a month for the sewer tax, depending on how much water they use. They also will be charged 40 per cent of their water bill.

Pot, Beer In Car Lead To Arrest Of Youths

Larkspur police arrested four youths today after stopping their car on a good will mission only to discover what was described as small amounts of marijuana, a pipe used for smoking it and beer in the car.

Police said the auto, driven by David Richardson Peck, 18, who gave his address as a sailboat named the Sea Quest in Sausalito, was halted on Madrone Avenue between Redwood Avenue and Oak Road at 2:30 a.m.

Officers said the car, moving at a slow rate of speed, was stopped because of the youthful appearance of the occupants and because it was believed the driver might be lost and in need of assistance.

Police said an open can of beer was spotted inside the car. The occupants, including two other 18-year-olds and a 16-year-old, were asked to get out, and police said a strong odor of alcohol and burning marijuana was detected.

A pipe then was observed in the open glove compartment and two small bags containing marijuana tumbled from the pockets of one of the youths, police said.

Peck and Patrick Steven McGowan of 505 Laverne Avenue, Homestead Valley, were booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possession of marijuana, while McGowan and David Brock Van Houten of 9 Bayview Terra, Strawberry, also were arrested for investigation of possessing narcotics paraphernalia. Peck and Van Houten also were booked on suspicion of carrying beer in a car as minors.

McGowan and Peck were held in jail on $500 bail each to appear today in Marin Municipal Court, while Van Houten posted $250 bail to appear Friday.

The 16-year-old was taken to Marin Juvenile Hall on suspicion of being in a place where narcotics were used, violating curfew and being drunk in public. His name was withheld on orders of Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court.

Due In Washington

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira will fly to Washington later this month to brief the Nixon administration on Japan's new relations with China, it was disclosed today.

Further Discussion Of Base Issue Set

The Marin County Aviation Commission, meeting today at 8 p.m. at the Marin Civic Center, is expected to continue discussion on joint military-civilian use of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The commission, which has endorsed the concept of joint use, will discuss a report on cost estimates for an environmental impact study.

90 Killed As Soviet Jetliner Goes Down

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet airlines IL18 passenger plane crashed on takeoff from the resort city of Sochi either Sunday or Monday, killing all aboard, sources close to the air travel industry said today.

Such accidents are only rarely announced in the Soviet Union, and then usually only weeks or months after they occur.

The last known Soviet air crash occurred in August, 1971, when an Aeroflot twin-jet TY104 crashed and exploded on takeoff from the Siberian airport of Irkutsk, killing all 97 persons aboard. It was the worst-known Soviet commercial airline disaster.

On Dec. 31, 1970, an IL18 crashed at Leningrad when its four turboprop engines failed on takeoff. All 90 persons aboard died.

$1 Million In Damages To Road 'Bad Curve' Victim

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—A former beauty queen contestant who lost the baby she carried and was twice pronounced dead after an auto accident Monday was awarded $1,050,000 in damages.

The woman, Mary Carothers, 30, also lost a third of her brain and one eye and became deaf as a result of the accident.

She was thrown from a vehicle that crashed in Foster City on April 6, 1967, at a curve where 13 other injury accidents, one of them fatal, had occurred.

The San Mateo County Superior Court jury was told that Mrs. Carothers was taken to Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo where two doctors pronounced her dead.

Council Delay On Belvedere Subdivision

A three-lot subdivision on Belvedere Point which has run into snag after snag within Belvedere's city government ran afoul of the state's highest court yesterday.

The Belvedere City Council appeared ready to grant the subdivision sought by Hamilton Vose II, but City Atty. Robert F. McKay warned them to hold off until a recent state Supreme Court decision is clarified.

The court, in an opinion printed Sept. 22, ruled that approval of any development which will have a "nontrivial effect" on the environment must be preceded by an environmental impact report.

McKay said he has not yet seen the decision, but read from a bulletin by the League of California Cities which recommended delaying all decisions.

"The California Supreme Court seems to be legislating and that is what makes it difficult without getting a copy of the opinion and reading it," McKay said.

He recommended that the council create guidelines for determining whether a project will have a significant effect so the council can make a decision on the subdivision.

The division of two lots into three was originally approved by the commission in January, but turned down by the council.

The Belvedere City Council also:

OPEN SPACE — Authorized paying appraiser Roy Farrington Jones from $600 to $1,000 to evaluate open land along Beach Road eyed for possible city acquisition for open space.

SUBSTANDARD LOTS — Decided it will deal with building plans for substandard lots through the variance procedure. The more than 100 substandard lots in town had been the focus of a building debate that led to formation of a three-man committee which made the recommendation to the council.

USE PERMITS — Under the moratorium on building, granted use permits to Carl Baker to add to his home at 21 Alcatraz Avenue; to Stuart R. Pollak to add to his home at 13 Oak Avenue; to Thomas F. Solinsky to add a garage to his home at 9 Laurel Avenue, and to M. C. Powell of 9 West Shore Road, who plans to add to his home.

HOUSE WORK — Granted John Clark permission to add a garage to the home he is buying at 166 Bella Vista Avenue and gave him a permit to build a driveway and garage on city property subject to approval of specifications by the city engineer.

PUMP STATIONS — Directed city staff to landscape two pump stations at Golden Gate and San Rafael avenues and Peninsula and Beach roads after the park and recreation commission pronounced them unsightly.

AFTER SCHOOL — Gave $288 toward an after-school recreation program at Reed School.

JOINT POLICE — Told the Marin County Board of Supervisors it doesn't see any advantage to Belvedere in a countywide police force.

TREES — Asked the city staff to find the cost of cutting down eucalyptus trees on city property after a complaint by Dr. Bert L. Halter of 35 Belvedere Avenue that one such tree is dropping potentially deadly limbs on his land.

PLAN — Adopted an interim open space plan required by state law while work goes ahead on an open space element to the general plan.

NONCONFORMING — Decided to begin recording legal nonconforming multiple residential uses in single-family zones so the city will know whether a use is legal when complaints are received.

CCPC — Appointed Planning Commissioner Cabell Gwathmey to the City-County Planning Council of Marin and made commissioner Charles Page the alternate.

VEHICLES — Tabled an ordinance regulating parking of recreational vehicles on city streets after the police chief said he doesn't need it.

PROPOSITION 20 — Endorsed in principle Proposition 20 on the November ballot. The measure would set up agencies to conserve the state's coastline.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Nov. 6 after toying with an idea presented by Councilman Alan Steinau to begin meetings at 7:30 p.m.

Proposition 5 Not What It Pretends

California has the world's greatest volume of public school law.

The bulky California Education Code lays down rules for everything from what can be put on a high school diploma to what must be stamped on the flyleaf of library books and how to figure week-end overtime pay.

An appellate court judge in a suit known as Horton vs. Whipple, involving the "ed code," once prefaced his decision with the words: "At the outset, it may be observed that any attempt to apply literally all the various provisions of the school law would lead to hopeless confusion." This was judicial understatement. Attempts to apply just one of them often lead to hopeless confusion.

FOR YEARS, there has been agitation among school people and politicians for a "permissive education code" — meaning a code that, as do those in many states, lays down general laws governing the public schools and leaves the details up to the local districts. A legislative committee is supposed to be studying such a code for California right now.

This "permissive ed code" agitation is behind Proposition 5 on the Nov. 7 ballot. But Propositon 5 would not provide such a code. It would, instead, add to the present confusion.

"THE LEGISLATURE MAY AUTHORIZE the governments of all school districts to initiate and carry on any programs, activities, or to otherwise act in any manner which is not in conflict with the laws and purposes for which school districts are established."

Aside from the sentence being slightly ungrammatical, note that it opens with, "The Legislature may authorize. . ."

The Legislature now may authorize school districts to do just what Proposition 5 purports to permit. The proposition would not remove any curb on such power from the constitution, because none is there.

THE REASON the California Education Code is full of ridiculous requirements (yet fails to include basic requirements for high school graduation or to spell out the powers of district superintendents, among other things) is because the Legislature has made it that way.

If the Legislature wants a permissive education code, it can make one. No constitutional amendment is necessary.

Proposition 5 is being touted as a "home rule" proposition, to give school boards more power. Yet, as Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-Campbell, says in his ballot argument for it: "The Legislature would still keep the power to impose specific requirements or prohibitions upon local school boards."

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Two Ballot Propositions Would Aid Blind Veterans

By EARL G. WATERS

Excepting during time of war, and for a very short period immediately thereafter, flag waving in behalf of veterans is rare. When the veterans have been engaged in a war as unpopular as Vietnam, it doesn't exist.

But even in little wars, men answer the call to colors because it is their solemn duty, not because they have any irresistable urge to engage in deadly battle. In doing so they are acting in behalf of every citizen of America and their descendants to come.

This country's treatment of veterans has been anything but generous. In most cases it has been a reluctant, and often grudging, recognition of an obligation to those who served in the dirty business of war.

In a most temporary moment of gratefulness, many states have voted bonuses or some other idle gesture to the returning war heroes. These actions are akin to tipping the waiter.

CALIFORNIA HAS exercised better judgment. This state recognized bonuses are costly and have no redeeming merit since the amounts granted can have no lasting benefit. In its place the state, following World War I, established the farm and home loan program and granted a $1,000 property tax exemption.

Both programs sought to help the veteran help himself. Both programs also were aimed at an overall state benefit, that of encouraging the veteran, through home ownership, to become a stable citizen.

Some years ago, and not too long after World War II, when the public schools first started being pinched for funds derived through property taxes, attacks were made upon the veteran property tax exemptions.

Testifying before a Senate committee, representatives of the disabled veterans said that while they resented the veteran exemption being singled out separate from those granted to others, they would welcome a change. In fact, they said, they would gladly give up the general veteran property tax exemption if it was replaced with a total exemption on the homes of those who had been 100 per cent disabled in war.

At the time the Legislature did not act. Meanwhile, through new interpretations of the law, county assessors practically eliminated the veteran exemption by applying a total wealth test. Today a veteran must either be a pauper or a liar to benefit by the property tax exemption.

SUBSEQUENTLY the Legislature did move in the direction of the disabled veterans' recommendations. As a result constitutional amendments were passed granting $10,000 exemptions to double amputees but only $5,000 to those blinded as a result of war injuries.

The disparity between the amputees and the blind is now in the ballot to be remedied. Proposition 10 would increase the exemption for the blind to $10,000 but would limit it to homes acquired through federal grants. Proposition 12 is much fairer. It would also increase the exemption but would make it apply, as in the case of amputees, to his home regardless of how he acquired it.

While aid to the veterans is not a state responsibility, the facts are that the federal government allowance for 100 per cent disabled veterans is less than $500 a month. There are only about 700 blind veterans who would qualify, which is about the same number as the double amputees now benefitting.

The further fact is that most of these veterans are entirely tax supported now so requiring them to pay property taxes is merely exchanging money from one pocket to another.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

The joint didn't even have running water when Uncle Sam moved in. Now it has ocean-to-ocean water and it's carpeted with wall-to-wall money.

Now Reporter Angle Is 'Pro-Developer'!

Pat Angle's "Reporter's Notebook" entry of Sept. 25 (The Day When All of Marin Was Turned Into National Park), would have been more amusing if it had not been tinged with her now characteristic pro-developer bias. Miss Angle's past reporting of the Sausalito City Council's efforts to see Wolfback Ridge kept in open space by having it included in the forthcoming Golden Gate National Recreation Area has been so laughably inaccurate that it is in a way surprising that her present Buchwaldian fantasy was not printed as a regular newsstory.

It is disappointing that in this era of enlightened journalism those of us in Sausalito concerned about the impact of the proposed subdivision of one third of our City's total area cannot receive from Miss Angle more than a prejudiced recitation of how unfair the City is to the property owners.

Prefers To Listen To Nader And Ehrlich

I trust that Dr. Smith, Dr. Loran, and Dr. Stein and their confreres, who urge us in letters to your paper to vote for artificial fluoridation, don't mean to lead us astray. They probably really believe most of what they are saying.

The explanation for their conviction lies perhaps in the fact that they, like so many of our healers, have been washing their hands in hexachlorophene for 20 years.

With apologies to all of them I prefer to listen to Ralph Nader and Dr. Paul Ehrlich who say (among other things) that artificial fluoridation adds unnecessarily to the pollution of our environment.

The Swedish government banned its use in 1971. That alone would have been reason enough for me to vote no on B in Marin County in 1972.

Water Fluoridation Argument Reversed

In his letter of Sept. 21, Dr. Stein states: "It would seem that an ideal solution (to the fluoridation problem) would be to make water-purifying devices available to patients with artificial kidneys. Fluoride could be removed from their water without denying the benefits of fluoridation to the rest of the county."

How about turning the argument around to state that fluoride could be provided to only those people who benefit from it — young children whose teeth are still in a formative period before they emerge from the gums? The rest of us then would not have to suffer the risk of possible hazard.

According to a study made in the city of Chicago, more than 99 per cent of the water distributed is used for industry, sprinkling lawns, flushing toilets, taking baths and filling swimming pools. However, even the minute percentage (less than one per cent) of fluoridated water actually consumed by water users is largely wasted because the greater number of the people are older children, or adults with fully formed teeth.

If fluoridated water contributes to bone disease in kidney patients, as Dr. Stein states, what about the dangers of fluorine to people with undiagnosed kidney ailments and to people who, for a variety of medical reasons, are told by their doctors to drink 10 to 12 glasses of water daily? Also, how about the danger to people suffering from diabetes and those 6,000 (according to the Diabetes Society of Marin) Marin County citizens with undiagnosed diabetes?

By adding a drug to tap water, it seems to me that the risk of overdosing becomes very great when one considers the wide individual differences in water consumption . . .

Mixed Feelings On Council Stories

I've been following with interest your recent series of articles on San Rafael city councilmen and their luncheon and travel expenses. The articles, particularly the latest one regarding trips to Hawaii, have left me with mixed feelings.

Investigative reporting is an avocation and a talent that seems sadly to be disappearing from the media in our country. The Independent-Journal, and the people of San Rafael, are fortunate to have a reporter such as Nels Johnson, who is not only interested but capable of displaying journalistic initiative. I have always believed that it is the right and the obligation of newspapers and reporters to investigate and print sotries which are legitimate news.

On the other hand, the recent San Rafael "expose" stories and headlines, particularly the one on the Hawaiian trips, are coming dangerously close to sensationalism, insinuation and implication, in my opinion. The Hawaii story repeatedly used the word "junket" in referring to the councilmen's trips . . . On the contrary, they were conventions attended by representatives of cities all over the country. And, they apparently resulted in considerable benefit to the city. Wordings such as "unpublicized trips revealed", and "the trio said they had no misgivings . . ." imply that there should be some guilt or shame connected with the trips. In fact, the news story contains nothing to show that this should be the case.

I do not know the details of the luncheon meetings (except one) and can neither defend nor condemn the councilmen for spending the reported sums. I do know, however, that luncheon meetings are standard in American business today, as are convention trips. The amounts of money reported in your stories as spent on lunches were not out of the ordinary for San Francisco or Marin County businessmen. And I am not aware of any businessman who would take a trip to Hawaii, stay at a convention for four days, and charge his company less than $600 for expenses . . .

As one San Rafael citizen, I like to believe my councilmen are mature, honest people. They are all busy men, and lunch seems a logical time to meet. Personally, I believe San Rafael should be represented at national conventions and conferences of city officials, and within reason, I would not quibble over the expenses.

. . . I just somehow wish that Mr. Johnson's abilities and enthusiasm could be directed toward more significant and critical areas that really need a penetrating journalistic analysis.

'Work Ethic Vs. Welfare Ethic' False Issue Of 1972 Campaign

In 1964, Americans voted in droves against Barry Goldwater because they wanted to stay out of the Vietnam war. So Lyndon Johnson was elected and led them into the very war they had hoped to avoid.

In 1972, it looks more and more as though Americans will vote in droves against George McGovern because they think by so doing that they will put an end to the "welfare ethic" in the United States.

But if Richard Nixon is re-elected, which seems the more likely outcome, the Congress is virtually certain to approve Mr. Nixon's welfare reform program, which includes provisions for minimum family income support at $2,400 a year, and this means that minimum welfare for every American family will become part of the American system.

THE ISSUE, which swayed most voters in 1964 was a false one, as the results in Vietnam demonstrated. We would dearly like to know whether a President Goldwater would also have escalated the Vietnam war. We never will know. But Americans certainly did not escape that escalation by voting against Senator Goldwater.

The so-called "welfare ethic" seems rapidly becoming the dominant issue in this 1972 campaign, and it is just as false.

First, those who talk about the "welfare ethic" as being contrary to the "work ethic" are in ignorance of, or deliberately ignoring, the results of technical studies which demolish any theory that those who are on welfare are there because they prefer welfare to work.

On the contrary, those on welfare are in two classes. Many are on welfare because age, infirmity, or illness have made it impossible for them to work. Civilized societies have alway taken care of such people. The overwhelming majority of the others on welfare are there because failure to find jobs has eroded confidence in ability to get or to hold jobs. But even among those who have given up hope, there is a residual preference for work over welfare.

IT IS SIMPLY not true that any significant number of Americans prefer welfare to supporting themselves by honest effort. Doubters should consult "Do The Poor Want to Work" by Leonard Goodwin, published by the Brookings Institution, Washington, D.C.

The difference between the Nixon and McGovern welfare plans is $800 a year for a mother with four dependent children. The original Nixon plan would provide a $2,400 minimum income, to which the Senate Finance Committee is considering adding $800 in food stamps. Senator McGovern would go to $4,000, but has said he would be willing to accept the Nixon version of the welfahe reform bill.

In other words, the two candidates are in substantial agreement with most people who have seriously studied the welfare problem. Virtually everyone, including both candidates, agrees that the present system is hopelessly out of date and needs drastic overhaul. They agree that the United States should have a uniform system. They agree that the new system should be designed to encourage work. And they agree that it should also include a minimum family support element.

That is what other modern civilized countries have. It is what the United States is headed toward.

The day of its coming might conceivably be delayed in a wrangle between a president of one party and a Congress of the other. Democrats don't really want Mr. Nixon to get credit for launching the new welfare system, or vice versa. The time of the coming of the new system may be affected by whether the man who wins the White House also wins the Congress, but not by the choice for the presidency.

Once 'Conquered' Venereal Now Spreading Rapidly In U.S.

Venereal disease, an ancient scourge that modern medicine thought it had conquered, is reaching epidemic proportions throughout America.

The number of cases of infectious syphilis and gonorrhea reported to public health authorities has increased by more than 25 per cent during the past two years.

VD now ranks as America's second most widespread communicable disease —surpassed in frequency of incidence only by the common cold. And all indications are that the rise is continuing, perhaps accelerating.

The figures are even more alarming than they appear, for they cover only officially reported cases of VD. Public health officials are sure millions of cases go unreported and untreated.

BOTH SYPHILIS and gonorrhea can be cured with modern antibiotics if treated in their early stages, when their symptoms are plainly apparent. But if left untreated, both diseases may go underground, as it were. Superficial symptoms disappear, leaving the patient with the illusion that he's well. Actually, the deadly spirochetes at this point are spreading through the body.

Without treatment, venereal disease can lead eventually to heart disease, blindness, sterility or insanity.

The resurgence of VD as a major national health problem is ironic because not many years ago medical authorities were speaking of it, along with polio, smallpox and tuberculosis, as one of the once-dread diseases which were well on the way to elimination through new drug and vaccine discoveries.

BUT AMERICANS got overconfident about VD too soon. Appropriations for a nationwide campaign against the social diseases were drastically reduced.

There was a letdown in efforts to educate all segments of the public about the highly contagious nature of VD; the manner in which it is transmitted (almost exclusively through sexual intercourse with an infected partner); the early symptoms of infection; the ease of treatment with modern drugs; the often fatal consequences of leaving it untreated.

The result is that a generation of young people has grown up in America who do not take VD very seriously as a menace to health, and rarely take precautions.

Much controversy has swirled lately around the question of whether, when or how general sex education should be offered in schools. Whatever your position on that issue, surely there can be no argument about the need for direct, explicit, vivid instruction of teen-agers about the perils of venereal disease.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRANK FARRARA

'Guinness' Of Public Spending Discloses Some Real Champions

Independent-Journal reporters have been digging into the records of taxing agencies recently and disclosing some of the ways tax money is spent on conferences, meals, trips, etc.

Exposes of openhanded spending by public officials and employees are interesting reading, but they are nothing new as one can learn from reading "The New Book of World Freeloaders."

Editor Charlie Gripe said items have come in from throughout the world, but the record is still held by a supervisor who spent $2.4 million in an effort to get Howard Hughes to build an airport in his district.

"He went to the gambling casinos in Las Vegas to see Hughes, and of course while he was waiting he tried a few of the tables," Gripe explained.

ONE OF THE MOST unusual episodes involved a city planner who ran up a bill of $2.1 million to get an aerial map of his city, Gripe said.

"This guy wasn't satisfied with the shots he was getting from a plane, so he chartered a satellite from Nasa and got aerial shots of the globe."

Not all the misspending involves millions of dollars, Gripe noted. "We had a police chief who charged the city $2 a day to pay off his parking tickets. He got away with it for five years before the auditor remembered the city didn't have any parking meters."

Sometimes the spending is connected with the news of the day, Gripe said. "Take, for instance, our latest report of a recreation director who put in for $1,750 for a trip to the Olympics to get the exact measurements for an Olympic-sized pool."

ONCE IN A WHILE, Gripe said, a record-holder gets into trouble because of the notoriety gained by being included in the book.

"For instance," he said, "we listed a city manager who nicked the city for his fines at Rotary Club luncheons, about $726 worth. Well, the city paid his birthday and anniversary fines without any fuss, but when he got fined for having a new car, they started checking.

"As it turned out the city awarded contracts for four new cars and got three. The city manager had the other one."

Gripe said there was no end to the ways that people can nick the public till and at last count, there were 3,146 variations.

"One of the craziest was the public works director who charged the city for 200 copies of our book after we listed him for taking an annual trip to the Great Wall of China. He listed it under publicity."

The guy with the most nerve was a building inspector who was fired for taking a bribe and was virtually run out of town on a rail. He charged the city $875 in moving costs.

ART BUCHWALD

You Can't Let Them Get Away With That On Television

WASHINGTON — I went over to Strybaum's house the other night about dinner time and walked into the living room. There was Strybaum screaming at the television set.

I looked shocked and Ada, his wife, pulled me over to the corner. "He's been doing that every night," Ada said. "It's either Cronkite or Chancellor — it doesn't matter. Ever since the election campaign started he's done nothing but yell at the set. I'm starting to worry about him."

PRESIDENT NIXON came on the set, speaking at a fund-raising dinner somewhere, and said, "And I promise that there will be no tax raises in the next four years if I am re-elected President of the United States."

"LIAR!" Strybaum yelled. "YOU KNOW DAMN WELL YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE TO RAISE TAXES. WHAT DO YOU TAKE ME FOR? SOME KIND OF BLITHERING IDIOT?"

"Strybaum," I said, "don't take it so personally. It's an election year."

Senator McGovern came on the screen and said, "And I promise if I am elected I will see that the government gives financial aid to Catholic schools."

"HORSEFEATHERS!" Strybaum shouted. (Though I must be honest and admit he didn't say "feathers.") "YOU CAN'T GIVE MONEY TO CATHOLIC SCHOOLS. IT'S UNCONSTITUTIONAL AND YOU KNOW IT, YOU BUM!"

Ada said, "Adolph, even if he can't do it, let him say he can. He needs the votes."

STRYBAUM SAID, "I'm sick and tired of sitting here night after night and watching these jokers lie through their teeth."

Attorney General Kleindienst came on with his big grin and said, "I am happy to report that the crime rate is down throughout the country, thanks to the Nixon administration's strong law-enforcement programs."

"BULLDOZER!" Strybaum yelled." YOU CAN'T WALK FROM YOUR OFFICE TO YOUR CAR WITHOUT GETTING MUGGED! WHAT KIND OF MANURE ARE YOU HANDING OUT TO US?"

"Strybaum," I pleaded, "let the man think it if he wants to. According to his statistics crime is going down. He has to make the President look good."

"We shouldn't have to put up with it," Strybaum said. "They think they can go on the tube any time they want to and expect us to swallow any malarkey they hand out. Well, I've had it, and I'm going to let them know how I feel."

SARGENT SHRIVER appeared on the screen. "And I want to tell you, my fellow Americans, I am sick and tired of going into a supermarket and paying 37 cents for a quart of milk so the dairy interests can fatten the Republican campaign chest."

"WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU WENT TO A SUPERMARKET, SARGE?" Strybaum shouted. "WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME ANY KENNEDY WAS IN A SUPERMARKET?"

"It's hopeless," Ada said to me. "He's determined not to let anyone get away with anything while he's watching TV."

"Strybaum," I asked, "what good does it do to yell at your set? They can't hear you."

"They may not hear me. But if everyone in this country yells at his set at the same time, they'll hear us," he replied. "Besides, it makes me feel good. Why don't you try it?"

To placate him I said I would. John Mitchell came on the screen and said, "I know nothing about the Watergate bugging case and I had nothing to do with it."

"YOU'RE LYING, JOHN! I yelled, "AND MARTHA KNOWS IT, TOO!"

Woman Elected To G.M. Board

DETROIT (UPI)—Miss Catherine B. Cleary, president of the First Wisconsin Trust Co., of Milwaukee, has been elected to the board of directors of General Motors, the first woman to ever serve on the board.

Miss Cleary joined two men elected at a regular monthly board meeting Monday in New York City—Walter A. Fallon, president of Eastman Kodak Co., of Rochester, N.Y., and Harry Heltzer, chairman of the board of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., of St. Paul, Minn.

GM has received proposals for a woman director at various annual meetings since 1954, but Monday's action had been expected since last May when Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg told the annual shareholders' meeting that the election of a woman director was being considered.

Plea Scheduled In False Bomb Report Case

James R. Burke, 48, of Petaluma, was arraigned yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on charges of making a false bomb report and brandishing a weapon.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $25,000 and scheduled Burke to enter a plea tomorrow at 10 a.m. McMahon also revoked Burke's release on his own recognizance granted last week after he was charged with disturbing the peace in Sonoma.

Burke was arrested Saturday after allegedly waving a rifle inside the Safeway store at the Washington Square Shopping Center, Petaluma. Police said he told them he had a bomb in his camper truck.

Honolulu's Families' Income High

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Honolulu has the highest median family income among the nation's largest 50 cities and four California cities are in the top 10, the Census Bureau said Monday.

The median family income in Honolulu, according to 1970 census figures, was $12,539, more than $600 ahead of second-place San Jose, Calif., at $11,927.

The three other California cities among the first 10 were Los Angeles, sixth, $10,535; San Francisco, seventh, $10,503; and Long Beach, ninth, $10,282.

The remaining cities in the top 10 list were: Seattle, third, $11,037; Indianapolis, fourth, $10,754; St. Paul, fifth, $10,544; Toledo, eighth, $10,474; and Milwaukee, tenth, $10,262.

The other forty cities were:

Chicago, $10,242; Omaha, $10,208; San Diego, $10,166; Detroit, $10,019; Rochester, N.Y., $10,002; Minneapolis, $9,960; Phoenix, $9,956; Kansas City, Mo., $9,910; Houston, $9,876; Tulsa, Okla., $9,870.

Portland, Ore., $9,799; Columbus, Ohio, $9,731; New York, $9,682; Denver, $9,654; Oakland, Calif., $9,626; Washington, D.C., $9,583; Nashville-Davidson, Tenn., $9,473; Philadelphia, $9,366, and Fort Worth, $9271.

Boston, $9,133; Cleveland, $9,107; Oklahoma City, $9,106; Cincinnati, $8,894; Baltimore, $8,815; Buffalo, $8,804; Pittsburgh, $8,800; Jacksonville, Fla., $8,671; Memphis, Tenn., $8,646, and Louisville, Ky., $8,564.

Atlanta, $8,399; St. Louis, $8,182; El Paso, Tex., $7,963; Norfolk, Va., $7,821; Birmingham, Ala., $7,737; Newark, $7,735; San Antonio, $7,734; Tampa, Fla., $7,678; New Orleans, $7,445, and Miami, $7,304.

WORD-A-DAY

Two Artists Showing Works

An exhibition of paintings by Kay Cousineau and weavings by Henri Boussy will continue through October at the Genesis Gallery, 2 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Miss Cousineau gradated from Stanford University and has displayed her work in several San Francisco and Marin County galleries.

Boussy has exhibited his work at the De Young Museum, Mills College and the University of California Berkeley.

The gallery is open weekdays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Carson's Surprise — He's Married Again

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Johnny Carson had a surprise for the guests at a reception Saturday night in honor of his 10 years as host of "The Tonight Show". He announced his marriage to Joanna Holland, 32, a former model.

Carson, 46, told his guests that many columnists had been asking when he would marry Miss Holland, "so I think I will tell you that we were married at 1:30 this afternoon." It was the first marriage for Miss Holland, and the third for Carson, who was granted an uncontested divorce in New York last June from Joanne Carson.

Man Wanted In Guard Slaying Surrenders

CHICAGO (UPI) —Byron James Rice, sought for more than six years for the slaying of an armored car guard and on the FBI's most wanted list for more than four years, walked into FBI headquarters Monday and surrendered.

"He said he got tired of running and was just fed up with it," an FBI agent said.

The FBI said Rice, now 36, and two accomplices allegedly shot and killed the guard in Mountain View, Calif., on Feb. 21, 1966, during a holdup which netted them $30,000.

Fleeing from city to city, the FBI said, Rice worked variously as a carpeter, janitor, laborer, maintenance man, security guard and stockroom clerk. He had been living in the Chicago area for about three years, an FBI source said, and recently had been working as a laborer on a shipping dock.

"We found out that he had been here and we were apparently close to him on two or three occasions," the FBI source said. "He was moving regularly and never stayed at one place more than six months at a time.

"Today he just walked into our Chicago offices and told the receptionist 'I'm Byron James Rice and I want to see an agent.' He said he got tired of running and was just fed up with it."

Rice, a native of Salt Lake City, Utah, had been on the FBI's most wanted list since July, 1968 —longer than all but three of the men and women currently on the roster.

He was the first most-wanted fugitive to be caught since Karlton Lewis Armstrong, one of four men wanted in a University of Wisconsin bombing in which a man was killed, was arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Toronto, Ont, Feb. 16.

Rice's surrender reduced the number of the FBI's most-wanted fugitives to 10 for the first time in more than a year. The list was expanded beyond its usual 10 a few years ago to include a number of radical leftists.

A federal warrant was issued for Rice at San Jose on June 28, 1966. It charged him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for conspiracy, armed robbery and murder.

Two men accused with Rice in the killing of the armored car guard were apprehended previously, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Pre-School Sets Open House

The Little Friends Pre-School in Rohnert Park will have open House Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Cross and Crown Lutheran Church, 5478 Snyder Lane.

The church-sponsored preschool will begin operation Oct. 16 with classes to be offered from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays for youngsters aged four to six and on Thursdays and Fridays for youngsters aged 2 to 4.

School instructor will be Dyanne Fortner of Petaluma, former teacher at Pepper Free Kindergarten. School directors include Dr. Robert Matthews, Alice Morse, James Brog, Marvin Soiland and Mrs. Alf Malde.
